Literature and Politics in the Central American Revolutions John Beverley,Marc Zimmerman,2014-02-19 This book began in what seemed like a counterfactual intuition that what had been happening in Nicaraguan poetry was essential to the victory of the Nicaraguan Revolution write John Beverley and Marc Zimmerman In our own postmodern North American culture we are long past thinking of literature as mattering much at all in the real world so how could this be This study sets out to answer that question by showing how literature has been an agent of the revolutionary process in Nicaragua El Salvador and Guatemala The book begins by discussing theory about the relationship between literature ideology and politics and charts the development of a regional system of political poetry beginning in the late nineteenth century and culminating in late twentieth century writers In this context Ernesto Cardenal of Nicaragua Roque Dalton of El Salvador and Otto Ren Castillo of Guatemala are among the poets who receive detailed attention Third World Women's Literatures Barbara Fister,1995-09-14 This reference volume serves as a companion to Third World women s literatures in English and in English translation by presenting entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes What plays have been written by women in the developing world What books have been written by Sri Lankan or Brazilian women Which works address themes of feminism or exile or politics in the Third World These are the types of questions that can now be answered through Fister's companion to Third World women's literatures in English and English translation Organized alphabetically this reference volume presents entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes By providing information about and leads to works by and about Third World women an important and largely marginalized literature Fister has created a unique reference tool that will help teachers scholars and librarians both public and academic expand their definitions of the literary making the voices of Third World women available in the same format in which many companions to Western literature do An important book for all public and college level libraries

My Life in 100 Objects Margaret Randall, 2020-09-15 Traces the remarkable life of a feminist poet through the items and images that have defined her experiences My Life in 100 Objects is a personal reflection on the events and moments that shaped the life and work of one extraordinary woman With a masterful poetic voice Margaret Randall uses talismanic objects and photographs as launching points for her nonlinear narrative Through each object Randall uncovers another part of herself starting in a museum in Amman Jordan and ending in the Latin American Studies Association in Boston Interwoven throughout are her most precious relationships her growth as an artist and her brave revolutionary spirit As Randall s adventures often coincide with important moments in history many of her objects provide a transcontinental glimpse into social upheavals and transitions She shares memories from her years in Cuba 1969 to 1980 and Nicaragua 1980 to 1984 as well as briefer periods in North Vietnam immediately preceding the end of the war in 1975 and Peru during the government of Velasco Alvarado In her introduction Randall states objects and places have always been alive to me Her history too is alive as much of a means to consider our own present as it is to glimpse her vibrant past Places in the Making Jim Cocola,2016-05-01 Places in the Making maps a range of twentieth and twenty first century American poets who have used language to evoke the world at various scales Distinct from related traditions including landscape poetry nature poetry and pastoral poetry which tend toward more idealized and transcendent lyric registers this study traces a poetics centered upon more particular and situated engagements with actual places and spaces Close generic predecessors of this mode such as topographical poetry and loco descriptive poetry folded themselves into the various regionalist traditions of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries but place making in modern and contemporary American poetics has extended beyond its immediate environs unfolding at the juncture of the proximate and the remote and establishing transnational planetary and cosmic formations in the process Turning to geography as an interdisciplinary point of departure Places in the Making distinguishes itself by taking a comparative and multiethnic approach considering the relationship between identity and emplacement among a more representative demographic cross section of Americans and extending its inquiry beyond national borders Positing place as a pivotal axis of identification and heralding emplacement as a crucial model for cultural intellectual and political activity in a period marked and imperiled by a tendency toward dislocation the critical vocabulary of this project centers upon the work of place making It attends to a poetics that extends beyond epic and lyric modes while relying simultaneously on auditory and visual effects and proceeding in the interests of environmental advocacy and social justice often in contrast to the more orthodox concerns of literary modernism global capitalism and print culture Focusing on poets of international reputation such as Elizabeth Bishop Pablo Neruda Charles Olson and William Carlos Williams Places in the Making also considers work by more recent figures including Kamau Brathwaite Joy Harjo Myung Mi Kim and Craig Santos Perez In its larger comparative multiethnic and transnational emphases this book addresses questions of particular moment in American literary and cultural studies and aspires to serve as a catalyst for further interdisciplinary work connecting geography and the humanities Américanas, Autocracy, and Autobiographical Innovation Lisa Ortiz-Vilarelle,2020-11-03 Overwriting the Dictator is literary study of life writing and dictatorship in Americas Its focus is women who have attempted to rewrite or overwrite discourses of womanhood and nationalism in the dictatorships of their nations of origin The project covers five

20th century autocratic governments the totalitarianism of Rafael Trujillo's regime in the Dominican Republic the dynasty of the Somoza family in Nicaragua the charismatic yet polemical impact of Juan and Eva Perón on the proletariat of Argentina the controversial rule of Fidel Castro following Cuba's 1959 revolution and Augusto Pinochet's coup d'état that transformed Chile into a police state Each chapter traces emerging patterns of experimentation with autobiographical form and determines how specific autocratic methods of control suppress certain methods of self representation and enable others The book foregrounds ways in which women's self representation produces a counter narrative that critiques and undermines dictatorial power with the depiction of women as self aware resisting subjects engaged in repositioning their gendered narratives of national identity Parteras, Promotoras Y Poetas M. Idali Torres, George Peter Cernada, 2003 Bringing together a multidisciplinary multicultural collection of case studies this work focuses on sexual and reproductive health education problems and programs from across the Americas It links the experience of US Latino populations with public health culture and community in Latin American countries
