Qajar Iran Political Social And Cultural Changes 1800-1925:

Qajar Iran Clifford Edmund Bosworth, 1992 Piety and Politics in Qajar Iran Nahid Massoumeh Assemi, 2024-03-21

The Takkiyya Mu'avin al Mulk is a building complex in the city of Kermanshah in western Iran dedicated to the annual commemoration of the martyrdom of Husayn ibn Ali at the Battle of Karbala in 680, an event of seminal significance to Shi'i Islam. Private takkiyyas built by social elites were a phenomenon of the Qajar period with their construction motivated by a political quest for legitimacy. This book examines the intersection of art and architecture, popular piety, and the politics of legitimation. Through an examination of the building and its decorative programme, it addresses issues of patronage, Shi'i iconography, and popular religious practices during the early 20th century in Iran. It further argues for the role of takkiyyas in the creation of a sense of community and group identity, the formative stage of the emergent idea of nationhood at the time, amongst those who frequented them.

Religion and Society in Qajar Iran Robert Gleave, 2004-11-23

Gleave brings together studies by experts in the area of religion in nineteenth-century Iran in order to present new insights into Qajar religion, political and cultural history. Key topics covered include the relationship between religion and the state, the importance of archival materials for the study of religion, the developments of Qajar religious thought, the position of religious minorities in Qajar Iran, the relationship between religion and Qajar culture, and the centrality of Shi'ite hierarchy and the state.

Representing the Unpresentable Negar Mottahedeh, 2008-02-26

In this pioneering book, Negar Mottahedeh explores the central issues of vision and visibility in Iranian culture. She focuses on historical and literary texts to understand the use of visual culture and performance traditions in the production of the contemporary nation. Tracing the historical mediation and dissemination of ideas for national reform in the modern period of Iran, the book examines the various discourses that have constituted the image of the unpresentable Babi as the figure of Iran's Other. In her exploration of gender and Iranian cinema, the author powerfully argues that this unpresentable image continues to haunt contemporary Iranian cinema's representations of the nation. As cinema began to displace other forms of representation in Iran, Islamic culture attempted to keep the motion picture industry free from what it perceived to be the taint of foreign values and intervention. With insight and detail, Mottahedeh looks at the revealing ways in which contemporary Iranian cinema has dealt with representing an unpresentable national modernity articulated through traversals in time and space. These deeply national tropes of traversal shaped the image of the Babi against which nineteenth-century Iran produced its own modernity. This highly original work, signaling a paradigmatic shift in Iranian studies and gender studies, will be an invaluable resource for scholars in cultural Iranian or film studies.

Assef Ashraf, 2024-02 Uses political practices and a socially oriented approach to explain imperial formation under the Qajars in early nineteenth century Iran Persian Kingship and Architecture Sussan Babaie, Talinn Grigor, 2015-02-17 Since the Shah went into exile and the Islamic Republic was established in 1979 in the wake of the Iranian Revolution the very idea of monarchy in Iran has been contentious Yet as Persian Kingship and Architecture argues the institution of kingship has historically played a pivotal role in articulating the abstract notion of Iran since antiquity These ideas surrounding kingship and nation have in turn served as a unifying cultural force despite shifting political and religious allegiances Through analyses of palaces mausolea art architectural decoration and urban design the authors show how architecture was appropriated by different rulers as an integral part of their strategies of legitimising power They refer to a variety of examples from the monuments of Persepolis under the Achaemenids the Sassanian palaces at Kish the Safavid public squares of Isfahan the Qajar palaces at Shiraz and to the modernisation and urban agendas of the Pahlavis Drawing on archaeology ancient medieval early and modern architectural history both Islamic and secular this book is indispensable for all those interested in Iranian studies and visual culture A Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture Finbarr Barry Flood, Gulru

the New World Americas Private Sins, Public Crimes Martin Mittelmeier, 2024-11-12 A groundbreaking scholarly study of crime and punishment in Qajar Iran Drawing on a rich array of primary sources in multiple languages Farzin Vejdani argues that the ambiguity in defining the boundaries between private and public in Qajar Iran often corresponded with the jurisdictional friction between government authorities and religious scholars regarding who had the authority to police and punish public crimes This ambiguity had implications for the spaces in which illicit acts were carried out private parties in domestic residences where music alcohol and prostitution were present were often tolerated by local police officials but raised the ire of religious authorities and their followers who raided these residences ironically in violation of strong Islamic norms of privacy Crimes that were manifest but remained unpunished triggered a crisis of legitimacy that often coincided with upstart Islamic religious scholars challenging the state's authority Even when the government had every intention of punishing a crime convicted criminals sought shelter in sanctuaries including shrines mosques royal stables and telegraph offices which were even more inviolable than private residences This inviolability grounded in both Islamic prohibitions of violence on sacred grounds and Iranian imperial traditions of redress allowed criminals to negotiate a lesser sentence safe passage for voluntary exile or forgiveness
