Urwind Bo Carpelan, 1998 Urwind comprises fifty three letters from Daniel Urwind an aging bookseller to his wife who has left him for an indeterminate spell of greater freedom and study in the United States The wife's absence haunts the letters which are often tales of Daniel's daily rituals Yet Daniel's narration of such mundanities changing the bookshop window dressing or housekeeping approaches magical realism memories of his wife fantasies bad dreams monologues and dialogues with the living and the dead coalesce in a complex layering of experience past and present Urwind is a construct worthy of Bachelard's Poetics of Space and a painful chronicle of the ending of a love

Contested Identities Peter Loizos, Evthymios Papataxiarchis, 2016-09-29 In this collection leading anthropologists provide a comprehensive yet highly nuanced view of what it means to be a Greek man or woman married or unmarried functioning within a complex society based on kinship ties Exploring the ways in which sexual identity is constructed these authors discuss for example how going out for coffee embodies dominant ideas about female sexuality moral virtue and autonomy why men in a Lesbos village maintain elaborate friendships with nonfamily members while the women do not why young housewives often participate in conflict resolution rituals and how the dominant role of mature married householders is challenged by unmarried persons who emphasize spontaneity and personal autonomy This collection demonstrates that kinship and gender identities in Greece are not unitary and fixed kinship is organized in several highly specific forms and gender identities are plural competing antagonistic and are continually being redefined by contexts and social change
