Silence Of A Soldier The Memoirs Of A Bataan Death March Survivor:

Silence of a Soldier William J. Duggan, Smith Merrill, 2003 The fight for the Philippines was over At the time of surrender hunger exhaustion and disease was rampant among POWs Bub Merrill was forced to work in factories in Manchuria Three years later he found his way home to Algonac Michigan This is his story Encyclopedia of World War II Alan Axelrod, 2007 A reference to the ideological military political biographical and social topics surrounding World War II which is often considered the pivotal event of the twentieth century O'Donnell, Andersonville of the Pacific John E. Olson, 1985 So You've Written a Book: Practical Advice for the New Writer D. W. St. John, 2003-08 A guide to subsidy publishing with Elderberry Press Parade of the Dead John R. Bumgarner, M.D., 2004-03-11 The grisly procession of dead had grown alarmingly men who had endured the terrible ordeal of Bataan who were 10 000 miles from home and who then died in the most miserable conditions For me as a doctor the most distressing thought was that they could have been saved almost without exception by proper diet and medical care Imprisoned by the Japanese in 1942 Lieutenant John Bumgarner U S Army Medical Corps attempted to care for the survivors of the Bataan Death March A lack of medical supplies coupled with poor diet and unsanitary living conditions made the task virtually impossible Dr Bumgarner was imprisoned until the Japanese surrender in 1945 all the while attending to his fellow prisoners of war who often had little chance of survival His powerful story is a strong reminder of the brutality of war and captivity Bataan Survivor David L. Hardee, 2017-12-01 A forgotten account written in the immediate aftermath of World War II which vividly portrays the valor sacrifice suffering and liberation of the defenders of Bataan and Corregidor through the eyes of one survivor The personal memoir of Colonel David L Hardee first drafted at sea from April May 1945 following his liberation from Japanese captivity is a thorough treatment of his time in the Philippines A career infantry officer Hardee fought during the Battle of Bataan as executive officer of the Provisional Air Corps Regiment Captured in April 1942 after the American surrender on Bataan Hardee survived the Bataan Death March and proceeded to endure a series of squalid prison camps A debilitating hernia left Hardee too ill to travel to Japan in 1944 making him one of the few lieutenant colonels to remain in the Philippines and subsequently survive the war As a primary account written almost immediately after his liberation Hardee s memoir is fresh vivid and devoid of decades of faded memories or contemporary influences associated with memoirs written years after an experience This once forgotten memoir has been carefully edited illustrated and annotated to unlock the true depths of Hardee s experience as a soldier prisoner and liberated survivor of the Pacific War Bataan Death March William Edwin Dyess, The hopeless yet determined resistance of American and Filipino forces against the Japanese invasion has made Bataan and Corregidor symbols of pride but Bataan has a notorious darker side After the U S Filipino remnants surrendered to a far stronger force they unwittingly placed themselves at the mercy of a foe who considered itself unimpaired by the Geneva Convention The already ill and hungry survivors including many wounded were forced to march at gunpoint many miles to a harsh and oppressive POW c many were murdered or died on the way in a nightmare of wanton cruelty that has made the term Death March synonymous with the Bataan peninsula Among the prisoners was army pilot William E Dyess With a few others Dyess escaped from his POW camp and was among the very first to bring reports of the horrors back to a shocked United States His story galvanized the nation and remains one of the most powerful personal narratives of American fighting men Stanley L Falk provides a scene setting introduction for this Bison Books edition William E Dyess was born in Albany Texas As a young army air forces pilot he was shipped to Manila in the spring of 1941 Shortly after his escape and return to the United States Colonel Dyess was killed while testing a new airplane He did not survive long enough to learn that he had been awarded a Congressional Medal of Honor

Beyond the March of Death Myrrl W. McBride, Sr.,2010-07-28 The first to admit that he did not volunteer for military service Myrrl W McBride Sr was just a young man trying to work and return to college when he was drafted into a world completely foreign to him and a war he never envisioned Soon he would suffer through one of the most tragic events in U S military history the U S surrender at Bataan and the Bataan Death March This memoir written in 1948 while memories were fresh but never before published recounts the horrors of the march and its aftermath followed by three and a half years as a prisoner of war at Camp O Donnell the Bilibid and Cabanatuan prisons onboard a prison hellship and in slave labor in Japan The heartbreaking narrative reveals qualities that were undoubtedly critical to the author s survival his courage ingenuity sense of humor and enduring hope

The Hike Into the Sun Bernard T. FitzPatrick,John A. Sweetser,1993 Sergeant Bernard T FitzPatrick endured the long road to Japanese prisoner of war camps an event known thereafter as the Bataan Death March In Japan he was forced to work at the Yawata Steel Works at Kokura the original target of the Allies second atomic bomb FitzPatrick s service at Clark Field in the Philippines the brutal fighting on Bataan and the harrowing details of his time as a Japanese POW are detailed Interspersed are his thoughts on U S preparations for the Pacific war his Japanese captors and the American Filipino and Japanese men and women who risked their lives to ease the harsh conditions in the camps

Beyond the March of Death Myrrl W. McBride, Sr.,2010-03-08 The first to admit that he did not volunteer for military service Myrrl W McBride Sr was just a young man trying to work and return to college when he was drafted into a world completely foreign to him and a war he never envisioned Soon he would suffer through one of the most tragic events in U S military history the U S surrender at Bataan and the Bataan Death March This memoir written in 1948 while memories were fresh but never before published recounts the horrors of the march and its aftermath followed by three and a half years as a prisoner of war at Camp O Donnell the Bilibid and Cabanatuan prisons onboard a prison hellship and in slave labor in Japan The heartbreaking narrative reveals qualities that were undoubtedly critical to the author s survival his courage ingenuity sense of humor and enduring hope

Too Dead to Die Steve Raymond,Mike Pride,2006-01-01 Describes a soldier s experiences on the Bataan Death March and as a prisoner of war in Japan in World War II

My Hitch in Hell Lester I. Tenney,2018-10 Captured by the Japanese after the fall of Bataan Lester I Tenney was one of the very few who would survive the legendary Death March and three and a half years in Japanese prison camps With an understanding of human nature a sense of humor sharp thinking and fierce determination Tenney endured the rest of the war as a slave laborer in Japanese prison camps My Hitch in Hell is an inspiring survivor s epic about the triumph of human will despite unimaginable suffering This edition features a new introduction and epilogue by the author Hanging by My Thumbs Arthur Ray Buchanan,Mary Belle Buchanan,James Hermon Williams,2017 Hanging by My Thumbs was written by recordings made of conversations with Arthur Ray Buchanan He recalled his fighting on Bataan the Death March thirty eight months as a prisoner of war of the Japanese and his difficulties adjusting into society after his release prefatory note Give Us this Day Sidney Stewart,1957 An account of the Bataan Death March by an American Army enlisted man who was held captive by the Japanese in the Philippines Parade of the Dead John R. Bumgarner, M.D.,2004-02-26 The grisly procession of dead had grown alarmingly men who had endured the terrible ordeal of Bataan who were 10 000 miles from home and who then died in the most miserable conditions For me as a doctor the most distressing thought was that they could have been saved almost without exception by proper diet and medical care Imprisoned by the Japanese in 1942 Lieutenant John Bumgarner U S Army Medical Corps attempted to care for the survivors of the Bataan Death March A lack of medical supplies coupled with poor diet and unsanitary living conditions made the task virtually impossible Dr Bumgarner was imprisoned until the Japanese surrender in 1945 all the while attending to his fellow prisoners of war who often had little chance of survival His powerful story is a strong reminder of the brutality of war and captivity Of Rice and Men: From Bataan to V-J Day, a Survivor's Story Bob Reynolds,2019-04-13 At the fall of Bataan on April 9 1942 over sixty thousand American and Filipino troops were rounded up by the Japanese and forced to march 65 miles from Mariveles on the southern end of the Bataan Peninsula to San Fernando Pampanga in Central Luzon Anyone showing a slight weakness to walk was instantly bayoneted in the back Estimates of the number of total deaths from the march range from 5 000 to 8 000 Thousands more later died from malnutrition and disease in the abject conditions of the Japanese POW camps One of the fortunate survivors was Sergeant Bob Reynolds who penned his combat memoir Of Rice and Men in 1947 With a cool philosophical perspective he details the harrowing experience from bitterly defending Bataan on starvation rations through the many atrocities of the March and finally his miraculous survival in Cabanatuan POW Camp and later in Manila s Bilibid Prison

Faith of a Soldier William T. Garner,2008 Many books have been written about the Bataan Death March but few have described the deep faith of the heroic men who experienced the horrors of that march Among the survivors was Clarence Bramley Tall and lean he enlisted during World War II with dreams of flying P 40 fighter planes But the reality of war often dashes young men s dreams While waiting for the results of his pilot exams his squadron was ordered to the Philippines where he serviced the very planes he was hoping to fly Then in the spring of 1942 the islands fell to the Japanese During the years that followed Bramley experienced the brutal Death March incarceration in the Philippines and Taiwan nightmarish weeks on a Japanese Hell Ship and forced labor in a prison camp at Kosaka Japan He suffered disease and brutality and witnessed the agonizing deaths of close friends and comrades but he never lost faith in God Bataan Death March Bollich, James, 2003-10-31 From a brave American veteran comes an eyewitness account of a gruesome chapter in World War II history Captured when America surrendered the Philippines Bataan Peninsula James Bollich experienced first hand the march that cost more than 8 000 American and Filipino lives Now he shares the unforgettable experience of his three and a half years of Japanese imprisonment This journal relates his personal experience first focusing on the sixty five mile march that deprived prisoners of food water and rest Prisoners received harsh punishments for any infraction one of the most brutal of these being the policy of beheading them for taking a sip of water Rather than force him to give up these things made Bollich fight for life even more Witnessing his comrades falling beside him and watching his own body waste away to ninety pounds he never yielded his will to survive After completing the march he remained a prisoner of war first at an old Philippine army base then in another camp at Mukden Manchuria He relates his imprisonment in detail from starvation and torture to digging their own comrades graves in the hot sun without hats or water Through it all he remained courageous and hopeful that he would one day make it back home His story reminds both past and present generations of the horror and brutality of the Pacific war all the while providing an inspiring testament to the will of the human spirit Bataan Eugene P. Boyt, 2004 Like many other young American men during the depression era 1930s Gene Boyt entered Franklin D Roosevelt s Civilian Conservation Corps Later after receiving an ROTC commission in the Army Engineers and a bachelor s degree in mechanical engineering from the Missouri School of Mines Boyt joined the Allied forces in the Pacific Theater While building runways and infrastructure in the Philippines in 1941 Boyt enjoyed the regal life of an American officer stationed in a tropical paradise but not for long When the United States surrendered the Philippines to Japan in April 1942 Boyt became a prisoner of war suffering unthinkable deprivation and brutality at the hands of the ruthless Japanese guards One of the last accounts to come from a Bataan survivor Boyt s story details the infamous Bataan Death March and his subsequent forty two months in Japanese internment camps In this fast paced narrative Boyt s voice conveys the quiet courage of the generation of men who fought and won history s greatest armed conflict Death March Donald Knox, 1981 An account of the extraordinary strength and courage exhibited by Americans under the extreme and seemingly unending stress of three and a half years of captivity under the Japanese on Bataan Photographs and maps
