Paul and Philosophy Troels Engberg-Pedersen,2023-11-20 This volume collects sixteen essays published by Troels Engberg Pedersen between 1994 and 2023 in which he analyses Pauline texts and themes philosophically often using ancient philosophy particularly Stoicism as a comparison to invigorate traditional theological exegesis of Paul Published in chronological order the essays are preceded by a substantial introduction tracing their analytical development This leads to a final account of Paul s message bringing all the issues together in a single strand Among the central themes tackled are the relationship between theology and ethics the logical form of Pauline moral exhortation the understanding of flesh and spirit the logic of action personhood and Paul s soteriology Along the way Paul s apocalypticism and his relationship with Judaism gain in importance with the analysis reaching its goal in an explication of the notion of the Christ circle Stars, Mind & Fate J. D. North,1989-07-01 Published over a period of 20 years the essays collected together in this volume all relate to the lasting human preoccupation with cosmological matters and modern responses to them The eclecticism of the typical medieval scholar might now seem astonishing regrettable amusing or derisory according to one s view of how rigid intellectual barriers should be In Stars Fate Mind North argues that we will seriously misunderstand ancient and medieval thought if we are not prepared to share a willingness to look across such frontiers as those dividing astrology from ecclesiastical history biblical chronology from astronomy and angelic hierarchies from the planetary spheres theology from the theory of the continuum celestial laws from terrestrial or the work of the clockmaker from the work of God himself namely the universe Surveying the work of such controversial scholars as Alexander Thom and Immanuel Velikovsky this varied volume brings together current scholarship on cosmology and as the title suggest considers the confluence of matters of the stars fate and the mind The collection is accompanied by further commentary from the author and new illustrations

Hamburger,Anne-Marie Bouché,2006 The Mind s Eye focuses on the relationships among art theology exegesis and literature issues long central to the study of medieval art yet ripe for reconsideration Essays by leading scholars from many fields examine the illustration of theological commentaries the use of images to expound or disseminate doctrine the role of images within theological discourse the development of doctrine in response to images and the place of vision and the visual in theological thought At issue are the ways in which theologians responded to the images that we call art and in which images entered into dialogue with theological discourse In what ways could medieval art be construed as argumentative in structure as well as in function Are any of the modes of representation in medieval art analogous to those found in texts In what ways did images function as vehicles not merely vessels of meaning and signification To what extent can exegesis and other genres of theological discourse shed light on the form as well as the content and function of medieval images These are only some of the challenging questions posed by this unprecedented and interdisciplinary collection which provides a historical framework within which to reconsider the relationship between seeing and thinking perception and the imagination in the Middle Ages
