Modern Korea and Its Others Vladimir Tikhonov, 2015-11-19 The period spanning the 1880s to 1945 was a crucially important formative time for Korea during which understandings of modernity were largely shaped by the images of Korea's neighbours to the east west and north China Japan and Russia represented at some moments modern threats but also denoted a range of alternative modernity possibilities and ultimately provided a model for Korea's pre colonial and colonial modernity This book explores the way in which modern Korea perceived its geographic neighbours from the 1890s until 1945 It shows that Korea's modern nationalism was at the same time internationalist in its orientation as the vision of Korea's ideal place in the world and brighter national future was often linked to the examples positive and negative threats perceived and real and allies abroad Exploring the importance of the international knowledge and experience for the formation of the Korean nationalist paradigms it offers nuance to the existing picture of the international connections and environment of the Korean national movements It shows that the picture of Japan inside the anti Japanese independence movement of the colonial period was more complicated than simple hatred of the invaders modern achievements of Japan were admired even by anti colonial nationalists as a possible model for Korea The book also demonstrates the extent to which Chinese and Soviet revolutions influenced the thinking of modern Korean intellectuals across the whole ideological spectrum Introducing new sources presented in English for the first time and including themes such as race and ethnicity global revolution and gender this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Korean East Asian and Russian history as well as historians of the colonial modern era more generally

Park Chung Hee and Modern Korea Carter J. Eckert, 2016-11-07 This first volume in a two part study examines the origins of South Korean authoritarianism as personified by the militant political leader For South Koreans the twenty years from the early 1960s to late 1970s were the best and worst of times a period of unprecedented economic growth and of political oppression that deepened as prosperity spread In this masterly account Carter J Eckert finds the roots of South Korea's dramatic socioeconomic transformation in the country

s long history of militarization a history personified in South Korea s paramount leader Park Chung Hee In Park Chung Hee and Modern Korea Eckert reveals how the foundations of Park s leadership were established during the period of Japanese occupation As a cadet in the Manchurian Military Academy Park and his fellow officers absorbed the Imperial Japanese Army s ethos of victory at all costs and absolute obedience to authority When Park seized power in 1961 he applied this ethos to the project of Korean modernization Korean society under Park exuded a distinctively martial character Eckert shows Its hallmarks included the belief that the army should intervene in politics in times of crisis that a central authority should manage the country s economic system and that the state should maintain a strong disciplinary presence in society reserving the right to use violence to maintain order A milestone in the literature of modern East Asia Bruce Cumings author of Korea s Place in the Sun Architecture and Urbanism in Modern Korea Inha Jung,2013-07-31 Although modernization in Korea started more than a century later than in the West it has worked as a prominent ideology throughout the past century in particular it has brought radical changes in Korean architecture and cities Traditional structures and ways of life have been thoroughly uprooted in modernity s continuous negation of the past This book presents a comprehensive overview of architectural development and urbanization in Korea within the broad framework of modernization Twentieth century Korean architecture and cities form three distinctive periods The first defined as colonial modern occurred between the early twentieth century and 1945 when Western civilization was transplanted to Korea via Japan and a modern way of life albeit distorted began taking shape The second is the so called developmental dictatorship period Between 1961 and 1988 the explosive growth of urban populations resulted in large scale construction booms and architects delved into modern identity through the locality of traditional architecture The last period began in the mid 1990s and may be defined as one of modernization settlement and a transition to globalization With city populations leveling out urbanization and architecture came to be viewed from new perspectives Inha Jung however contends that what is more significant is the identification of elements that have remained unchanged Jung identifies continuities that have been formed by long standing relationships between humans and their built environment and despite rapid modernization are still deeply rooted in the Korean way of life For this reason in the twentieth century regionalism exerted a great influence on Korean architects Various architectural and urban principles that Koreans developed over a long period while adapting to the natural environment have provided important foundations for architects works By exploring these sources this carefully researched and amply illustrated book makes an original contribution to defining modern identity in Korea s architecture housing and urbanism Education, Language and the Intellectual Underpinnings of Modern Korea, 1875-1945 Andrew Hall,Leighanne Yuh,2022-12-19 Education the production of knowledge identity formation and ideological hegemony are inextricably linked in early modern and modern Korea This study examines the production and consumption of knowledge by a multitude of actors and across languages texts and disciplines to analyze the formulation contestation and negotiation of knowledge The production and dissemination of knowledge become sites for contestation and struggle sometimes overlapping at other times competing resulting in a shift from a focus on state power and its control over knowledge and discourse to an analysis of local processes of knowledge production and the roles local actors play in them Contributors are Daniel Pieper W Scott Wells Yong Jin Hahn Furukawa Noriko Lim Sang Seok Kokubu Mari Mark Caprio Deborah Solomon and Yoonmi Lee State and Society in Contemporary Korea Hagen Koo,2018-07-05 No detailed description available for State and Society in Contemporary Korea

Daesoon Jinrihoe in Modern Korea David W. Kim,2020-08-24 East Asian nations shared a similar environment of modernisation in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries None had been colonised under Western imperialism but all of them commonly became subjected to new authorities whether directly or indirectly This change of the political landscape also challenged religious communities as many new religious movements NRMs emerged to satisfy the spiritual needs of local people in overcoming the hardship of transition This book presents the unique case of a native Korean NRM which successfully survived transformed and was transmitted even into contemporary society Among Donghak later called Cheondogyo Daejonggyo and Wonbulgyo the history of Daesoon Jinrihoe derived from the Jeungsan movement is explored here in the context of functionalism even though the perspectives of religious philosophy and personal experiences are also regarded for the receptive and syncretic relationship with other groups The book offers significant insight that conservative nationalistic NRMs can still survive in a digital era rather than disappear after the death of their founders Three Poets of Modern Korea Sang Yi,Tong-sŏn Ham,Yŏng-mi Ch'oe,2002 An eclectic sampling of modern Korean poetry superbly translated by husband and wife team Modern Korea and Its Others Vladimir Tikhonov,2015-11-19 The period spanning the 1880s to 1945 was a crucially important formative time for Korea during which understandings of modernity were largely shaped by the images of Korea s neighbours to the east west and north China Japan and Russia represented at some moments modern threats but also denoted a range of alternative modernity possibilities and ultimately provided a model for Korea s pre colonial and colonial modernity This book explores the way in which modern Korea perceived its geographic neighbours from the 1890s until 1945 It shows that Korea s modern nationalism was at the same time internationalist in its orientation as the vision of Korea s ideal place in the world and brighter national future was often linked to the examples positive and negative threats perceived and real and allies abroad Exploring the importance of the international knowledge and experience for the formation of the Korean nationalist paradigms it offers nuance to the existing picture of the international connections and environment of the Korean national movements It shows that the picture of Japan inside the anti Japanese independence movement of the colonial period was more complicated than simple hatred of the invaders modern achievements of Japan were admired even by anti colonial nationalists as a possible model for Korea The book also demonstrates the extent to which Chinese and Soviet revolutions influenced the thinking of modern Korean intellectuals across the whole ideological spectrum Introducing new sources presented in English for the first time and including themes such as race and ethnicity global revolution and gender this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Korean East Asian and Russian history as well as historians of the colonial modern era more generally

The Rise of Protestantism in Modern Korea Andrew Eungi Kim, 2022-11-09 Combining sociological historical and comparative approaches this book examines one of the most striking aspects of South Korea specifically the emergence of Protestant Christianity as the largest contemporary religion in the country What is extraordinary about the religion's success is that its growth has been achieved in 130 years since 1884 and that it took place in a country with a rich oriental tradition replete with shamanism Taoism Buddhism and Confucianism The text critically demonstrates the socio anthropological perspective of the Korean Peninsula making it a great resource for scholars and students of sociology contemporary culture history religion colonialism and geopolitics

Modern Korea: All That Matters Andrew Salmon, 2014-08-29 In no nation on earth has history accelerated with such speed as in Korea A medieval dynasty at the end of the 19th century it underwent a traumatic colonization then in its hour of liberation was divided by the great powers at the end of World War II Devastated by a fratricidal war the peninsula has remained divided ever since South Korea is the greatest national success story of the 20th century From the ashes of war it transformed itself against the odds and against much advice into an industrial powerhouse and thriving democracy Now a high tech wonderland it is undergoing social and cultural transformations that add further layers to its dynamic DNA North Korea is an economic social and political disaster successful only at totalitarianism Having transmogrified from a blood and iron communist dictatorship into a bizarre neo fascist monarchy it is a black hole at the heart of Asia Engulfed by paranoia the regime presides over a malnourished populace a 1.1 million man army and a nuclear arsenal From nuclear missiles to Samsung smartphones from assassins to salarymen from Kim Il sung to Psy this is the extraordinary story of the flashpoint peninsula that dominates talk in boardrooms and newsrooms Korea the author argues provides two stark benchmarks for national development Epic success and catastrophic failure And its final chapter has yet to be written ethnic nationalism which is based on the sense of a shared bloodline and ancestry Belief in a racially distinct and ethnically homogeneous nation is widely shared on both sides of the Korean peninsula although some scholars believe it is a myth with little historical basis Finding both positions problematic and treating identity formation as a social and historical construct that has crucial behavioral consequences this book examines how such a blood based notion has become a dominant source of Korean identity overriding other forms of identity in the modern era It also looks at how the politics of national identity have played out in various contexts in Korea semicolonialism civil war authoritarian politics democratization territorial division and globalization

Ethnic Nationalism in Korea Gi-Wook Shin, 2006 This book explains the roots politics and legacy of Korean
