 Travel with revered preacher and author Fred Craddock through his early years as he considers what made him take to the pulpit For some reason I felt I had to say Yes or No to the ministry so I could feel free again My siblings and friends talked almost casually about options and preferences as to careers but with no evident sense of urgency Not so with me I did not then nor do I now know whether the burden of choice was a trait of personality a kind of super conscientiousness whether the calling to ministry itself carried a weight a burden peculiar to the task itself Rightly or wrongly when I thought of possibly becoming a journalist that would be a choice 100 percent mine When I considered becoming a minister that was not totally my decision I was responding to God's will for me Of course I had been told that journalists lawyers teachers merchants farmers all could understand their lives as a vocation a calling but what I am telling you is that I perceived I felt I experienced the idea of being a preacher as different and that difference was sobering even burdensome That's why advice about not being in a hurry taking my time was not helpful even if wise If it was my decision why could I not make it now if it was God's decision why did not God tell me or at least tell my father or my mother I prayed for the ache to leave me Excerpt from Reflections on My Call to Preach Taking on Practical Theology Courtney Goto, 2018-08-20 In Taking on Practical Theology Courtney T Goto explores the regnant paradigm that shapes knowledge production and that preserves power privilege and historic communal injury even as scholars intend to enlighten and transform communities Approaching context as a case study Goto illumines how this commonly used taken-for-granted concept is idolized Though practical theologians are sensitive to context researchers often fail to consider how their own assumptive world dictates and influences their practices of research teaching and engaging in scholarly conversations These practices unwittingly validate scholars who enjoy the most social capital while inflicting harm on both communities they research and on colleagues and students who do not fit or fit less well the norms of the majority Preaching to Second Generation Korean Americans Matthew D. Kim, 2007

This in depth study on preaching to second generation Korean Americans the first of its kind is based on empirical and ethnographic fieldwork Matthew D Kim conducted surveys and semi structured qualitative interviews with Korean American pastors and second generation young adult respondents in three geographic regions of the United States the Midwest the West Coast and the East Coast His primary conceptual framework employs social psychologists Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius theory of possible selves to facilitate the process of congregational exegesis in the second generation Korean American church context This book offers a new contextual homiletic model that enables Korean American preachers to engage in deeper levels of ethnic and cultural analysis in their sermonic preparation Simultaneously the author reconstructs conventional preaching roles of Korean American preachers and second generation listeners so that they may co creatively imagine new possible selves that radically advance Christian mission and practice in the world This book will serve as a primary or secondary source for upper level undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses on preaching communication studies ethnic and racial studies cross cultural ministry or social psychology Faithful Generations Russell Jeung,2005

With rich description and insightful interviews Russell Jeung uncovers why and how Chinese and Japanese American Christians are building new pan Asian organizations Detailed surveys of over fifty Chinese and Japanese American congregations in the San Francisco Bay area show how symbolic racial identities structure Asian American congregations Evangelical ministers differ from mainline Christian ministers in their construction of Asian American identity Mobilizing around these distinct identities evangelicals and mainline Christians have developed unique pan Asian styles of worship ministries and church activities Portraits of two churches further illustrate how symbolic racial identities affect congregational life and ministries The book concludes with a look at Asian American led multiethnic churches The Community of the Weak Hans-Peter Geiser,2013-03-28

Social postmodernism and systematic theology can be considered the new pair in some of the most creative discussions on the future of theological method on a global scale Both in the academy and in the public square as well as in the manifold local and pastoral moments of ministry and community social activism the social the postmodern and the theological intermingle in engaging and border crossing ways The Community of the Weak presents a new kind of jazzy fundamental theology with a postmodern touch using jazz as a metaphor writing ethnographically messy texts out of the personal windows of lived experiences combining fragments of autobiography with theological reconstruction A comparative perspective on North American and European developments in contemporary systematic theology serves as a hermeneutical horizon to juxtapose two continents in their very different contexts The author proposes a systematic and fundamental theology that is more jazzy global and narrative deeply embedded in pastoral ministry to tell its postmodern story The Art and Craft of Biblical Preaching Zondervan,2009-05-26

Out of Place Jione Havea, Clive Pearson, 2016-04-08 Place shapes human identity and community Arguing that theologies are shaped by place so no theology can be universal Out of Place assesses the ways in which theology as a discipline and a practice is out of place Departing from dominant theological discourse the book argues that for theology to be transformative it must connect with place and engage with marginalised peoples and cultures Ranging across Asian American theology to Tamils in the London diaspora Australian Pentecostalism to HIV and AIDS sufferers Out of Place will be of invaluable to scholars and students of sociology and religion interested in the intersection of theology and locality

Building a Eucharistic Pedagogy for the Presbyterian Church of Korea Hyoungh Seop Shin, 2013-04-29 Based on the critical conversations between education liturgy sociology and theology this book suggests an alternative eucharistic pedagogy for the Presbyterian Church of Korea by reforming eucharistic and curricular practices with attention to students specific local contexts This process includes the formulation of the definition of the new eucharistic pedagogy the reconceptualization of concepts regarding the eucharistic pedagogy and five steps as pedagogical strategies for a new eucharistic pedagogy for the Presbyterian Church of Korea including pedagogical guidelines for teachers and students This book will open the door for further educational and liturgical discussions of the work of contextualization in churches around the world Even though this study investigates a contextual pedagogy limited to the PCK this task needs attention and study in a larger context beyond the PCK The gospel is the worldwide truth that cannot be limited to a certain culture but becomes incarnated into each local culture Therefore this kind of contextual investigation between the gospel and culture will not be optional but imperative to all churches
