Musica Naturalis Philipp Jeserich,2013-11 A critical study of the relationship between poetics and music theory in medieval culture and aesthetics Musica Naturalis delivers the first systematic account of speculative music theory as a discursive horizon for literary poetics The title refers to the late medieval French poet Eustache Deschamps whose 1392 treatise on verse writing L Art de Dictier famously casts verse as natural music in explicit distinction to song which Deschamps defines as artificial Philipp Jeserich links the significance of the speculative branch of medieval musicology to literary theory and literary production opening up a field of study that has been largely neglected Beginning with Augustine and Boethius he traces the discourse of speculative music theory to the late fifteenth century giving attention to medieval Latin and vernacular sources Ultimately Jeserich calls for the conservatism of Deschamps s poetics and develops a new perspective on the poetics and poetry of the Grands rh toriqueurs Given Jeserich s reliance on the intellectual inheritance of late medieval French poetics and poetry this book will appeal to English speaking specialists of Old and Middle French as well as scholars of the French Renaissance It will also interest English language medievalists of several other disciplines intellectual historians and specialists of English as well as scholars of Italian and Iberian literature
