Translation Daniel Weissbort, Ástráður Eysteinnsson, 2006 Translation Theory and Practice A Historical Reader responds to the need for a collection of primary texts on translation in the English tradition from the earliest times to the present day Based on an exhaustive survey of the wealth of available materials the Reader demonstrates throughout the link between theory and practice with excerpts not only of significant theoretical writings but of actual translations as well as excerpts on translation from letters interviews autobiographies and fiction The collection is intended as a teaching tool but also as an encyclopaedia for the use of translators and writers on translation It presents the full panoply of approaches to translation without necessarily judging between them but showing clearly what is to be gained or lost in each case Translations of key texts such as the Bible and the Homeric epic are traced through the ages with the same passages excerpted making it possible for readers to construct their own map of the evolution of translation and to evaluate in their historical contexts the variety of approaches The passages in question are also accompanied by ad verbum versions to facilitate comparison The bibliographies are likewise comprehensive The editors have drawn on the expertise of leading scholars in the field including the late James S Holmes Louis Kelly Jonathan Wilcox Jane Stevenson David Hopkins and many others In addition significant non English texts such as Martin Luther's Circular Letter on Translation which may be said to have inaugurated the Reformation are included helping to set the English tradition in a wider context Related items such as the introductions to their work by Tudor and Jacobean translators or the work of women translators from the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries have been brought together in collages marking particularly important moments or developments in the history of translation This comprehensive reader provides an invaluable and illuminating resource for scholars and students of translation and English literature as well as poets cultural historians and professional translators

Whitaker's Cumulative Book List, 1976 Natural Materials of the Holy Land and the Visual Translation of Place, 500-1500 Renana Bartal, Neta Bodner, Bianca Kuhnel, 2017-04-21 Natural Materials of the Holy Land and the Visual Translation of Place 500 1500 focuses on the unique ways that natural materials carry the spirit of place Since early Christianity wood earth water and stone were taken from loca sancta to signify them elsewhere Academic discourse has indiscriminately grouped material tokens from holy places and their containers with architectural and topographical emulations two dimensional images and bodily relics However unlike textual or visual representations natural materials do not describe or interpret the Holy Land they are part of it Tangible and timeless they realize the meaning of their place of origin in new locations What makes earth stones or bottled water transported from holy sites sacred How do they become pars pro toto signifying the whole from which they were taken This book will examine natural media used for translating loca sancta the processes of their sanctification and how although inherently abstract they become charged with meaning It will address their metamorphosis natural or induced how they change the environment to which they are transported their capacity to translate a static and distant site elsewhere the effect of their relocation on users viewers and how their containers and staging are used to communicate their substance

Stories in Letters - Letters in Stories Rebekka Schuh, 2021-10-04 This book deals with letters in Anglophone Canadian short stories of the late twentieth and the early twenty first century in the context of liminality It argues that in the course of the epistolary renaissance the letter which has often been deemed to be obsolete in literature has not only enjoyed an upsurge in novels but also migrated to the short story thus constituting the genre of the epistolary short story

Translating the Devil Birgit Meyer, 2019-08-06 This book offers an ethnography of the emergence of a local Christianity and its relation to changing social political and economic formations among the Ewe in Ghana Focusing on the Evangelical Presbyterian Church which arose from encounters between the Ewe and German Pietist missionaries the author examines recent conflicts leading to the secession of many pentecostally oriented members which it places in a historical perspective The main argument is that for the Ewe involvement with modernity goes hand in hand with new enchantment rather than disenchantment of the world At the grassroots level the study focuses on the image of the Devil which the missionaries communicated to the Ewe through translation and which currently receives much attention in the Pentecostal churches It is shown that this image played and still plays a crucial role in the local appropriation of Christianity since diabolisation confirmed the existence of local gods and witchcraft and incorporated them into Christian belief as demons Comparing the discourses and practices of mission and Pentecostal churches the study reveals that the latter pay much more attention to Satan especially through deliverance rituals Pentecostalism's increasing popularity thus stems from the fact that it ties into historically generated local understandings of Christianity which despite a declared dislike of non Christian religious practices stand much closer to Ewe religion than missionary Christianity With its emphasis on the hybrid image of the Devil and people's obsessions with occult forces as a way to mediate the attractions and discontents of modernity this book sheds light on a hitherto neglected dimension in studies of African Christianity

The Art of Translation in Light of Bakhtin's Re-accentuation Slav Gratchev, Margarita Marinova, 2022-10-06 Although Mikhail Bakhtin's study of the novel does not focus in any systematic way on the role that translation plays in the processes of novelistic creation and dissemination when he does broach the topic he grants translation a disproportionately significant role in the emergence and constitution of literature The contributors to this volume from the US Hong Kong Finland Japan Spain Italy Bangladesh and Belgium bring their own polyphonic experiences with the theory and practice of translation to the discussion of Bakhtin's ideas about this topic in order to illuminate their relevance to translation studies today Broadly stated the essays examine the art of translation as an exercise in a cultural re accentuation a transference of the original text and its characters to the novel soil of a different language and culture which inevitably leads to the proliferation of multivalent meanings and to explore the various re accentuation devices employed over the span of the last 100 years in translating modern texts from one language to another Through its contributors The Art of Translation in Light of Bakhtin's Re accentuation brings together different cultural contexts and disciplines such as literature literary theory the visual arts pedagogy translation studies and philosophy to demonstrate the continued international relevance of Bakhtin's ideas to the study of creative practices broadly understood

Teenage Time

Pamela Thurschwell, 2025-07-24 Adolescence has been codified as an unpredictable experimental and liminal time Teenage Time reads this phase as queer in its framing and disruption of developmental narratives of modernity showing that the identity of the teenager as it has been culturally perceived in different epochs developing since the 1940s has shaped the temporal imaginary of the 20th and 21st century From the conception of the teenager after the Second World War through notions of rebellion and consumption peaking in the 1980s and 1990s to representations of their precarious futures amidst the political social economic and environmental uncertainties of today Pamela Thurschwell exposes British and American representations of the adolescent as both destructive and recursive in their disturbance of narrative and teleology in literature film and sub cultural history Calling on theories of queer temporality time studies psychoanalysis and Marxist accounts of modernity this book traces how the teenager is out of time and time travelling commodified anarchic futureless precarious with an uneven distribution of time in relation to race and how they confront dystopias in Young Adult catastrophe literature Covering a wide range of works this book features contemporary and YA fiction such as The Member of the Wedding American Pastoral Sula The Hate U Give The Fault in Our Stars How I Live Now Never Let Me Go The Hunger Games and They Both Die at the End and films including Donnie Darko The Breakfast Club Back to the Future Say Anything and Ghost World Original and conceptually sophisticated Thurschwell demonstrates how adolescence is formed in dialogue with a crisis in and of historical time revealing the promise and destruction of the modern teenager The Bibliothek ,1976
