

The background of the book cover is a photograph. It shows a vast number of birds, likely gulls or terns, in flight. They are silhouetted against a clear, deep blue sky. Below the birds, there is a dense, tangled mass of bare, brown branches, possibly from a shrub or small tree, which fills the lower half of the frame. The overall composition suggests a sense of movement and natural beauty.

Selected John Hewitt:

Ancestral Voices John Harold Hewitt, 1987 The Selected John Hewitt John Harold Hewitt, 1981 Northern Ireland poetry The Cambridge Companion to Irish Poets Gerald Dawe, 2018 A fresh accessible and authoritative study that conveys the richness and diversity of Irish poets their lives and times The City of Coventry Adrian Smith, 2006-10-27 The image of Coventry in flames was one of the most haunting of the Second World War Yet the excitement and optimism of the 1950s and 1960s were succeeded by a quarter century of urban blight and economic slump The collapse of manufacturing industry machine tools aeroplanes cars left a proud community adrift and demoralised Today a revitalised twenty first century city Coventry has embraced the new millennium and evolved from bleak post industrial desert to vibrant cultural oasis in the process rediscovering a sense of purpose and a vision for the future The City of Coventry tells the story of an experiment in social democracy carried out by a Labour controlled council which envisaged the bomb shattered city as a model of urban regeneration and imaginative planning Post war reconstruction could be a striking success as in the pedestrian friendly Precinct and the bold new cathedral or a notable failure as in the ever more intrusive ring roads and grim high rise flats In offering a fresh perspective on the city this innovative volume of essays rediscovers Coventry as an inspiration for poets and painters such as Philip Larkin and Terry Frost musicians as varied as Benjamin Britten and The Specials and film makers such as Humphrey Jennings whose Heart of Britain was shot in the immediate aftermath of the Blitz Adrian Smith skilfully mixes memoir family history and meticulous scholarship to paint a complete and incisive portrait of Coventry Drawing on new research into topics as diverse as the place of Surrealism in West Midlands culture and the shadowy presence of rugby league in a union bastion Smith brings a unique insight into the recent history of his native city Attractively presented highly readable and with broad appeal The City of Coventry is a lively re examination of an iconic city of the twentieth century illuminating the profound changes that engulfed industrial England during and after the Second World War Ireland, Literature, and the Coast Nicholas Allen, 2020 Ireland is home to one of the world's great literary and artistic traditions This book reads Irish literature and art in context of the island's coastal and maritime cultures setting a diverse range of writing and visual art in a fluid panorama of liquid associations that connect Irish literature to an archipelago of other times and places American Indian Nonfiction Bernd Peyer, 2007 A survey of two centuries of Indian political writings Seamus Heaney Michael Parker, 1993 Heaney Ireland's best known living poet has also established himself as a major world writer Here is a detailed account of his upbringing as a Catholic amidst the civil war in Northern Ireland Also provides a fresh perspective on the violence and a view of how circumstances influence art Annotation copyright Book News Inc Portland Or Irish Poetry Since 1950 John Goodby, 2000-12-15 Irish Poetry since 1950 is a survey of poetry from Northern Ireland the Republic Britain and the US covering the 1950s the 1960s the early period of the Troubles up to 1976 the 1980s and the 1990s Modernism from the Margins Chris Wigginton, 2020-10-01 Modernism

from the Margins is an accessible and challenging account of the 1930s writing of two of the most popular authors of the time. Locating the work of Louis MacNeice and Dylan Thomas historically, the book questions standard accounts of the period as Auden dominated and offers an inclusive and theoretical account of the engagement of both writers with the varieties of Modernism. It is the first reading at length of either MacNeice's or Thomas's work in the light of literary theory and one of only a handful of texts to look at the writing of the 1930s in these terms. This book is an important contribution to contemporary discussions of both of these writers and of the general issues of modernism, postmodernism, literary identity and cultural identity it raises.

Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry Rachel Buxton, 2004-05-27

In this incisive and highly readable study, Rachel Buxton offers a much needed assessment of Frost's significance for Northern Irish poetry of the past half century. Drawing upon a diverse range of previously unpublished archival sources including juvenilia, correspondence and drafts of poems, Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry takes as its particular focus the triangular dynamic of Frost, Seamus Heaney and Paul Muldoon. Buxton explores the differing strengths which each Irish poet finds in Frost's work while Heaney is drawn primarily to the Frost persona and to the sound of sense, it is the studied slyness and wryness of the American's poetry, the complicating undertow which Muldoon values. This appraisal of Frost in a non-American context not only enables a fuller appreciation of Heaney's and Muldoon's poetry but also provides valuable insight into the nature of trans-national and trans-generational poetic influence. Engaging with the politics of Irish-American literary connections while providing a subtle analysis of the intertextual relationships between these three key twentieth-century poets, Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry is a pioneering work.
