Meet Cree Hans Christoph Wolfart (Anthropologe, Linguist, Deutschland, Kanada), Janet F. Carroll, 1973 Meet Cree H. Christoph Wolfart, Janet F. Carroll, 1981 Meet Cree H. Christoph Wolfart, 1981 The Subarctic Fur Trade Shepard Krech III, 2011-11-01 Originally presented at the American Society for Ethnohistory conference in 1981 the papers in this book focus on themes which have been near the centre of fur trade scholarship the identification of Indian motivations the degree to which Indians were discriminating consumers and creative participants and the extent of Native dependency on the trade It spans the period from the seventeenth century up to and including the twentieth century In one of the key essays Arthur J Ray questions the theory that modern Native welfare societies are of recent origin and traces their roots to the early fur trade In developing his thesis his concerns about resource depletions and other ecological changes the advent of new mercantilistic impulses and the development of dependence also emerge as sources of inquiry by the other authors Papers by Charles A Bishop Toby Morantz and Carol M Judd focus on the North Algonquians in the eastern subarctic and earlier centuries of the trade while two final essays by Shepard Krech and Robert Jarvenpa and Hetty Jo Brumbach shift the focus to the North Athapascans in the western subarctic The Subarctic Fur Trade will help scholars become more fully aware of the issues concerned with Native economic history which are of common interest to scholars from many different disciplines It also illustrates the methods that are increasingly being used to arrive at empirically based answers to questions and which will when further refined lead to greater advances in fur trade scholarship Since the Time of the Transformers Alan D. Where the Rivers Meet Carly A. Dokis, 2015-07-01 Oil and gas companies now recognize that industrial projects in the Canadian North can only succeed if Aboriginal communities are involved in decision making processes Are Aboriginal concerns appropriately addressed through current consultation and participatory processes Where the Rivers Meet is an ethnographic account of Sahtu Dene involvement in the environmental assessment of the Mackenzie Gas Project a massive pipeline that if completed would have unprecedented effects on Aboriginal communities in the North Carly A Dokis reveals that while there has been some progress in establishing avenues for Dene participation in decision making the structure of participatory and consultation processes fails to meet the expectations of local people by requiring them to participate in ways that are incommensurable with their experiential knowledge and understandings of the environment Ultimately Dokis finds that the evaluation of such projects remains rooted in non local beliefs about the nature of the environment the commodification of land and the inevitability of a hydrocarbon based economy Lover's Island Wjuanae, 2024-02-20 Love and loss aren't unfamiliar territory to Nyimah Deveraux She's learned to live after losing the love of her life and found the courage to love again The man she moves on with keeps her pockets lined but doesn't know how to love her correctly Cree Baptiste is the head of the infamous Baptiste Crime Family He has more riches and power than the average man but he yearns for the right woman to take her place by his side When fate aligns the paths of Nyimah and Cree their worlds passionately collide Nyimah is willing to risk her current relationship revealing secrets and creating enemies in the process while Cree is ready to challenge his family traditions to be with Nyimah Just as quickly as fate unites the lovers circumstances threaten to keep them apart Will their love be strong enough to weather the obstacles thrown at them or will skeletons of the past kill their dreams Buckle up and take a trip to Lover's Island where love resides and no rules apply

It reminds us of long forgotten names and faces, figures who quietly or not so quietly wrote the books that underpin Alberta's thriving literary culture today. Indian Place Names of the West - Part 1 - Joachim Fromhold, 2010-07-28. The most comprehensive listing of Indian Place Names for the Northwest interior of North America to date. These were lands occupied by the Assiniboin, Beaver, Blackfoot, Chipewyan, Chippewa, Cree, Crow, Flathead, Inuit, Kutenai, Nez Perce, Okanagan, Sarcee, Sekani, Shoshone, Shuswap, Sioux, Slavey, and Soto. Information on most of these aboriginal Nations are fairly found in print. Deixis and Alignment Fernando Zúñiga, 2006-11-29. This book proposes a notion of inverse that differs from two widespread positions found in descriptive and typological studies: one of them restrictive and structure-oriented, the other broad and function-centered. This third stance put forward here takes both grammar and pragmatic functions into account but it also relates the opposition between direct and inverse verbs and clauses to an opposition between deictic values, thereby achieving two advantageous goals: it meaningfully circumvents one of the usual analytic dilemmas, namely whether a given construction is passive or inverse, and it refines our understanding of the cross-linguistic typology of inversion. This framework is applied to the description of the morphosyntax of eleven Amerindian languages: Algonquian, Plains Cree, Miami, Illinois, Ojibwa, Kutenai, Sahaptian, Sahaptin, Nez Perce, Kiowa, Tanoan, Arizona Tewa, Picuris, Southern Tiwa, Kiowa Mapudungun. Out of Bounds Sheila McLeod, 2023-09-15. Out of Bounds features Montreal women of different ages and cultural backgrounds facing a range of contemporary challenges and adventures at home and in other countries. Indigenous individuals, immigrant women, aging women, victims of domestic violence, addicts, and Holocaust survivors face making difficult choices at dramatic turning points in their lives. The stories are linked partly through one character who appears at key stages of her life, starting when she is sixteen and finishing when she is a retired anthropology professor and meets a fascinating but mysterious man she knew when she was a young reporter. She plays a role in the lives of several women featured in the book. One of the women who starts as an accountant and ends up helping poor women in Mexico start small businesses has a rambling Montreal house where she welcomes women needing a safe place to escape to while making life-changing decisions. Settings include Montreal, Vancouver, and New York, as well as Portugal, Mexico, Antigua, Tunisia, Morocco, Afghanistan, Pakistan, and rural India.
