Flora Tells a Story Michael Kaler, 2008-11-05 In early Christianity many people were inspired to write gospels treatises letters and stories celebrating the new faith but not all of these writings are found in the New Testament One such story from an unknown author is the Coptic gnostic Apocalypse of Paul a tale of the apostle Paul's ascent to the heavens that was lost for millennia and rediscovered at Nag Hammadi in 1945 In Flora Tells a Story Michael Kaler discusses the Apocalypse of Paul and how it was shaped by its literary environment The book takes a behind the scenes look at early Christian literary production analyzing the ways in which various literary traditions such as apocalyptic writings gnostic thought and understandings of Paul influenced the author of the Apocalypse of Paul and helped to shape the text It also includes a new annotated English translation of the Apocalypse of Paul and a fictional account of how it might have come to be written This work is the most in depth study of the Apocalypse of Paul to date and the only full length discussion of it in English It provides a detailed but accessible account of the literary environment in which its author worked and integrates this little known work into the broader stream of early Christian writings This book will be of interest to specialists in Nag Hammadi and gnostic studies and early Christian literature but will also appeal to the general reader interested in Christianity mysticism and gnosticism

Studies in Matthew's Gospel W.J.C. Weren, 2014-08-28 These Studies in Matthew's Gospel by Wim J C Weren are the result of scholarly work carried out using recent methods in Biblical exegesis such as structural analysis text semantics and intertextuality Part One presents a new proposal regarding the macrostructure of Matthew's Gospel and discusses meanings of textual units from this Gospel on the basis of synchronic research In Part Two intertextual theories are described and practical tools are developed that enable us to identify various types of relations between texts from Matthew's Gospel and co generic or co thematic textual units from the Hebrew Bible the Septuagint and early Jewish and early Christian writings Part Three answers the question to what extent the ways in which the disciples are portrayed in Matthew is related to real groups in the Matthean communities The three successive steps are deliberately chosen and are in a complementary relationship to each other

Rethinking the Gospel Sources Delbert Royce Burkett,2009 Burkett offers a new viewpoint on the much debated Synoptic Problem He contends that each theory regarding the Synoptic Problem is problematic Each presents a case for the mutual dependence of one source upon another for example Matthew and Luke depend primarily on Mark but use each other where they report the same story not contained already in Mark Neither Mark nor Matthew nor Luke served as the source for the other two but all depended on a set of earlier sources now lost The relations between the Synoptic Gospels are more complex than the simpler theories have assumed Chrysostom's Homilies on Romans and the Textual History of the New Testament Peter Montoro, 2025-10-20 This volume provides a new paradigm for the use of Chrysostom's exegetical homilies in New Testament textual criticism Grounded in a study of the manuscript tradition of the Homilies on Romans this work offers both a reconstruction of the Romans text as initially cited in the homilies and an analysis of the extensive revisions to these citations present in the subsequent manuscript tradition This study challenges current assumptions about the influence of the Byzantine text on patristic citations and demonstrates the use of the manuscripts of Chrysostom's homilies as a source of textual reference in the broader transmission history of Romans Matthew Robert Horton Gundry, 1994 This commentary demonstrates Gundry's conviction that Matthew relied on the Gospel of Mark and the document Q Furthermore Gundry argues for a combination of historical data and theological embellishments in passages such as those that present the birth of Jesus the Sermon on the Mount and Peter's walking on the water College Press NIV Commentary David Fiensy, 1994 The Double Dealer, 1923 Christobiography Craig S. Keener, 2019-08-27 Are the canonical Gospels historically reliable The four canonical Gospels are ancient biographies narratives of Jesus's life The authors of these Gospels were intentional in how they handled historical information and sources Building on recent work in the study of ancient biographies Craig Keener argues that the writers of the canonical Gospels followed the literary practices of other biographers in their day In Christobiography he explores the character of ancient biography and urges students and scholars to appreciate the Gospel writers' method and degree of accuracy in recounting the life and ministry of Jesus Keener's Christobiography has far-reaching implications for the study of the canonical Gospels and historical Jesus research He concludes that the four canonical Gospels are historically reliable ancient biographies The Testing of Jesus in Q C. Michael Robbins, 2007 The temptations of Jesus cast a spell on readers young and old These temptations are macabre yet triumphant short yet endless ominous and dismal yet sacred and hopeful Scholars have long been obsessed with the attempted seduction of the Saint and the successful sanitation of the Seducer Where else but from Q could such an enchanting narrative derive This book reviews scholarship and examines tradition history to argue that the pericope is more than a wisdom derived scribal legitimation of the Teacher a popular and partially correct theory about the story's origin and function in Q It is a theological summit ascribing a unique sonship to Jesus With diabolic dialogue in such sacred sites as Zion Sinai and the desert protology and eschatology brew to form a muse on both the wilderness testing of Israel and the primeval testing of Adam The brief expedition through the cosmos from desert to empire to sanctuary demonstrates a lordship of evil in the world and thus a need for the reign of God and a context for Jesus sonship sermon prayer miracles exorcisms and even his death and resurrection The tests present an approved champion a Son of God a conflict a tryst with mortality and cosmic evil and a conquest resulting in an enthronement These narratives not supplied by Matthew and Luke are found only in Q
