Lost In A Labyrinth Of Red Tape:

Lost in a Labyrinth of Red Tape Armin Schmid, Renate Schmid, 1996-07-08 Lost in a Labyrinth of Red Tape is the story of one family's desperate attempts to emigrate from Nazi Germany. The Fr haufs faced enormous obstacles with the German and foreign authorities when they attempted to take advantage of matriarch Hilde Fr hauf's U S citizenship. At the mercy of various agencies and shippers they became more and more entangled in the red tape of the title. The daughter went into hiding and fled to Belgium where she was hidden by the Resistance and survived the war. Tragically the remaining members of her family failed to emigrate and were killed by the Nazis.

Life and Loss in the Shadow of the Holocaust Rebecca Boehling, Uta Larkey, 2011-06-16 A family's recently discovered correspondence provides the inspiration for this fascinating and deeply moving account of Jewish family life before, during, and after the Holocaust. Rebecca Boehling and Uta Larkey reveal how the Kaufmann Steinberg family was pulled apart under the Nazi regime and dispersed over three continents. The family's unique eight-way correspondence across two generations brings into sharp focus the dilemma of Jews in Nazi Germany facing the painful decisions of when, if, and to where they should emigrate. The authors capture the family members' fluctuating emotions of hope, optimism, resignation, and despair, as well as the day-to-day concerns, experiences, and dynamics of family life despite increasing persecution and impending deportation. Headed by two sisters who were among the first female business owners in Essen, the family was far from conventional, and their story contributes new dimensions to our understanding of Jewish life in Germany and in exile during these dark years.

Half a million Jews lived in Germany when Hitler came to power in 1933. Over the next decade, thousands would flee. Among these refugees, teens and young adults formed a remarkable generation. They were old enough to appreciate the loss of their homeland and the experience of flight, but often young and flexible enough to survive and even flourish in new environments. This generation has produced such disparate figures as Henry Kissinger and Dr. Ruth Westheimer. Walter Laqueur has drawn on interviews, published and unpublished memoirs, and his own experiences as a member of this group of refugees to paint a vivid and moving portrait of Generation Exodus.

The Unloved Arnošt Lustig, 1996 The Unloved traces five months in the life of Perla, a beautiful seventeen-year-old girl who, while living in the Theresienstadt concentration camp, becomes a prostitute. Capturing Perla's voice through a series of entries in her diary, Lustig tells how she, living in a world of lies and horror, maintains her integrity, honesty, and hope. This first paperback edition of The Unloved has been extensively revised and expanded by Lustig. A Hitler Youth in Poland Jost Hermand, 1997 Between 1933 and 1945, more than three million children between the ages of
