Healers and Empires in Global History Markku Hokkanen, Kalle Kananoja, 2019-04-15 This book explores cross cultural medical encounters involving non Western healers in a variety of imperial contexts from the Arctic Asia Africa Americas and the Caribbean It highlights contests over healing knowledge and medicines through the frameworks of hybridisation and pluralism The intertwined histories of medicine empire and early globalisation influenced the ways in which millions of people encountered and experienced suffering healing and death In an increasingly global search for therapeutics and localised definition of acceptable healing networks and mobilities played key roles Healers engagements with politics law and religion underline the close connections between healing power and authority They also reveal the agency of healers sufferers and local societies in encounters with modernising imperial states medical science and commercialisation The book questions and complements the traditional narratives of triumphant biomedicine reminding readersthat traditional medical cultures and practitioners did not often disappear but rather underwent major changes in the increasingly interconnected world

Medicalizing Blackness Rana A. Hogarth, 2017-09-26 In 1748 as yellow fever raged in Charleston South Carolina doctor John Lining remarked There is something very singular in the constitution of the Negroes which renders them not liable to this fever Lining's comments presaged ideas about blackness that would endure in medical discourses and beyond In this fascinating medical history Rana A Hogarth examines the creation and circulation of medical ideas about blackness in the Atlantic World during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries She shows how white physicians deployed blackness as a medically significant marker of difference and used medical knowledge to improve plantation labor efficiency safeguard colonial and civic interests and enhance control over black bodies during the era of slavery Hogarth refigures Atlantic slave societies as medical frontiers of knowledge production on the topic of racial difference Rather than looking to their counterparts in Europe who collected and dissected bodies to gain knowledge about race white physicians in Atlantic slaveholding regions created and tested ideas about race based on the contexts in which they lived and practiced What emerges in sharp relief is the ways in which blackness was reified in medical discourses and used to perpetuate notions of white supremacy Difference and Disease Suman Seth,2018-06-07 Before the nineteenth century travellers who left Britain for the Americas West Africa India and elsewhere encountered a medical conundrum why did they fall ill when they arrived and why if they recovered did they never become so ill again The widely accepted answer was that the newcomers needed to become seasoned to the climate Suman Seth explores forms of eighteenth century medical knowledge including conceptions of seasoning showing how geographical location was essential to this knowledge and helped to define relationships between Britain and her far flung colonies In this period debates raged between medical practitioners over whether diseases changed in different climes Different diseases were deemed characteristic of different races and genders and medical practitioners were thus deeply involved in contestations over race and the legitimacy of the abolitionist cause In this innovative and engaging history Seth offers dramatically new ways to understand the mutual shaping of medicine race and empire A Companion to Children's Literature Karen Coats,Deborah Stevenson,Vivian Yenika-Agbaw,2022-06-06 A COMPANION TO CHILDREN'S LITERATURE A collection of international up to date and diverse perspectives on children's literary criticism A Companion to Children's Literature offers students and scholars studying children's literature education and youth librarianship an incisive and expansive collection of essays that discuss key debates within children's literature criticism The thirty four works included demonstrate a diverse array of perspectives from around the world introduce emerging scholars to the field of children's literature criticism and meaningfully contribute to the scholarly conversation The essays selected by the editors present a view of children's literature that encompasses poetry fiction folklore nonfiction dramatic stage and screen performances picturebooks and interactive and digital media They range from historical overviews to of the moment critical theory about children's books from across the globe A Companion to Children's Literature explores some of the earliest works in children's literature key developments in the genre from the 20th century and the latest trends and texts in children's information books postmodern fairytales theatre plays and more This collection also discusses methods for reading children's literature from social justice critiques of popular stories to Black critical theory in the context of children's literary analysis Indian Diaspora ,2015-02-04 The chapters presented in this volume represent a wide variety of Indian diasporic experiences From indenture labour to the present day immigrations

Indian diasporic narrative is one that offers opportunities to evaluate afresh notions of ethnicity race caste gender and religious diversity From victim discourse to narratives of optimism and complexities of identity issues the Indian diaspora has exhibited characteristics that enable us as scholars to construct theoretical views on the diaspora and migration The cases included in this volume will illumine such theoretical ideas The readers will certainly be able to appreciate the diversity and the depth of these narratives and gain insight into the social and cultural and religious world of the diaspora Contributors are Archana Kumar Ram Narayan Tiwari Ashutosh Kumar Brij Vilash Lal In s Louren o Prea Persaud Nalini Moodley Carolyn V Prorok Thembisa Waetjen Kalpana Hiralal Sultan Khan Shanta B Singh Abdalla Khair Gabralla Abul Fadl Mohsin Ebrahim Sharmina Mawani Anjoom Mukadam Goolam Vahed and P Pratap Kumar
