Disappearing Acts Diana Taylor, 1997 Taylor uses performance theory to explore how public spectacle both builds and dismantles a sense of national and gender identity Here nation is understood as a product of communal imaginings that are rehearsed written and staged and spectacle is the desiring machine at work in those imaginings Taylor argues that the founding scenario of Argentineness stages the struggle for national identity as a battle between men fought on over and through the feminine body of the Motherland She shows how the military's representations of itself as the model of national authenticity established the parameters of the conflict in the 70s and 80s
