Adrian Martin and one of the five or six greatest melodramas in cinema history Serge Daney A striking blend of modernist aesthetics and melodramatic force it is arguably the best known film by Ghatak widely considered to be one of the most original politically committed and formally innovative film makers from India The film s focus on a family uprooted by the Partition of India and its powerful exploration of displacement and historical trauma gives it a renewed relevance in the midst of a global refugee crisis Manishita Dass situates the film in its historical and cultural contexts and within Ghatak s film making career and connects it to his theatrical work and his writings on film and theatre Her close reading of the film locates its emotional and intellectual power in what she describes as its cinematic theatricality and brings into focus Ghatak s modernist experiments with melodramatic devices his deliberate departures from cinematic realism and distinctive use of sound and music The book draws on extensive archival research excavates new layers of meaning and offers fresh insights into the cosmopolitan cinematic sensibility of a director described as one of the most neglected major film makers in the world Jonathan Rosenbaum

Cinemas Dark and Slow in Digital India Lalitha Gopalan,2021-02-12 This book provides a sustained engagement with contemporary Indian feature films from outside the mainstream including Aaranaya Kaandam I D Kaul Chauthi Koot Cosmic Sex and Gaali Beeja to undercut the dominance of Bollywood focused film studies Gopalan assembles films from Bangalore Chennai Delhi Kolkata and Trivandrum in addition to independent productions in Bombay cinema as a way of privileging understudied works that deserve critical attention The book uses close readings of films and a deep investigation of film style to draw attention to the advent of digital technologies while remaining fully cognizant of the digital as a cryptic formulation for considering the sea change in the global circulation of film and finance This dual focus on both the techno material conditions of Indian cinema and the film narrative offers a fulsome picture of changing narratives and shifting genres and styles

Art Cinema and India's Forgotten Futures Rochona Majumdar,2021-10-12 Co Winner 2023 Chidananda Dasgupta Award for the Best Writing on Cinema Chidananda Dasgupta Memorial Trust Shortlisted 2022 MSA Book Prize Modernist Studies Association Longlisted 2022 Moving Image Book Award Kraszna Krausz Foundation The project of Indian art cinema began in the years following independence in 1947 at once evoking the global reach of the term art film and speaking to the aspirations of the new nation state In this pioneering book Rochona Majumdar examines key works of Indian art cinema to demonstrate how film emerged as a mode of doing history and that in so doing it anticipated some of the most influential insights of postcolonial thought Majumdar details how filmmakers as well as a host of film societies and publications sought to foster a new cinematic culture for the new nation fueled by enthusiasm for a future of progress and development Good films would help make good citizens art cinema would not only earn global prestige but also shape discerning individuals capable of exercising aesthetic and political judgment

During the 1960s however Satyajit Ray Mrinal Sen and Ritwik Ghatak the leading figures of Indian art cinema became disillusioned with the belief that film was integral to national development Instead Majumdar contends their works captured the unresolvable contradictions of the postcolonial present which pointed toward possible yet unrealized futures Analyzing the films of Ray Sen and Ghatak and working through previously unexplored archives of film society publications Majumdar offers a radical reinterpretation of Indian film history Art Cinema and India's Forgotten Futures offers sweeping new insights into film's relationship with the postcolonial condition and its role in decolonial imaginations of the future

The Indian Partition in Literature and Films Rini Bhattacharya Mehta, Debali Mookerjee-Leonard, 2014-12-17 This book presents an examination of fictional representations in books and films of the 1947 Partition that led to the creation of the sovereign nation states of India and Pakistan While the process of representing the Partition experience through words and images began in the late 1940s it is only in the last few decades that literary critics and film scholars have begun to analyse the work The emerging critical scholarship on the Partition and its aftermath has deepened our understanding of the relationship between historical trauma collective memory and cultural processes and this book provides critical readings of literary and cinematic texts on the impact of the Partition both in the Punjab and in Bengal The collection assembles studies on Anglophone writings with those on the largely unexplored vernacular works and those which have rarely found a place in discussions on the Partition It looks at representations of women's experiences of gendered violence in the Partition riots and how literary texts have filled in the lack of the human dimension in Partition histories The book goes on to highlight how the memory of the Partition is preserved and how the creative arts relation to public memory and its place within the public sphere has changed through time Collectively the essays present a nuanced understanding of how the experience of violence displacement and trauma shaped postcolonial societies and subjectivities in the Indian subcontinent Mapping the diverse topographies of Partition related uncertainties and covering both well known and lesser known texts on the Partition this book will be a useful contribution to studies of South Asian History Asian Literature and Asian Film verge of a miscarriage That is certainly the case in sub continental South Asia Unsurprisingly therefore culturally turned Marxism survives as the sign of the very crisis it was meant to surpass Its canonisation within the academia and beyond as a mere analytic of culture has led to the blurring of politico ideological lines The quietist impulse that this theory of the science of revolution has as a consequence come to share with so called poststructuralism implies its complete detachment from all notions and conceptions of class and class action The 13 essays that comprise this book are envisaged as a small attempt from South Asia where communitarian postcolonialism and Marxist culturalism constitute the most respectable trend in radical theory to remedy the situation
