

Holistic Caring Process. Foundations of Nursing Practice

Topic: Health & Medicine | Words: 825 | Pages: 3

Holistic caring process is one of the core values of holistic nursing (Morgan & Yoder, 2012). According to Dossey, Keegan, and Co-Director International Nurse Coach Association (2012), holistic caring is the core element of nursing of future. The following paper will observe the selected core value of holistic caring process along with the rationale for choosing it, and the differences between the concepts of healing and curing based on the illustration from my practice.

The selected core value of holistic nursing is holistic caring process. The rationale for this choice is importance of care in nursing. From my experience, patients seek help and multi-dimensional care first of all when they come to a unit of medical care. Therefore, to satisfy the clients' needs, holistic nurses should incorporate this core value into their practice.

To collect information on how different people view the core value of holistic nursing under consideration, I have interviewed three people: my cousin Sarah Abraham, my friend Osvaldo Alvarez who is also my colleague in a way since he is employed in nursing also and is studying to become a nurse practitioner, and my colleague Karina Garcia who works with me in home health agency as a pediatric nurse. The questions I asked the interviewees addressed their point of view regarding the importance of holistic caring process in nursing and health care in general. My cousin Sarah who is a person that has no connection with medicine and attends hospitals quite rarely replied that when she comes to her local care unit or any other hospital, her primary
