Stacie G. Goffin,2013-09-25 In her provocative new book Stacie Goffin presents a leadership manifesto for the field of early care and education With an action oriented frame of reference she offers a unique point of view on national efforts to improve program quality and developmental and learning outcomes for children The book calls for the ECE field to step forward as agents for change by 1 Assuming responsibility for the competent practice of its practitioners and for facilitating positive results for children and their learning 2 Formally organizing as a profession to realize consistency in practice across sites and program types 3 Diminishing its reliance on public policy for defining its purpose and structure The text concludes with Next Steps Commentaries written by education luminaires Rolf Grafwallner Jacqueline Jones and Pamela J Winton outlining concrete steps for action that will jump start a conversation about moving forward with the ideas presented in the book ECE for a New Era builds on and extends the conversation started in Goffin s critically acclaimed book co authored with Valora Washington Ready or Not Leadership Choices in Early Care and Education Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Your Country Needs You Thelma M.

Robinson,2009-09-17 Responding to the call Your Country Needs You cadet nurses became the largest and youngest group of uniformed women to serve their country in uniform during World War II The Corps program was established primarily to expand the quantity of nursing service personnel during a critical nurse shortage Thanks to federal funding nursing leaders took advantage of the opportunity to improve nursing education Wearing the scarlet and grey uniform also gave cadets the confidence to speak out regarding an authoritative nurse training system prevalent in the 1940 s This book gives a better understanding as to the advances made in nursing education during the past half century Nursing History Review,
