The Golden Key: Modern Women Artists and Gender Negotiations in Republican China (1911-1949) Amanda Wangwright, 2021-08-16 The first monograph devoted to women artists of the Republican period The Golden Key recovers the history of a groundbreaking yet forgotten force in China s modern art world Through its detailed examination of the lives and careers of six female artists Guan Zilan Qiu Ti Pan Yuliang Fang Junbi Yu Feng and Liang Baibo this book argues that women were central to the emergence of modernist art in early twentieth century China and to the nation s larger modernization project Amanda S Wangwright s analysis of a wealth of primary sources demonstrates how these women constructed public personas negotiated space within art societies applied feminist thought to their artistic praxis and surmounted obstacles to their careers wielding art as the golden key to professional advancement and gender equality

Modern Art for a Modern China Yiyan Wang, 2020-11-10 How did art reform fit into the many initiatives for social and cultural change that contributed to the New Cultural Movement that transformed the Chinese cultural landscape during the Republican period Modern art for a modern China was the rallying cry of Chinese intellectuals many of whom were artists critics writers poets and educators Wang describes how these groups discussed and implanted changes in China s conception and practice of art She demonstrates how art reforms fit into the many initiatives for social and cultural change that contributed to the New Cultural Movement that transformed the Chinese cultural landscape during the Republican period In doing so she analyses two key areas in the intellectual history of Republican China China s art reform in the early decades of the twentieth century and the connection and intersection between colonialism nationalism and cosmopolitanism including their direct impact on the development of art and art practice in China Modern Art for a Modern China is an invaluable resource for scholars and students of China s twentieth century intellectual history and art history The Making of a Modern Art World Pedit Pui Chan, 2017-03-06 The Making of A Modern Art World explores the artistic institutions and discursive practices prevailing in Republican Shanghai aiming to reconstruct the operational logic and the stratified hierarchy of Shanghai s art world Using guohua as the point of entry this book interrogates the discourse both of guohua itself and the wider discourse of Chinese modernism in the visual arts In the light of the sociological definition of art world this book contextualizes guohua through focusing on the modes of production and consumption of painting in Shanghai examining newly adopted modern artistic practices namely art associations periodicals art colleges exhibitions and the art market Architecture and the Landscape of Modernity in China before 1949 Edward Denison, 2017-02-17 This book explores China s encounter with architecture and modernity in the tumultuous epoch before Communism an encounter that was mediated not by a singular notion of modernism emanating from the west but that was uniquely multifarious deriving from a variety of sources both from the west and importantly from the east The heterogeneous origins of modernity in China are what make its experience distinctive and its architectural encounters exceptional These experiences are investigated through a re evaluation of established knowledge of the subject within the wider landscape of modern art practices in China The study draws on original archival and photographic material from different artistic genres and architecturally concentrates on China s engagement with the west through the treaty ports and leased territories the emergence of architecture as a profession in China and Japan s omnipresence not least in Manchuria which reached its apogee in the puppet state of Manchukuo The study s geographically temporally and architecturally inclusive approach framed by the concept of multiple modernities questions the application of conventional theories of modernity or post colonialism to the Chinese situation By challenging conventional modernist historiography that has marginalised the experiences of the west s other for much of the last century this book proposes different ways of grappling with and comprehending the distinction and complexity of China s experiences and its encounter with architectural modernity Revolutionary Nativism Maggie Clinton, 2017-03-02 In Revolutionary Nativism Maggie Clinton traces the history and cultural politics of fascist organizations that operated under the umbrella of the Chinese Nationalist Party GMD during the 1920s and 1930s Clinton argues that fascism was not imported to China from Europe or Japan rather it emerged from the charged social conditions that prevailed in the country s southern and coastal regions during the interwar period These fascist groups were led by young militants who believed that reviving China s Confucian national spirit could foster the discipline and social cohesion necessary to defend China against imperialism and Communism and to develop formidable industrial and military capacities thereby securing national strength in a competitive international arena Fascists within the GMD deployed modernist aesthetics in their literature and art while justifying their anti Communist violence with nativist discourse Showing how the GMD s fascist factions popularized a virulently nationalist rhetoric that linked Confucianism with a specific path of industrial development Clinton sheds new light on the complex dynamics of Chinese nationalism and modernity Friendship in Art Claire Roberts,2010-06-01 This book documents in letters photos and paintings a special friendship between two highly creative individuals who helped shape Chinese culture in the twentieth century the revered traditional painter Huang Binhong 1865 1955 and the young cosmopolitan critic and translator Fou Lei 1908 66 As one of China s oldest and most distinguished artists in the 1940s and 1950s Huang Binhong was committed to artistic continuity and reinvigoration of brush and ink painting Fou Lei was a child of the New Culture Movement which repudiated many literati traditions but reached out to Huang Binhong to discuss the possibilities for contemporary Chinese art amid the tides of war and Communist dictates of socialist realism as the guiding priority for cultural workers Both were cultural mediators and translators of ideas and cultural expressions Both had deep appreciation of the common origins of calligraphy and painting rendering complex feelings with brush and ink Their intimate artistic conversations over more than a decade depict their alienation and uncertainty amid China s turbulent cultural politics Print, Profit, and Perception Pei-yin Lin, Weipin Tsai,2014-02-06 Print Profit and Perception examines the dynamic cross cultural exchanges occurring in China and Taiwan from the first Sino Japanese War to the mid twentieth century Drawing examples from various genres this interdisciplinary volume presents nine empirically grounded case studies on the growth in the production dissemination and consumption of texts which lay behind a dramatic expansion of knowledge The chapters collectively address the co existence of globalization and localization processes in the period By taking into account intra Asian cultural encounters and tracing the multiple competing forces encountered by many this book offers a fresh and compelling take on how individuals and social groups participated in transnational conceptual flows Contributors include Paul Bailey Che chia Chang Elizabeth Emrich Tze ki Hon Max K W Huang Mei e Huang Mike Shi chi Lan Pei yin Lin and Weipin Tsai Art and Modernism in Socialist China Shuyu Kong, Julia F. Andrews, Shengtian Zheng,2024-06-06 This edited volume will be the first book examining the art history of China s socialist period from the perspective of modernism modernity and global interactions The majority of chapters are based on newly available archival materials and fresh critical frameworks concepts By shifting the frame of interpretation from socialist realism to socialist modernity this study reveals the plurality of the historical process of developing modernity in China the autonomy of artistic agency and the complexity of an art world conditioned yet not completely confined by its surrounding political and ideological apparatus The unexpected global exchanges examined by many of the authors in this study and the divergent approaches topics and genres they present add new sources and insights to this research field

Skidmore College The Age of Openness Frank Dikotter, 2008-07-01 The era between empire and communism is routinely portrayed as a catastrophic interlude in China's modern history but this engagingly written book shows instead that the first half of the twentieth century witnessed a qualitatively unprecedented trend towards openness Frank Dikotter argues that the years from 1900 to 1949 were characterised at all levels of society by engagement with the world and that the pursuit of openness was particularly evident in four areas in governance and the advance of the rule of law and of newly acquired liberties in freedom of movement in and out of the country in open minds thriving on ideas from the humanities and sciences and in open markets and sustained growth in the economy Freedom of association freedom to travel freedom of religion freedom to trade and relative freedom of speech wrought profound changes in the texture of everyday life While globalisation itself was a vector of cultural diversification pre-existing constellations of ideas practices and institutions did not simply vanish on contact with the rest of the world but on the contrary expanded even further just as much as local industries diversified thanks to their inclusion into a much larger global market Arguably the country was at its most diverse in its entire history on the eve of World War II in terms of politics society culture and the economy Accessible to general readers while providing an integration of ideas that will be valuable for specialists this book presents a fresh way of approaching the history of modern China The Cambridge Companion to Modern Chinese Culture Kam Louie, 2008-06-05

Moore,2021-12-24 Emphasizing the medium's reception among several Chinese constituencies this book explores photography's impact within new discourses on science as well as its effects in social life visual modernity and the media during China's transition from imperial to republican government General knowledge and academic teaching of early modern Chinese visual culture stops short of fitting photography into the larger context of visual practices and theories This study redraws the boundaries by making photography the central concern within changing priorities of visual representation and its functions during a period of major cultural and political change No other study draws on such intimate familiarity with the early glamour of photography as science commerce and communication in the various local conditions of China's cities and towns Joining a body of critical writing that examines photography's histories outside the familiar confines of the West this book looks beyond the tourist and imperialist gazes of photographer adventurers from the Western powers and Japan It defines instead the Chinese priorities of photographic vision that are abundantly evident in surviving photographs as well as in records as various as technical manuals and personal inscriptions Local practices and local knowledge are the keys to explain the highly successful indigenization of a medium as globalizing as photography with reference to Chinese society's own terms and practices This book will be of particular interest to scholars in art and visual culture the history of photography and Asian art
