The Ethics of Reading According to Emmanuel Levinas Roland A. Champagne, 2023-06-05 Reading a text is an ethical activity for Emmanuel Levinas His moral philosophy considers written texts to be natural places to discover relations of responsibility in Western philosophical systems which are marked by extreme violence and totalizing hatred While ethics is understood to mean a relationship with the other and reading is the appropriation of the other to the self readings according to Levinas naturally entail relationships with the other Levinas's own writings are often fraught with the struggle between his own maleness the concerns of feminism and the Judaism that marks his contributions to the debates of the Talmud This book uses male feminism as its perspective in presenting the applications of Levinas's ethical vision to texts whose readings have presented moral dilemmas for women readers Levinas's philosophical theories can provide keys to unlock the difficulties of these texts whose readings will provide models of reading as ethical acts beginning with the ethical contract in Song of Songs where the assumption of a woman writer begins the elaboration of issues that sets a male reader as her other From the reader's vantage point of seeing the self as other other issues of male feminism become increasingly poignant ranging from the solicitude of listening to Celine Chapter 2 the responsibility for noise in Nizan Chapter 3 the asymmetrical pattern of face to face relationships in Maupassant Chapter 4 the sovereignty of laughter in Bataille and Zola Chapter 5 the call of the other in Italo Svevo Chapter 6 the Woman as Other in Breton Chapter 7 the ethical self in Drieu la Rochelle Chapter 8 the response to Hannah Arendt Chapter 9 and the vulnerability of Bernard Henri Lévy Chapter 10 The male feminist reader is thus the incarnation of the struggle at the core of the issues outlined by Levinas for the act of reading as an ethical endeavor

Literature and Ethics in High School English Classes Ross Collin, 2024-11-14 This book offers a defence of ethical reading in secondary school English classes at a time when reformers and policy makers are trying to reorganize English language arts around technical skills or politics Ross Collin shows how students and teachers use literature as a venue for exploring their own and others ethical ideas and practices and argues that moral inquiry in English class is a distinctly social endeavour The book draws ideas from English education and moral philosophy From English education Collin explores social reading or what Louise Rosenblatt named transaction looking at texts commonly taught in secondary school English including Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet and Jacqueline Woodson's Brown Girl Dreaming From philosophy he draws on arguments about moral vision and literature developed by Iris Murdoch Martha Nussbaum and Nora H m l inen and develops ideas tacit in English education about reading with moral vision He concludes by proposing a new theory of moral vision in transactional reading

Reading Renaissance Ethics Marshall Grossman, 2007-03-12 Bringing together eminent historicist and formalist critics this volume examines how Renaissance texts were read how they were put to use and why this matters for the study of Renaissance literature and for the future of literary studies

Moral Philosophy in Eighteenth-Century Britain Colin Heydt, 2018 A new account of a vital period in the history of ethics focusing on the content of morality

Moral Philosophy Andreas Sofroniou, 2011-09-15 MORAL PHILOSOPHY The terms ethics and morality are closely related We now often refer to ethical judgments or ethical principles where it once would have been more common to speak of moral judgments or moral principles These applications are an extension of the meaning of ethics Strictly speaking however the term refers not to morality itself but to the field of study or branch of inquiry that has morality as its subject matter In this sense ethics is equivalent to moral philosophy Although ethics has always been viewed as a branch of philosophy its all embracing practical nature links it with many other areas of study including anthropology biology medicine economics history politics psychology sociology and theology
