Chall, 1988 Modern French Citicism: from Proust and Valery to Structuralism J. K. Simon, 1972 Disarming Intelligence Zakir Paul, 2024-08-13 A critical account of the idea of intelligence in modern French literature and thought In the late nineteenth century psychologists and philosophers became intensely interested in the possibility of quantifying measuring and evaluating intelligence and using it to separate and compare individuals Disarming Intelligence analyzes how this polyvalent term was consolidated and contested in competing discourses from fin de si cle psychology and philosophy to literature criticism and cultural polemics around the First World War Zakir Paul examines how Marcel Proust Henri Bergson Paul Val ry and the critics of the influential Nouvelle revue fran aise registered negotiated and subtly countered the ways intelligence was invoked across the political and aesthetic spectrum For these writers intelligence fluctuates between an individual sovereign faculty for analyzing the world and something collective accidental and contingent Disarming Intelligence shows how literary and critical styles questioned suspended and reimagined what intelligence could be by bringing elements of uncertainty and potentiality into its horizon The book also explores interwar political tensions from the extreme right to Walter Benjamin's engaged essays on contemporary French writers Finally a brief coda recasts current debates about artificial intelligence by comparing them to these earlier crises of intelligence By drawing together and untangling competing conceptions of intelligence Disarming Intelligence exposes its mercurial but influential and urgent role in literary and The Masters of Modern French Criticism Irving Babbitt, 1912 This volume does not criticize criticism but cultural politics criticizes critics The critics examined are among the most vital and significant personalities of their time To study Sainte Beuve and the other leading French critics is to get very close to the intellectual center of the century Readers my thus follow the main movement of this thought through this period and build up the necessary background for understanding the ideas of the present day whether they continue this earlier thought or react from it The so called anti intellectualist movement can only be understood with reference to such a background it is a reaction from the dogmatic naturalism that reached its height in the second half of the nineteenth century. In the end the judgment of the keen sighted few in the present will be ratified by the verdict of posterity Three Studies in Modern French Litterature J. M. Cocking, Enid Starkie, Martin Jarrett-Kerr, 1960 French Structuralism ,1990 The Material Object in the Work of Marcel Proust Thomas Baldwin, 2005 Modern French Identities focuses on the French and Francophone writing of the twentieth and twenty first centuries whose formal experiments and revisions of genre have combined to create an entirely new set of literary forms The series publishes studies of individual authors and artists comparative studies and interdisciplinary projects The Ideal Reader Jacques Riviere, 2017-07-05 Jacques Riviere knew how to accept art emotionally No French critic was ever less a

Ramsden, 2020 This book explores the origins of Marcel Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu in an earlier unfinished novel Jean Santeuil Using close readings of early unpublished versions of the work the author offers a further elucidation of the meaning of this rich and complex novel and its evolution into a modernist work Three Studies in Modern French Literature John Martin Cocking,1960 The Masters of Modern French Criticism Irving The Word from Paris John Sturrock, 1998 French writing and French thought have always been held in a Babbitt, 1930 certain glamorous esteem For young radical philosophers of the 1960s searching out intellectual enlightenment in Left Bank cafes and bookshops for serious minded semiologists wishing to deconstruct everything around them and for fans of the
