Mad Mary Lamb Lunacy And Murder In Literary London:

Mad Mary Lamb Susan Tyler Hitchcock, 2005 After killing her mother with a carving knife Mary Lamb spent the rest of her life in and out of madhouses yet the crime and its aftermath opened up a new life Freed to read extensively she discovered her talent for writing and with her brother the essayist Charles Lamb collaborated on the famous Tales from Shakespeare This narrative of a nearly forgotten woman is a tapestry of insights into creativity and madness the changing lives of women and the redemptive power of the written word A Horror and a Beauty: The World of Peter Ackroyd's London Novels Petr Chalupský, 2016-02-01 Peter Ackroyd is one of the foremost contemporary British London writers He focuses on the capital its history development and identity both in his fiction and non fiction The London of his novels is thus a highly idiosyncratic construct which reflects and derives from its author's ideas about the actual city's nature as well as his concept of the English literary sensibility in general as he outlines them in his lectures and historical and literary studies It is an exceptionally heterogeneous city of enormous diversity and richness of human experience moods and emotion of actions and events and also of the tools through which these are re-presented and reenacted According to Ackroyd this heterogeneity mostly originates outside the sites and domains of the established or mainstream cultural production and social norms and conventions particularly in occult practices subversive acts and the plotting of radical individuals or groups criminal and fraudulent activities of various kinds dubious scientific experiments and the popular dramatic forms of ritual and entertainment whose permanent encounters with and contesting of the officially approved and prescribed forms instigate the city's vitalising energy for dynamic change and spiritual renewal This book presents the world of Ackroyd's London novels as a distinct chronotope determined by specific spatial and temporal properties and their mutual interconnectedness Although such a concept of urban space in its essence defies categorisation the book is thematically organised around six defining aspects of the city as Ackroyd identifies them the relationship between its past and present its uncanny manifestations its felonious tendencies its inhabitants psychogeographic and antiquarian strategies its theatricality and its inherently literary character The Encyclopedia of Romantic Literature, 3 Volume Set Frederick Burwick, Nancy Moore Goslee, Diane Long Hoeveler, 2012-01-30 The Encyclopedia of Romantic Literature is an authoritative three volume reference work that covers British artistic literary and intellectual movements between 1780 and 1830 within the context of European transatlantic and colonial historical and cultural interaction Comprises over 275 entries ranging from 1 000 to 6 500 words arranged in A Z format across three fully cross referenced volumes Written by an international cast of leading and emerging scholars Entries explore genre development in prose poetry and drama of the Romantic period key authors and their works and key themes Also available online as part of the Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Literature providing 24/7 access and powerful searching browsing and cross referencing capabilities Private Madhouses in England, 1640-1815 Leonard Smith, 2020-06-18 This book examines the origins and early development of private mental health care in England showing that the current spectacle of commercially based participation in key elements of service provision is no new phenomenon In 1815 about seventy per cent of people institutionalised because of insanity were being kept in private madhouses The opening four chapters detail the emergence of these madhouses and demonstrate their increasing presence in London and across the country during the long eighteenth century Subsequent chapters deal with specific aspects in greater depth the insane patients themselves their characteristics and the circumstances surrounding admissions the madhouse proprietors their business activities personal attributes and professional qualifications or lack of them changing treatment practices and the principles that informed them Finally the book explores conditions within the madhouses which ranged from the relatively enlightened to the seriously defective and reveals the experiences concerns and protests of their many critics The New Science and Women's Literary Discourse J. Právě díky tomu, že je přirozeně obohacena o moderní postupy ze světové lingvistiky. This monograph deals with English academic discourse and focuses on some of its constitutive features. Although a variety of particular topics are addressed, the volume is largely centred on three standards of textuality, namely intertextuality, coherence and informativity. In this book, all these standards meet in the Global Theme, which is grasped here uniquely as a cluster of relevant features embodied by the titles, lists of keywords and their in-text use and further developed through diverse academic subgenres through paragraph themes and enhanced by integrating relevant citations. This monograph explores written academic discourse exclusively. It is firmly established on the systematic investigation of authentic data drawn from the discourse of the humanities. The book profiles stylistic, text, linguistic and discourse analyses employing a range of relevant theories, including the Functional Sentence Perspective, and thus indirectly verifying their viability. All the chapters provide quantitative as well as qualitative analyses of data, striving to achieve an appropriate balance and to interpret the findings functionally. From the epistemological viewpoint, all of the studies involved in the monograph are rooted in the Prague functionalist tradition, naturally enriched by modern approaches from world linguistics.
