Cultural Robotics: Social Robots and Their Emergent Cultural Ecologies Belinda J. Dunstan,Jeffrey T. K. V. Koh,Deborah Turnbull Tillman,Scott Andrew Brown,2023-05-11 This edited collection approaches the field of social robotics from the perspective of a cultural ecology fostering a deeper examination of the reach of robotic technology into the lived experience of diverse human populations as well as the impact of human cultures on the development and design of these social agents To address the broad topic of Cultural Robotics the book is sectioned into three focus areas Human Futures Assistive Technologies and Creative Platforms and their Communities The Human Futures section includes chapters on the histories and future of social robot morphology design sensory and sonic interaction with robots technology ethics material explorations of embodiment and robotic performed sentience The Assistive Technologies section presents chapters from community led teams and researchers working to adopt a strengths based approach to designing assistive technologies for those with disability or neurodivergence Importantly this section contains work written by authors belonging to those communities Creative Platforms and their Communities looks to the creative cross disciplinary researchers adopting robotics within their art practices those contributing creatively to more traditional robotics research and the testing of robotics in non traditional platforms such as museum and gallery spaces Cultural Robotics Social Robots and their Emergent Cultural Ecologies makes a case for the development of social robotics to be increasingly informed by community led transdisciplinary research to be decentralised and democratised shaped by teams with a diversity of backgrounds informed by both experts and non experts and tested in both traditional and non traditional platforms In this way the field of cultural robotics as an ecological approach to encompassing the widest possible spectrum of human experience in the development of social robotics can be advanced

The Music Practitioner JaneW. Davidson,2017-07-05 Useful work has been done in recent years in the areas of music psychology philosophy and education yet this is the first book to provide a wide assessment of what practical benefits this research can bring to the music practitioner With 25 chapters by writers representing a broad range of perspectives this volume is able to highlight many of the potential links between music research and practice The chapters are divided into five main sections Section one examines practitioners use of research to assist their practice and the ways in which they might train to become systematic researchers Section two explores research centred on perception and cognition while section three looks at how practitioners have explored their everyday work and what this reveals about the creative process Section four focuses on how being a musician affects an individual s sense of self and the how others perceive him or her The essays in section five outline the new types of data that creative researchers can provide for analysis and interpretation The concluding chapter discusses that key question what makes music affect us in the way it does The research findings in each chapter provide useful sources of data and raise questions that are applicable across the spectrum of music related disciplines Moreover the research methodologies applied to a specific question may have broader application for readers wishing to take on research themselves

Making Music in Montessori Michael Johnson,2020-11-21 Infused with a warm affable tone Making Music in Montessori is the Guide s guide to music education providing Montessori teachers all at once a snappy practical handbook music theory mentor pedagogical manual and resource anthology The book s goal To give teachers confidence in music so that when their children walk away from a lesson all fired up to compose their own music their teacher will know how to guide them Before Making Music in Montessori teachers may have only dreamed of a classroom buzzing with children working learning and growing with music alongside all of the other subject areas in the Montessori curriculum Now it s a reality If children s minds are a fertile field then Making Music in Montessori will stir Montessori teachers of all musical backgrounds to don their overalls roll up their sleeves sow the musical seeds and watch them blossom under their children s flaming imagination

Unfreezing Music Education Paul Louth,2023-04-21 Unfreezing Music Education argues that discussing the conflicting meanings of music should occupy a more central role in formal music education and music teacher preparation programs than is currently the case Drawing on the critical theory of the Frankfurt School the author seeks to take a dialectical approach to musical meaning rooted in critical formalism that avoids the pitfalls of both traditional aesthetic arguments and radical subjectivity This book makes the case for helping students understand that the meaning of musical forms is socially constructed through a process of reification and argues that encouraging greater awareness of the processes through which music's fluid meanings become hidden will help students to think more critically about music Connecting this philosophical argument with concrete practical challenges faced by students and educators this study will be of interest to researchers across music education and philosophy as well as post secondary music educators and all others interested in aesthetic philosophy critical theory cultural studies or the sociology of music and music education

Teaching the Arts in the Primary Curriculum Susan Ogier,Suzy Tutchell,2021-05-12

Learning in the arts does not fit in with simple conventional methodologies for teaching and assessing in the traditional sense but it has an immense power to transform children's understanding of the world around them and their lives Many jobs currently and of the future will demand the skills that learning in the arts will develop This book brings Arts Education sharply into focus as a meaningful learning experience for children of pre school and primary age 3-11 years It reinforces the potential for the wide range of physical mental and emotional development through learning opportunities that engagement in arts practice facilitates Provides insight into how teachers can support children to consider contemporary challenges that face their generation Includes expert voices from the world of education to demonstrate an expansive and perhaps surprising view of where and how the Arts can be found Shows how we can bring the arts so easily into our curriculum and into our classrooms

People Under Three Sonia Jackson,Elinor Goldschmied,Ruth Forbes,2003-12-25 People Under Three translates child development theory and research into everyday practice Focusing on the group day care of very young children it is designed specifically for those who look after them day by day as well as policy makers administrators and the managers of the child care services All the practical ideas in the book have been developed and tested in nurseries and family centres They include detailed guidance on educational play for babies and toddlers and how to care for children's emotional needs The book also explores the difficult area of child protection and working with parents and children with a variety of problems This book is an established text for all those training to work with young children or managing day care facilities This new edition has been completely updated to take account of the expansion and radical changes that have taken place in childcare care provision since the book was first published and includes new material on assessing the quality of care and short term and intermittent care

Music in Early Childhood: Multi-disciplinary Perspectives and Inter-disciplinary Exchanges Susan Young,Beatriz Ilari,2019-07-17 This book examines four main areas of music in early childhood the traditions of music for young children their capacities for music the way they make music with others and constructed and mediated musical childhoods It studies several themes in detail including music making in the home and family life various musical experiences in schools day cares and the community at large in several locations around the globe It looks at technology and diverse musical repertoires as well as innovative pedagogies children's agency and brain research Expanding on the knowledge bases on which early childhood music education typically draws the book brings together contributions from a range of authors from diverse fields such as education psychology sociology cultural studies anthropology philosophy ethnomusicology and the neurosciences The end result is a volume that offers a broad and contemporary picture of music in early childhood
