explicates these works and discusses the recurring features of Coe's fiction: political consciousness, a deep artistic concern with the form of fiction and comedy.

BrexLit offers readers the opportunity to step outside of the chaos to reflect and in many cases to heal from the dismal anxiety of the present.

Power in Politics and Academia in Jonathan Coe's Novels Denisa Dumitrascu, 2018-04-18 This book explores the intricate manifestations of contemporary power, its related ideology and the resistance and reaction to the dominant discourse in Jonathan Coe's political fiction covering the dismantling of the British social democratic consensus, Thatcherism and Blairism up to the new ideology of Globalism. Beyond the predictable dichotomy of support/opposition to power, the book argues the modern individual seems to have found another ontological approach for which it coins the concept of intentional unpower. Furthermore, it demonstrates that there are three possibilities regarding the evolution of this type of social response and invites the readers to discover them while enjoying Coe's subtlety and humour. Given its broad approach, the book will appeal to researchers in a wide range of domains including literary and cultural studies, political theory and sociology as well as any reader fascinated with the essence of power, intellectual response and discourses containing their own elements of subversion.

Literary Second Cities Jason Finch, Lieven Ameen, Markku Salmela, 2017-11-22 This book brings together geographers and literary scholars in a series of engagements near the boundaries of their disciplines. In urban studies, disproportionate attention has been given to a small set of privileged first cities. This volume problematizes the dominance of such alpha cities, offering a wide perspective on second cities and their literature. The volume is divided into three themed sections. In the Shadow of the Alpha City problematizes the image of cities defined by their function and size, bringing out the contradictions and contestations inherent in cultural productions of second cities including Birmingham and Bristol in the UK, Las Vegas in the USA and Tartu in Estonia. Frontier Second Cities pays attention to the multiple and trans-national pasts of second cities which occupy border zones, with a focus on Narva in Estonia and Turkish Kurdistan. The final section, The Diffuse Second City, examines networks, the diffuse secondary city made up of interlinked small cities, suburban sprawl and urban overspill, with literary case studies from Italy, Sweden and Finland.

How Novels Work John Mullan, 2008-02-14 Never has contemporary fiction been more widely discussed and passionately analysed. Recent years have seen a huge growth in the number of reading groups and in the interest of a non-academic readership in the discussion of how novels work. Drawing on his weekly Guardian column, Elements of Fiction, John Mullan examines novels mostly of the last ten years, many of which have become firm favourites with reading groups. He reveals the rich resources of novelistic technique, setting recent fiction alongside classics of the past. Nick Hornby's adoption of a female narrator is compared to Daniel Defoe's; Ian McEwan's use of weather is set against Austen's; and Hardy's Carole Shield's chapter divisions are likened to Fanny Burney's. Each section shows how some basic element of fiction is used. Some topics like plot dialogue or location will appear familiar to most novel readers others metanarrative prolepsis amplification will open readers eyes to new ways of understanding and appreciating the writer s craft How Novels Work explains how the pleasures of novel reading often come from the formal ingenuity of the novelist It is an entertaining and stimulating exploration of that ingenuity Addressed to anyone who is interested in the close reading of fiction it makes visible techniques and effects we are often only half aware of as we read It shows that literary criticism is something that all fiction enthusiasts can do Contemporary novels discussed include Monica Ali s Brick Lane Martin Amis s Money Margaret Atwood s The Blind Assassin A S Byatt s Possession Jonathan Coe s The Rotters Club J M Coetzee s Disgrace Michael Cunningham s The Hours Don DeLillo s Underworld Michel Faber s The Crimson Petal and the White Ian Fleming s From Russia with Love Jonathan Franzen s The Corrections Mark Haddon s The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night time Patricia Highsmith s Ripley under Ground Alan Hollinghurst s The Spell Nick Hornby s How to Be Good Ian McEwan s Atonement John le Carr s The Constant Gardener Andrea Levy s Small Island David Mitchell s Cloud Atlas Andrew O Hagan s Personality Orhan Pamuk s My Name Is Red Ann Patchett s Bel Canto Ruth Rendell s Adam and Eve and Pinch Me Philip Roth s The Human Stain Jonathan Safran Foer s Everything Is Illuminated Carol Shields s Unless Zadie Smith s White Teeth Muriel Spark s Aiding and Abetting Graham Swift s Last Orders Donna Tartt s The Secret History William Trevor s The Hill Bachelors and Richard Yates s Revolutionary Road

Middle England Jonathan Coe, 2020-07-14 A comedy for our times The Guardian Middle England is a piercing and provocative novel about a country in crisis From the frenzy of the 2012 Olympics to the aftermath of the Brexit referendum here Jonathan Coe chronicles the story of modern Britain by way of a cast of characters whose world is being upended There are newlyweds who disagree about the country s future and possibly their relationship a political commentator who writes impassioned columns about austerity from his lavish town house while his radical teenage daughter undertakes a relentless quest for universal justice and Benjamin Trotter who embarks on an apparently doomed new career in middle age and his father whose last wish is to vote to leave the European Union A sequel to The Rotters Club and The Closed Circle that stands entirely alone Middle England is a darkly comic look at our strange new world

Exploring Dark Comedy in Ecological Literature Mohammad Rahmatullah, Tanu Gupta, Nagendra Kumar, 2025-09-30 In this textbook dark comedy is re imagined as an ecological instrument a volatile compound of irony grotesquerie and mischievous insight that exposes the carbonised scaffolding of late capitalist life Rather than sneering at catastrophe the chapters anatomise the mechanics defamiliarising punch line carnival inversion affective whiplash by which humour slips past guard dogs and rouses an anaesthetised public The horizon against which this inquiry unfolds is the Capitalocene a name that indicts capitalism not Man as the principal geological agent of ruin Moving from Aristophanes to Atwood from street theatre to streaming satire each text shows laughter doing intellectual lifting In one moment it fractures complacent common sense in the next it stitches together circuits of feeling in which eco grief can transmute into civic resolve Juxtaposed with the authority of tragic form dark comedy proves the more permeable solvent it dissolves cultural defences lets paradox breathe and leaves readers wondering how ecosystems became punch lines Methodologically the book is multidisciplinary Literary tangles with environmental philosophy humour theory quarrels with eco Marxism cultural studies supplies the ethnographic grit that keeps abstraction honest By braiding those strands the argument departs from standard ecocritical curricula insisting that jokes are not side shows but catalytic sites where ethics affect and political economy collide Designed for advanced undergraduates yet hospitable to researchers the volume refuses the consolations of easy optimism even as it gestures toward actionable hope Its wager is simple teach readers to hear the subversive crackle inside dark laughter and they may also learn to re script the damaged world that provokes it
