The Politics of the Prison and the Prisoner Susan Easton, 2018-06-13 In recent years there has been a resurgence of interest in the role of the prison as a source of political ideas and site of political engagement as well as in the prisoner s quest for citizenship The rising number of prisoners has increased fiscal burdens which has meant that imprisonment has become a more important political issue There is also greater interest in the prison as a site of political activism and in the generation of radical political ideas within the prison context and the formation of political networks within prison which extend beyond the prison walls This book considers the prison as a site of political protest discusses the quest for citizenship and the denial or negation of citizenship in prison examines the discovery of politics in prison and the role of the prison in increasing political awareness explores the treatment of political prisoners and reflects on the prisoner as a political problem for politicians negotiating pressures from the media and the public when addressing prisoners demands Drawing on a range of contemporary and historical topics such as prison riots radicalisation and the denial of voting rights and including discussion of cases from the UK US and Russia this book examines the prison as a political institution and as a site of both politicisation and political protest This book will be of interest to students and academics engaged with prisons penology punishment and corrections

Connected Worlds Ann Curthoys, Marilyn Lake, 2006-03-01 This volume brings together historians of imperialism and race travel and modernity Islam and India the Pacific and the Atlantic to show how a transnational approach to history offers fresh insights into the past Transnational history is a form of scholarship that has been revolutionising our understanding of history in the last decade With a focus on interconnectedness across national borders of ideas events technologies and individual lives it moves beyond the national frames of analysis that so often blinker and restrict our understanding of the past Many of the essays also show how expertise in Australian history can contribute to and benefit from new transnational approaches to history Through an examination of such diverse subjects as film modernity immigration politics and romance Connected Worlds weaves an historical matrix which transports the reader beyond the local into a realm which re defines the meaning of humanity in all its complexity Contributors include Tony Ballantyne Desley Deacon John Fitzgerald Patrick Wolfe and Angela Woollacott

Genre and Hollywood Steve Neale, 2005-06-20 Genre and Hollywood provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of genre In this important new book Steve Neale discusses all the major concepts theories and accounts of Hollywood and genre as well as the key genres which theorists have written about from horror to the Western He also puts forward new arguments about the importance of genre in understanding Hollywood cinema Neale takes issue with much genre criticism and genre theory which has provided only a partial and misleading account of Hollywood s output He calls for broader and more flexible conceptions of genre and genres for more attention to be paid to the discourses and practices of Hollywood itself for the nature and range of Hollywood s films to be looked at in more detail and for any assessment of the social and cultural significance of Hollywood s genres to take account of industrial factors In detailed revisionist accounts of two major genres film noir and melodrama Neale argues that genre remains an important and productive means of thinking about both New and old Hollywood its history its audiences and its films
