Tales of the Mermaid Tavern Alfred Noyes,1927      Encyclopedia of Wicca & Witchcraft Raven Grimassi,2000 This indispensable reference work provides both a historical and cultural foundation for modern Wicca and Witchcraft and it is the first to be written by an actual practitioner of the Craft Features include modern Wicca expressions sayings and terminology Illustrations      The Lord of Misrule Alfred Noyes,2015-02-21 And this is the sign we bring you before the darkness fall That Spring is risen is risen again That Life is risen is risen again That Love is risen is risen again and Love is Lord of all      The Lord of Misrule Alfred Noyes,1915      Festivals and Plays in Late Medieval Britain Clifford Davidson,2007 The most comprehensive survey to date of medieval festival playing in Britain this study presents an inclusive view of the drama in the British Isles It offers detailed readings of individual plays including the little studied Bodley plays among others as well as a summary of what is known of their production Organized around the rituals of the liturgical seasons the book clarifies the relationship between liturgical feast and dramatic celebration      Myth and Creative Writing Adrian May,2013-11-19 Myth and Creative Writing is a unique and practical guide to the arts of creative writing It Gives a historical perspective on the storyteller s art Takes a wide view of myth to include legends folklore biblical myth classical myth belief myths balladry and song Considers all aspects of the creative process from conception to completion Provides tips on seeking inspiration from classical and mythic sources Shows how myths can be linked to contemporary concerns Enables beginning writers to tap into the deeper resonances of myth Guides students to further critical and creative resources A secret that all writers know is that they are part of a long tradition of storytelling whether they call it mythic intertextual interactive or original And in the pantheon of storytelling myths those stories that tell us in often magical terms how the world and the creatures in it came to be are the bedrock a source of unending inspiration One can dress the study of literature in the finest critical clothing or intellectualise it until the cows come home but at its heart it is nothing more and nothing less than the study of the human instinct to tell stories to order the world into patterns we can more readily understand Exploring the mythic nature of writing by considering where the connections between instinct and art are made and where the writer is also seen as a mythic adventurer is a way of finding close links to what it is we demand from literature which is again something to do with the essences of human nature Further in the course of examining the nature of myth Adrian May provides a very practical guide to the aspiring writer whether in a formal course or working alone on how to write stories myths of their own from how to begin how to develop and how to close      A History of English Laughter Manfred Pfister,2002 Is there a history of laughter Or isn t laughter an anthropological constant rather and thus beyond history a human feature that has defined humanity as homo ridens from cave man and cave woman to us The contributors to this collection of essays believe that laughter does have a history and try to identify continuities and turning points of this history by studying a series of English texts both canonical and non canonical from Anglosaxon to contemporary As this is not another book on the history of the comic or of comedy it does not restrict itself to comic genres some of the essays actually go out of their way to discover laughter at the margins of texts where one would not have expected it all in Beowulf or Paradise Lost or the Gothic Novel Laughter at the margins of texts which often coincides with laughter from the margins of society and its orthodoxies is one of the special concerns of this book This goes together with an interest in impure forms of laughter in laughter that is not the serene and intellectually or emotionally distanced response to a comic stimulus which is at the heart of many philosophical theories of the comic but emotionally disturbed and troubled aggressive and transgressive satanic and sardonic laughter We do not ask then what is comic but who laughs at and with whom where when why and how
