Modern Architecture 1851 1945:

Modern Architecture Kenneth Frampton, 1983 Modern Architecture, 1851-1945: Modern architecture 1851-1919
Kenneth Frampton, 1983 Modern Architecture, 1851-1945: Modern architecture 1920-1945 Kenneth Frampton, 1983
Modern Architecture 1851-1945, 1992 The American Skyscraper, 1850-1940 Joseph J. Korom, 2008 The skyscraper is an American invention that has captured the public's imagination for over a century. The tall building is wholly manmade and borne in the minds of those with both slide rules and computers. This is the story of the skyscraper's rise and the recognition of those individuals who contributed to its development. This volume is unique: its approach, information, and images are fresh and telling. The text examines America's first tall buildings, the result of twelve years of in-depth research by an accomplished and published architect and architectural historian. Over 300 compelling photographs, charts, and notes make this the ultimate tool of reference for this subject. Biographies woven throughout with period norms, politics, and lifestyles help to place featured skyscrapers in context. Quite simply, there is no book like this. The text, carefully and insightfully written, is clear, concise, and easily digestible, the text being the product of well-documented original research written in an informative tone. The American Skyscraper 1850-1940: A Celebration of Height is a richly documented journey of a fascinating topic, and it promises to be a superb addition to libraries, schools of architecture, students of architecture, and lovers of art. American Architects and Texts Juan Pablo Bonta, 1996 In this volume, the author analyzes 400 architectural books and articles published over the past 150 years to reveal changing societal preferences in architecture and to measure the reputations of individual architects; the text includes a ranked list of the 100 most famous architects. Canadian Modern Architecture Elsa Lam, Graham Livesey, 2019-11-19 Royal Architectural Institute of Canada RAIC President's Medal Award multi-media representation of architecture. Canada's most distinguished architectural critics and scholars offer fresh insights into the country's unique modern and contemporary architecture. Beginning with the nation's centennial and Expo 67 in Montreal, this fifty-year retrospective covers the defining of national institutions and movements. How Canadian architects interpreted major external trends, regional and indigenous architectural tendencies, the influence of architects in Canada's three largest cities: Toronto, Montreal, and Vancouver. Co-published with Canadian Architect, this comprehensive reference book is extensively illustrated and includes fifteen specially commissioned essays. The Bauhaus and America Margret Kentgens-Craig, 2001 After the Bauhaus's closing in 1933, many of its protagonists moved to the United States, where their acceptance had to be cultivated. In this book, Margret Kentgens-Craig shows that the fame of the Bauhaus in America was the result not only of the inherent qualities of its concepts and products but also of a unique congruence of cultural supply and demand, of a consistent flow of information, and of fine-tuned marketing. Thus, the history of the American reception of the Bauhaus in the 1920s and 1930s foreshadows the patterns of fame-making that became typical of the post-World War II art world. BOOK JACKET Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 A balance of sophistication and clarity in the writing authoritative entries and strong cross referencing that links architects and structures to entries on the history and theory of the profession make this an especially useful source on a century of the world's most notable architecture. The contents feature major architects, firms and professional issues, buildings, styles and sites, the architecture of cities and countries, critics and historians, construction materials and planning topics, schools, movements and stylistic and theoretical terms. Entries include well selected bibliographies and illustrations. Reference that rocks American Libraries May 2005

A History of Western Architecture David Watkin, 2005. The history of Western architecture from the earliest times in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the dramatic impact of CAD on architectural practice at the beginning of the 21st century. Aldo Van Eyck Robert McCarter, 2015-01-01. Robert McCarter provides a comprehensive study of Aldo van Eyck's 50 year career guiding readers through the architect's buildings and unrealised projects with a focus on the interior spatial experience as well as the design and construction processes. He investigates how van Eyck's writings and lectures convey the importance of architecture in the everyday lives of people around the world and throughout history and by presenting the architect's design work together with the principles on which it was founded illuminates van Eyck's ethical interpretation of architecture's place in the world.

Materials and Meaning in Architecture Nathaniel Coleman, 2020-02-20. Interweaving architecture philosophy and cultural history. Materials and Meaning in Architecture develops a rich and multi dimensional exploration of materials and materiality in an age when architectural practice seems otherwise preoccupied with image and visual representation. Arguing that architecture is primarily experienced by the whole body rather than chiefly with the eyes, this broad ranging study shows how the most engaging built works are as tactile as they are sensuous, communicating directly with the bodily senses, especially touch. It explores the theme of material imagination and the power of establishing place identity in an architect's work to consider the enduring expressive possibilities of material use in architecture. The book's chapters can be dipped into, each individual chapter providing close readings of built works by selected modern masters: Scarpa, Zumthor, Williams and Tsien, insights into key texts and theories, Ruskin, Loos, Bachelard or short cultural histories of materials: wood, brick, concrete, steel and glass. And yet taken together the chapters build to a powerful book length argument about how meaning accrues to materials through time and about the need to reinsert the bodily experience of materiality into architectural design. It is thus also in part a manifesto arguing for architecture to act as a bulwark against the tide of an increasingly depersonalised built environment. With insights for a wide range of readers ranging from students through to researchers and professional designers, Materials and Meaning in Architecture will cause theorists to rethink their assumptions and designers to see new potential for their projects.

The New Criterion, 1984. Contemporary Curtain Wall Architecture Scott Charles Murray, 2009-10-07.
