Shanghai's Role In The Economic Development Of China Reform Of Foreign Trade And Investment:

Shanghai's Role in the Economic Development of China Gang Tian, 1996-11-25 This pioneering work presents for the first time a comprehensive study of the role of Shanghai in the economic development of China. Shanghai experienced stagnation and setbacks in comparison with other big cities and provinces in South China with the open door policy of 1979 and other economic reforms. In terms of export volume, use of foreign capital and overall economic growth, Shanghai remained behind Guangdong and Jiangsu. The fundamental question of why Shanghai maintained a lead position in the national economy and how it was neglected in the Special Economic Zones established in early 1980 is examined herein. In addition, the benefits of trade reform, comparative advantage and foreign direct investment in Shanghai's recent expansion is discussed. Exports, Foreign Direct Investment and Economic Development in China X. Fu, 2004-08-20 This volume based on a series analysis using up to date econometric technique systematically investigates the role that exports and foreign direct investment (FDI) have played in China's development process and questions the received wisdom that exports and FDI are always an unalloyed blessing. It focuses on the transmission mechanisms through which exports and FDI influence growth and economic development and investigates the impact of exports and FDIs on employment, development, financing and productivity growth amongst other issues in China. Provincial Strategies of Economic Reform in Post-Mao China Peter T. Y. Cheung, Zhimin Lin, 1998 This book studies economic decentralization in eight Chinese provinces: Shanghai, Zhejiang, Guangdong, Shaanxi, Shandong, Fujian, Hainan and Sichuan by focusing on the role of provincial leadership in the initiation and implementation of economic reform. Economic Development and Inequality in China Hong Yu, 2017-09-29 The conventional belief that all regions have equally benefited from China's remarkable development over the last three decades is subjected to criticism in this book as Hong Yu systematically analyses the issue of regional inequality during the post 1978 period using the case of Guangdong. Guangdong is one of the key industrial centres and economic powerhouses in China and as a pioneer province instigating economic reform as China opened up to the world it offers an ideal focus upon which to question and enrich the Western theories of economic geography and regional disparity. Based on field research, analysis of geographic characteristics and regression models, this book illustrates how Guangdong's impressive development record has been marred by its rising regional disparity, investigates the main causes of this disparity and draws conclusions regarding the lessons China can learn from it. Economic Development and Inequality in China will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese economics, Chinese regional studies, economic geography and China Studies. Hong Yu is a Visiting Research Fellow at the National University of Singapore. His research interests lie in the field of regional economy. He is the author of a chapter on China's two delta regions in the book China and The Global Economic Crisis. Globalization, the Third World State and Poverty-Alleviation in the Twenty-First Century B. Ikubolajeh Logan, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002. Bringing together an inspiring mix of US and African contributors, this book explores the dynamics of the unfolding globalized economic political socio cultural and environmental systems Featuring incisive international commentary on the causes and consequences of poverty in the Third World it presents a powerful study of the strategies by which Third World governments and civil society can overcome poverty by insinuating themselves more creatively into the global order The result is one of the defining works so far produced on the tensions between globalization and development

Chinese Science and Technology Industrial Parks Susan M. Walcott, 2017-11-30 Title first published in 2003 This book examines types of advanced technology Chinese districts set aside for developing products for national and global markets Culminating in a proposed best practice model for Chinese integration into global networks based on China's own particular political economy The Chinese Economy in the 21st Century Barbara Krug, Hans J. Hendrischke, 2007-01-01 The authors discuss the role of local institutions in coordinating business activities and unleashing entrepreneurship arguing that the sudden growth of new firms and industries is facilitated by changes in business behaviour and institutions Initial private exchange and investment in an environment of ill functioning markets are shown to depend on local networks and local business culture which in turn rely on local tax regimes setting incentives for inherited bureaucracies to engage in economic transformation Finally the book establishes local institutions and local governance as crucial dimensions of China's emerging business system Chinese Provincial Leaders Alan M. Glassman, Deone Zell, Shari Duron, 2005 An emergent approach to organizational strategy making assumptions that few organizations actually realize the goal of deliberative top down strategic planning and that effective strategy making occurs on a continual basis and is a shared activity of the entire organization This innovative book provides the first in depth look at how real organizations are formulating and implementing strategic change under this new paradigm The authors have dug deep into three large and varied organizations Hewlett Packard the California State University system and the County of Los Angeles and identified each one's efforts to develop a new strategic planning process better suited to match the current pace of change and environmental unpredictability The book is filled with vignettes quotes and real world examples that illustrate the trend toward faster more adaptive strategic planning processes It is relevant for a wide range of business governmental and non profit settings and should be required reading in any course on strategic planning Business and Politics in Asia's Key Financial Centres J. J. Woo, 2015-12-14 This book provides unique insights into the politics of finance and the socio political relations which drive financial policymaking in Hong Kong Singapore and Shanghai While the existing literature in the field focuses mainly on economic explanations for financial centre development this book fills a gap by focusing on the socio political relations which underpin the financial policy making process Drawing on extensive interviews with senior policy makers and financial sector professionals the book describes how state industry relations drive financial policy making in three major financial hubs Insights and policy recommendations drawn from these interviews will be particularly useful for policy makers and financial sector professionals hoping to draw lessons from the successful development of the three leading Asian financial centres

Business and Politics in Asia's Key Financial Centres draws on public policy theoretical frameworks for its analytical basis. The three chapters focusing on the historical development of Hong Kong, Singapore and Shanghai also provide a consolidated narrative with regard to the development of these three cities as leading financial centres while also serving as independent case studies. Scholars focusing on policy processes and political factors that underpin financial sector development as well as instructors and students of public policy, international political economy and financial sector policy will find this book useful for their research.

Chinese Provincial Leaders Zhiyue Bo, 2019-09-17 Based on biographical data on more than 2,500 individuals in China's thirty provincial units from the beginning of the People's Republic in 1949, this is the most comprehensive and systematic treatment of China's provincial leaders ever published. The study presents detailed accounts of four categories of provincial leaders: party secretaries, deputy party secretaries, governors and vice governors, including age, gender, nationality, hometown, education, party membership and length of membership. It also traces the careers of these leaders in terms of promotion, demotion, transfer and retirement. And using sophisticated statistical analysis, it links the political mobility of these leaders to the economic performance of their provincial units.

Japan and Greater China Greg Austin, Stuart Harris, 2001-11-30 This work is a comprehensive analysis of the political and strategic relationship between Japan and China, each of which in important respects aspires to a global status commensurate with its economic and military might. These two great powers have to come to terms with a history of antagonism, each viewing the other as circumspectly as their small regional neighbors view them. Japan and Greater China reviews the domestic and international foundations of the foreign policies of the two countries, notably the politics of national identity. The strategic and economic underpinnings of the relationship are assessed not exclusively by reference to bilateral concerns but within the global and regional position and interests of the two powers.

Beyond Hanoi Benedict J Tria Kerkvliet, David G Marr, 2004 This is the first book in English to examine local government and authority in Vietnam since the country's reunification in 1975. Six chapters emphasize particular villages and districts in different parts of the country; one examines a ward in Hanoi, another focuses on Ho Chi Minh City, and one compares leaders in several provinces. To contextualize conditions today, two chapters analyse local government in Vietnam's long history. The opening chapter synthesizes the findings in this book with those in other studies by researchers inside and outside Vietnam.

Fast Boat to China Andrew Ross, 2007-06-12 Most Americans today are aware that jobs are being outsourced to China, India and other nations at an alarming rate. From factory jobs to white collar high tech positions, the exporting of labor is one of the most controversial issues in America. Yet few people know much about the other end, about the people who are actually working these jobs and how their own lives have been thrown into tumult by these new economic forces. Andrew Ross spent a year in China interviewing local employees and their managers in Taiwan, Shanghai and the far western provinces. In this engaging and informative book he shows how the Chinese workforce has inherited many of the same worries as American workers such as job instability long hours and awareness of their own expendability He reports on the daily reality of corporate free trade and explores the growing competition between China and India This is an eye opening exploration of an unseen side of our globalized world
