How to Get Started in Arts and Humanities Research with Undergraduates

Iain Crawford,Jenny Olin Shanahan,Sara E. Orel,Julie Langford,John N. Swift,Sheila T. Cavanagh,Lauren Fitzgerald,Maria T.

Iacullo-Bird, Tulla Lightfoot, Bernadette McNary-Zak, Rebecca Todd Peters, Kevin A. Quarmby, Steven Roens, Alexa Sand, John Thomas Scott, Stephen Unwin, Wynne Wilbur, Gregory Young, 2019-06-01 How to Get Started in Arts and Humanities Research with Undergraduates is designed for faculty members and administrators who wish to develop opportunities for undergraduate research scholarship and creative work in the arts and humanities. Since the scholarly norms, definitions of research and roles of collaboration and individual study in the arts and humanities can differ from those in the sciences, the book contributes new ideas for meaningful student participation in the scholarship of these disciplines and for connections to faculty work. Written by faculty with substantial expertise in working with undergraduate researchers, the book's 11 chapters offer models of successful practice in a wide range of disciplines and cross-disciplinary programs and demonstrate the integral role of undergraduate research in these disciplines.

History and Memory in the Dead Sea Scrolls Travis B. Williams, 2019-05-16 Charts a new methodological course in Dead Sea Scrolls scholarship by employing memory theory to inform historical research. This is an instructive resource for scholars who are seeking an alternative to currently constructed approaches to the subject and will be of appeal to those interested in the Dead Sea Scrolls more generally.

The Modern Historiography Reader Adam Budd, 2009 A perfect introduction to historiography including both the canon of ideas since the eighteenth century and the work that formed and discussed those ideas.

Contemporary Studies on Modern Chinese History Zeng Yeying, 2021-03-15 The study of modern Chinese history has developed rapidly in recent decades and has seen increased exploration of new topics and innovative approaches. Resulting from a special issue of Modern Chinese History Studies, this set is devoted to showcasing the healthy development of Chinese modern history studies and has already been revised twice in the original language. This three-volume set exhibits major achievements on the study of modern Chinese history and shows how the role of history was in debate, transformation, and re-evaluation throughout this tortuous yet prosperous period. Articles on 23 different topics are collected from over 30 prominent historians in order to represent their insights on the developmental paths of Chinese historical studies. Drawing on a large number of case studies of critical historical events that contribute to the establishment of the People's Republic of China, this set offers a panoramic view on the studies of modern Chinese history. In addition, it incorporates more pioneering topics such as intellectual history, cultural history, and translations of overseas studies on contemporary Chinese history. This set will be a valuable reference for scholars and students of Chinese history.

Reframing the Past Mia E. M. Treacey, 2016-02-26 Reframing the Past traces what historians have written about film and television from 1898 until the early 2000s. Mia Treacey argues that historical engagement with film and television should be reconceptualised as Screened History, an interdisciplinary international field of research to incorporate and replace what has been known as History and Film. It draws from the fields of Film, Television, and Cultural Studies to critically analyse key works and connect past scholarship with contemporary research. Reconsidered as Screened History, the works of Pierre Sorlin, Marc Ferro, John O'Connor, Robert Rosenstone, and Robert Toplin are explored.

alongside lesser known but equally important contributions This book identifies a number of common themes and ideas that have been explored by historians for decades the use of history on film and television as a way to teach the past the challenge of filmic and televisual history to more traditional historiography and an ongoing battle to find an appropriate historical way to engage with Film Studies and Theory Screened History offers an approach to exploring History Film and Television that allows room for future developments while connecting them to a rich and diverse body of past scholarship Combining a narrative of historical research on film and television over the past century with a reconceptualisation of the field as Screened History Reframing the Past is essential reading both for established scholars of History and Film Film History and other related disciplines and to students new to the field

Contemporary Studies on Modern Chinese History II Zeng Yeying, 2020-10-29 The study of modern Chinese history has developed rapidly in recent decades and has seen increased exploration of new topics and innovative approaches Resulting from a special issue of Modern Chinese History Studies this volume is devoted to showcasing the healthy development of Chinese modern history studies and has already been revised twice in the original language This volume exhibits major achievements on the study of modern Chinese history and shows how the role of history was in debate transformation and re evaluation throughout this tortuous yet prosperous period Articles on seven different topics are collected from over ten prominent historians in order to represent their insights on the developmental paths of Chinese historical studies Drawing on a large number of case studies of critical historical events such as imperial China and the Chinese Workers Movement this volume sets out to explore topics such as the history of Sino foreign relations as well as the history of workers movements and youth movements This book will be a valuable reference for scholars and students of Chinese history

Herbert Butterfield Kenneth B. McIntyre, 2023-10-03 The most original historian of his generation That is how the celebrated British academic Noel Annan described Herbert Butterfield 1900 1979 a profound and prolific writer who made important contributions as both a public and academic historian In this authoritative and accessible intellectual biography Kenneth B McIntyre explores the extraordinary range of Butterfield s work He shows why the small book The Whig Interpretation of History 1931 achieved such large influence Butterfield he demonstrates has profoundly shaped American and European historiography by highlighting the distortions that occur when historians interpret the past merely as steps along the way toward the glorious present But McIntyre delves much deeper examining everything from Butterfield s lectures on history historiography and Christianity to his warnings about the dangers of hubris in international affairs to his essays on the origins of modern science which basically created the modern discipline of the history of science This latest volume in the acclaimed Library of Modern Thinkers series helps us understand a prescient and insightful thinker who challenged dominant currents in history historiography international relations and politics

Politics, Satire, and Historical Consciousness in Contemporary American Novel Olena Boylu, 2022-11-01 What is the role of the historical and political novel in our lives Is it just a story from the past or does it shape our historical consciousness Can we rely on the information within this type of fiction According to many historicists we cannot However we can also question numerous ideologically shaped history books that look more like fiction than scientific sources Hence historically and politically loaded fiction has an equal chance in the formational process of our historical consciousness Besides through satire and humor which a scientist omits in a history book a novelist manages to affect its reader on a different scale and leave a deeper trace As E L Doctorow once stated The historian tells you what happened The novelist will tell you what it felt like Hence this study analyzes several significant concepts such as historiography historical consciousness power its elements and the way it operates traces major characteristics of historical and political fiction and determines the role of satire within them Eventually through the analysis of several prominent contemporary novels it provides vivid examples of all the concepts that have been discussed

Understanding the Age of Transitional Justice Nanci Adler, 2018-06-22 Since the 1980s an array of legal and non legal practices labeled Transitional Justice has been developed to support post repressive post authoritarian and post conflict societies in dealing with their traumatic past In Understanding the Age of Transitional Justice the contributors analyze the processes products and efficacy of a number of transitional justice mechanisms and look at how genocide mass political violence and historical injustices are being institutionally addressed They invite readers to speculate on what else the transcripts produced by these institutions tell us about the past and the present calling attention to the influence of implicit history conveyed in the narratives that have gained an audience through international criminal tribunals trials and truth commissions Nanci Adler has gathered leading specialists to scrutinize the responses to and effects of violent pasts that provide new perspectives for understanding and applying transitional justice mechanisms in an effort to stop the recycling of old repressions into new ones

History , 'A New Type of History' Beverley Southgate, 2015-05-22 Linking fiction with history and historical theory A New Type of History Fictional Proposals for dealing with the Past focuses on a selection of nineteenth and twentieth century novelists Tolstoy Proust John Cowper Powys Virginia Woolf Wyndham Lewis Penelope Lively and James Hamilton Paterson who have criticized scientifically based history and proposed alternative ways of approaching the past more subjective and personal colourful and imaginative and above all ethically orientated In this it is argued they have been reverting to an earlier rhetorical model for history which is now being increasingly adopted by practising historians This new type of history may lack the claimed objectivity and truth of its immediate predecessor but it opens the way for an ethically focused subject that may be used in Nietzsche's words for the purpose of life Providing a new take on both novelists and historiography and ranging widely from the nineteenth century to the present day this cross disciplinary study will be valuable reading for all those interested in the intersection and interplay between fiction and history

Studying History Jeremy Black, Donald MacRaild, 2017-03-06 This best selling guide will help you get to grips with the larger themes and issues behind historical study while also showing you how to formulate your own ideas in a clear analytical style Fully updated throughout further advice on using web based sources and avoiding plagiarism will equip you with the tools you need to succeed on your course      Authenticating Criteria in Jesus Research and Beyond Kevin B. Burr, 2023-10-16 Are the criteria of authenticity of Jesus research idiosyncratic to New Testament studies vehicles of subjectivity and fundamentally flawed vestiges of form criticism as some claim today If so why do opponents of the criteria approach still use them Or are the criteria the tools of general historiography as others assert If true none have adequately demonstrated where and how principles such as multiple attestation general and historical coherence dissimilarity and embarrassment feature in general historiographic method until now This study analyzes the methods of general historians and Jesus researchers who favor or oppose the criteria and demonstrates that regardless of sub discipline authenticating criteria are inherent to the practice of historiography
