Museum Mediations Barbara K. Fisher, 2006-01-24 This interdisciplinary study participates in the ongoing critical conversation about postwar American poetry and visual culture while advancing that field into the arena of the museum Turning to contemporary poems about the visual arts that foreground and interrogate a museum setting the book demonstrates the particular importance of the museum as a cultural site that is both inspiration and provocation for poets The study uniquely bridges the dual canon in contemporary poetry and calls the lyric avant garde distinction into question by analyzing museum sponsored anthologies as well as poems by John Ashbery Richard Howard Kenneth Koch Kathleen Fraser Cole Swensen Anne Carson and others Through these case studies of poets with diverse affiliations the author shows that the boom in ekphrasis in the past 20 years is not only an aesthetic but a critical phenomenon a way that poets have come to terms with the critical dilemmas of our moment Highlighting the importance of poets peripheral vision awareness of the institutional conditions that frame encounters with art the author contend that a museum visit becomes a forum for questioning oppositions that have preoccupied literary criticism for the past 50 years homage and innovation modernism and postmodernism subjectivity and collectivity The study shows that ekphrasis becomes a strategy for negotiating these impasses a mode of political inquiry a meditation on canonization a venue for comic appraisal of institutionalization and a means of site specific feminist revision in a vital synthesis of critique perspicacity and pleasure

New Germans, New Dutch Liesbeth Minnaard, 2025-10-01 In the globalised world of today traditional definitions of national Self and national Other no longer hold The unmistakable transformation of German and Dutch societies demands a thorough rethinking of national boundaries on several levels This book examines how literature of migration intervenes in public discourses on multiculturalism in Germany and the Netherlands epitomised in the strikingly parallel debates on the German Leitkultur and the Dutch multicultural drama in the year 2000 By juxtaposing detailed analyses of literary work by the Turkish German writers Emine Sevgi Zaimoglu and Feridun Zaimoglu and the Moroccan Dutch writers Abdelkader Benali and Hafid Bouazza New Germans New Dutch offers crucial insights into the specific ways in which this literature negotiates its national context of writing This book demonstrates how German literature of migration seeks alternative forms of community outside the national parameters whereas the Dutch literature negotiates difference and re imagines Dutchness within the national framework Listening in on Museum Conversations Gaea Leinhardt, Karen Knutson, 2004-06-14 We all know that learning takes place in museums but what does that really mean Who learns what and how do they learn it Gaea Leinhardt and Karen Knutson set out to investigate these questions through the conversations of museum visitors The model they developed from their research owes much to sociocultural theory and they challenge others to think about certain specific features of the museum experience in order to understand and define learning They advocate an expanded concept of learning for museums and for more formal schooling environments Leinhardt and Knutson add their voices to what they call the extended conversation that is ongoing among thoughtful practitioners with an interest in formal and informal learning in museums The Museum as Muse Kynaston McShine, 1999 Published on the occasion of the exhibition of the same name held at the Museum of Modern Art New York March 14 June 1 1999
