Seeing Green:

Racketty-packetty House Frances Hodgson Burnett,1927 Change Your Life in 30 Days Rhonda Britten,2005-02-01 Rhonda Britten Life Coach on NBC's hit show Starting Over guides readers on a 30 day step by step journey to help define goals and make extraordinary life changes in their lives using practical insights exercises and inspiring wisdom For those who want to make a major life change but have been too locked in fear to start the answers lie within this book Color Blindness Robin Twiddy,2021-07-15 What is color blindness and how does it affect a person's everyday life Readers discover the answers to these questions and more as they follow a narrative about what it's like to live with color blindness and what it's like to have a friend who has this condition Clear and concise text provides relatable examples and fact boxes add helpful information In addition full color photographs enhance this reading experience which provides a valuable exercise in developing empathy and understanding different perspectives The sensitive tone and age appropriate language make this a valuable resource for young readers Mind John R. Searle,2004-11-01 The philosophy of mind is unique among contemporary philosophical subjects writes John Searle in that all of the most famous and influential theories are false One of the world's most eminent thinkers Searle dismantles these theories as he presents a vividly written comprehensive introduction to the mind He begins with a look at the twelve problems of philosophy of mind which he calls Descartes and Other Disasters problems which he returns to throughout the volume as he illuminates such topics as materialism consciousness the mind body problem intentionality mental causation free will and the self The book offers a refreshingly direct and engaging introduction to one of the most intriguing areas of philosophy Color Kenneth L. Kelly,Deane Brewster Judd,1976 Greening in the Red Zone Keith G. Tidball,Marianne E. Krasny,2013-07-22 Creation and access to green spaces promotes individual human health especially in therapeutic contexts among those suffering traumatic events But what of the role of access to green space and the act of creating and caring for such places in promoting social health and well being Greening in the Red Zone asserts that creation and access to green spaces confers resilience and recovery in systems disrupted by violent conflict or disaster This edited volume provides evidence for this assertion through cases and examples The contributors to this volume use a variety of research and policy frameworks to explore how creation and access to green spaces in extreme situations might contribute to resistance recovery and resilience of social ecological systems

Catalogue of Music British Museum,1884 For the Love of Mary Christopher Meades,2016-05-01 Fifteen year old Jacob feels almost on the inside almost smart almost funny almost good looking almost worthy of falling in love His sister is too busy dating guys in Whitesnake jackets to notice and his best friend is occupied with his own painful pubescent crisis Jacob's mother has just started a curious and rather un-Christian holy war with the church across the street while his father has secretly moved into the garage Everything changes when Jacob meets Mary Jacob thinks Mary is the most beautiful girl in the world If only Mary's father wasn't the minister at the enormous rival church If only she wasn't dating a youth pastor with pristine white teeth and impeccably trimmed hair If only Jacob could work up the courage to tell Mary how he feels As the conflict between the churches escalates a peeping Tom prowls the neighborhood a bearded lady terrorizes unsuspecting Dairy Queen customers a beautiful young girl entices Jacob into a carnal romp in a car wash and the church parishioners prepare their annual re enactment of Operation Desert Storm For the Love of Mary is sidesplitting satire with a surprising amount of heart

The Metaphysics of Self-realisation and Freedom Colin Tyler,2017-03-22 This first part of Colin Tyler s new critical assessment of the social and political thought of T H Green 1836 1882 explores the grounding that Green gives to liberal socialism Tyler shows how for Green ultimately personal self realisation and freedom stem from the innate human drive to construct a bedrock of fundamental values and commitments that can define and give direction to the individual s most valuable potentials and talents This book is not only a significant contribution to British idealist scholarship It highlights also the enduring philosophical and ethical resources of a social democratic tradition that remains one of the world s most important social and political movements and not least across Britain Europe North America India and Australia Dr Colin Tyler is Reader in Politics at the University of Hull and joint convenor of the Centre for British Idealism

Scotland's Harvest Richie McCaffery,2023-07-24 This study is the first exploration of the impact of World War Two on Scottish poets of both the front line and the home front World War One has always been thought of as a poet s war one of horror and futility The poetry of World War Two by contrast has long languished in its shadow though there was a much greater amount of it written This book asks whether these poets felt they were grown for war or rather that they grew through war experience with an emphasis on the possibilities of the future instead of cataloguing the senseless horror of the battlefield How were the hopes of Scottish poets different from their English counterparts How was their poetry different and how did it impact on their later lives

Making Eden David Beerling,2019-01-31 Over 7 billion people depend on plants for healthy productive secure lives but few of us stop to consider the origin of the plant kingdom that turned the world green and made our lives possible And as the human population continues to escalate our survival depends on how we treat the plant kingdom and the soils that sustain it Understanding the evolutionary history of our land floras the story of how plant life emerged from water and conquered the continents to dominate the planet is fundamental to our own existence In Making Eden David Beerling reveals the hidden history of Earth s sun shot greenery and considers its future prospects as we farm the planet to feed the world Describing the early plant pioneers and their close symbiotic relationship with fungi he examines the central role plants play in both ecosystems and the regulation of climate As threats to plant biodiversity mount today Beerling discusses the resultant implications for food security and climate change and how these can be avoided Drawing on the latest exciting scientific findings including Beerling s own field work in the UK North America and New Zealand and his experimental research programmes over the past decade this is an exciting new take on how plants greened the continents

The Cinema of Eric Rohmer Jacob Leigh,2012-05-03 Since the death of the French film director Eric Rohmer in 2010 interest in his work has reignited Known as the last of the established directors in the French New Wave Rohmer took complete control over all his films acting as his own producer throughout his career and writing the scripts He also made his mark by taking the lead in casting and location scouting as French seaside resorts with beautiful young people are some of the elements present in most of his films Combining history and criticism Jacob Leigh pens the first chronological survey of this understudied filmmaker in order to give readers clear insights into how Rohmer's films came about and what he intended them to be The book provides in depth analysis of the themes and ideas of Rohmer's twenty three feature films and illustrates the complexity of their cinematic style Leigh's study is the perfect introduction to the work of this great filmmaker for both students and the general reader Environmentalism and Cultural Theory Kay Milton,2002-09-11 The last decade has seen a dramatic increase in the attention paid by social scientists to environmental issues and a gradual acknowledgement in the wider community of the role of social science in the public debate on sustainability At the same time the concept of culture once the property of anthropologists has gained wide currency among social scientist These trends have taken place against a growing perception among specialist and public of the global nature of contemporary issues This book shows how an understanding of culture can throw light on the way environmental issues are perceived and interpreted both by local communities and within the contemporary global arena Taking an anthropological approach the book examines the relationship between human culture and human ecology and considers how a cultural approach to the study of environmental issues differs from other established approaches in social science This book adds significantly to our understanding of environmentalism as a contemporary phenomenon by demonstrating the distinctive contribution of social and cultural anthropology to the environmental debate It will be of particular interest to students and researchers in the fields of social science and the environment Environment and Society Erika Cudworth,2005-08-04 At the start of the twenty first century it can be argued that human societies have a greater impact on the environment than ever before We have always been dependent upon and interacted with the natural environment However the dramatic social changes of the past three centuries have altered the form of our relationship with non human nature to the extent that some would see people planet relations as in a situation of crisis Environment and Society provides a comprehensive and critical account of the ways in which we can think about the relationship between human societies and the environments with which they interact It argues that human societies are ecologically embedded and that environments are often socially embedded and constituted It makes the different theoretical positions and empirical studies accessible to students and includes chapter outlines and summaries annotated further reading boxed case studies and discussion points Philosophy for AS and A2 Elizabeth Burns,Stephen Law,2004-06-24 Philosophy for AS and A2 is the definitive textbook for students of Advanced Subsidiary or Advanced Level philosophy courses structured directly around the specification of the AQA Following a lively foreword by Nigel Warburton author of Philosophy The Basics a team of experienced teachers devote a chapter each to the six themes covered by the syllabus Each of the chapters include helpful student friendly features a list of key concepts to introduce students to the topic bite size sections corresponding to the syllabus topics actual exam questions from previous years suggested discussion questions to promote debate text boxes with helpful summaries case studies and examples an annotated further reading list directing students towards the best articles books and websites a comprehensive glossary providing a handy reference point There is a final chapter on essay writing and exam preparation designed to help students get to grips with the examination board requirements Philosophy for AS and A2 is written by a team of expert teachers based at Heythrop College part of the University of London which specializes in teaching philosophy and theology Canopy Cities Timothy Beatley, 2023-12-21 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the essential role of trees and forests in cities and examines the creative approaches cities around the world are taking to protect trees and expand their urban forests Moving beyond the view that trees are luxuries and therefore non essential to the life of a city the book examines urban tree policies and approaches that foster tree protection including tree codes and bylaws and calls for greater community engagement to preserve this important facet of urban life Through an international range of examples and case studies featuring cities in the United States Canada Singapore the Netherlands Australia France New Zealand Mexico Sierra Leone and the United Kingdom The book offers best practice examples where trees have been further integrated into the fabric of urban planning and design including forested towers interior rainforests tiny urban forests and metropolitan forests Written by a leading authority in the field this is a fascinating read for researchers students and practitioners in urban planning landscape architecture and environmental policy and planning Designing San Francisco Alison Isenberg, 2024-09-24 A major urban history of the design and development of postwar San Francisco Designing San Francisco is the untold story of the formative postwar decades when U S cities took their modern shape amid clashing visions of the future In this pathbreaking and richly illustrated book Alison Isenberg shifts the focus from architects and city planners those most often hailed in histories of urban development and design to the unsung artists activists and others who played pivotal roles in rebuilding San Francisco between the 1940s and the 1970s Previous accounts of midcentury urban renewal have focused on the opposing terms set down by Robert Moses and Jane Jacobs put simply development versus preservation and have followed New York City models Now Isenberg turns our attention west to colorful pioneering and contentious San Francisco where unexpectedly fierce battles were waged over iconic private and public projects like Ghirardelli Square Golden Gateway and the Transamerica Pyramid When large scale redevelopment came to low rise San Francisco in the 1950s the resulting rivalries and conflicts sparked the proliferation of numerous allied arts fields and their professionals including architectural model makers real estate publicists graphic designers photographers property managers builders sculptors public interest lawyers alternative press writers and preservationists Isenberg explores how these centrally engaged arts professionals brought new ideas to city regional and national planning and shaped novel projects across urban suburban and rural borders San Francisco s rebuilding galvanized far reaching critiques of the inequitable competition for scarce urban land and propelled debates over responsible public land stewardship Isenberg challenges many truisms of this renewal era especially the presumed male domination of postwar urban design showing how women collaborated in city building long before feminism's impact in the 1970s An evocative portrait of one of the world's great cities Designing San Francisco provides a new paradigm for understanding past and present struggles to define the urban future National Bureau of Standards Circular ,1985

The Spencer Mansion Robert R. Taylor,2012 Built in 1889 and now home to the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria the Spencer Mansion is a magnificent building with a rich and layered history With detailed research historian and author Robert Ratcliffe Taylor describes the original appearance of the house designed by William Ridgway Wilson for Alexander Green and his family as well as its inhabitants over the decades Also known as Gyppeswyk after the village in England where Green wed Theophila Rainer the house is more commonly referred to as the Spencer Mansion after later owners David and Emma Spencer The book also chronicles the brief period when the residence served as BC's Government House and concludes with the story of how the house came to function as an art gallery A unique book The Spencer Mansion showcases a true gem of Victoria's architecture and history Registry of Toxic Effects of Chemical Substances National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health,1980 This compilation will provide ready reference for potential toxicity of chemicals found in the workplace and should be useful to occupational health physicians industrial hygienists toxicologists and researchers Alphabetical arrangement by substances Entries include such details as molecular weight Wiswesser Line Notation synonyms and reference from which data about toxicity derived Miscellaneous appendixes including one titled Aquatic toxicity Bibliographic references
