Returning Home from Iraq and Afghanistan Institute of Medicine, Board on the Health of Select Populations, Committee on the Assessment of Readjustment Needs of Military Personnel, Veterans, and Their Families, 2013-04-12 As of December 2012 Operation Enduring Freedom OEF in Afghanistan and Operation Iraqi Freedom OIF in Iraq have resulted in the deployment of about 2.2 million troops there have been 2,222 US fatalities in OEF and Operation New Dawn OND 1 and 4,422 in OIF The numbers of wounded US troops exceed 16,000 in Afghanistan and 32,000 in Iraq In addition to deaths and morbidity the operations have unforeseen consequences that are yet to be fully understood In contrast with previous conflicts the all volunteer military has experienced numerous deployments of individual service members has seen increased deployments of women parents of young children and reserve and National Guard troops and in some cases has been subject to longer deployments and shorter times at home between deployments Numerous reports in the popular press have made the public aware of issues that have pointed to the difficulty of military personnel in readjusting after returning from Iraq and Afghanistan Many of those who have served in OEF and OIF readjust with few difficulties but others have problems in readjusting to home reconnecting with family members finding employment and returning to school In response to the return of large numbers of veterans from Iraq and Afghanistan with physical health and mental health problems and to the growing readjustment needs of active duty service members veterans and their family members Congress included Section 1661 of the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 2008 That section required the secretary of defense in consultation with the secretary of veterans affairs to enter into an agreement with the National Academies for a study of the physical health mental health and other readjustment needs of members and former members of the armed forces who were deployed in OIF or OEF their families and their communities as a result of such deployment The study consisted of two phases The Phase 1 task was to conduct a preliminary assessment The Phase 2 task was to provide a comprehensive assessment of the physical psychologic social and economic effects of deployment on and identification of gaps in care for members and former members their families and their communities The Phase 1 report was completed in March 2010 and delivered to the Department of Defense DOD the Department of Veterans Affairs VA and the relevant committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate The secretaries of DOD and VA responded to the Phase 1 report in September 2010 Returning Home from Iraq and Afghanistan: Assessment of Readjustment Needs of Veterans Service Members and Their Families fulfills the requirement for Phase 2. Returning (to) Communities, 2016-08-22 Returning to Communities offers an innovative collection of examples and case studies into what has become a hotly disputed topic. The chapters present a wide ranging series of interventions into the new debates over the concepts and practices of community and the communal. For this book scholars have been gathered from across Europe and Australia as well as from the United States and several contributors are involved in community practice. Returning to Communities is essential reading to researchers and students in social policy, sociology, ethnic studies, cultural analysis, media studies and across all of the social sciences and humanities concerned with the communal and the collective. Ambiguous Subjects Jennifer

Wawrzinek, 2008-01-01 In the history of ideas the aesthetic categories of the sublime and the grotesque have exerted a powerful force over the cultural imagination. Ambiguous Subjects is one of the first studies to examine the relationship between these concepts. Tracing the history of the sublime from the eighteenth century through Burke and Kant, Wawrzinek illustrates the ways in which the sublime has traditionally been privileged as an inherently masculine and imperialist mode of experience that polices and abjects the grotesque to the margins of acceptable discourse and the way in which twentieth century reconfigurations of the sublime increasingly enable the productive situating of these concepts within a dialogic relation as a means of instating an ethical relation to others. This book examines the articulations of both the sublime and the grotesque in three postmodern texts. Looking at novels by Nicole Brossard and Morgan Yashincek and the performance work of The Women's Circus, Wawrzinek illuminates the ways in which these writers and performers restructure the spatial and temporal parameters of the sublime in order to allow various forms of highly contingent transcendence that always necessarily remain in relation to the grotesque body. Ambiguous Subjects illustrates how the sublime and the grotesque can co exist in a manner where each depends on and is inflected through the other, thus enabling a notion of individuality and of community as contingent but nevertheless very real moments in time. Ambiguous Subjects is essential reading for anyone interested in aesthetics, continental philosophy, gender studies, literary theory, sociology and politics. 2018-2019 Brent Hierman, 2018-09-30 Published and updated annually Russia and Eurasia deals with the twelve independent republics that became members of the Commonwealth of Independent States following the collapse of the Soviet Union in December 1992. The text focuses strongly on recent economic and political developments with shorter sections dealing with foreign policy, the military, religion, education and specific cultural elements that help to define each republic and differentiate one from the other. Approximately one third of the book is devoted to Russia but also includes sections on Ukraine, Belarus, Moldova, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan. How the Commonwealth of Independent States came into being and how it has evolved since 1992 is also discussed. The combination of factual accuracy and up to date detail along with its informed projections make this an outstanding resource for Rethinking Popular Representation O. Törnquist,N. Webster,K. Stokke,2009-12-21 This book starts out from the deep concern with contemporary tendencies towards depoliticisation of public issues and popular interests and makes a case for rethinking more democratic popular representation It outlines a framework for popular representation examines key issues and experiences and provides a policy oriented conclusion Electromagnetic Computation Methods for Lightning Surge Protection Studies

Yoshihiro Baba,Vladimir A. Rakov,2016-04-25 Presents current research into electromagnetic computation theories with particular emphasis on Finite Difference Time Domain Method This book is the first to consolidate current research and to examine the theories of electromagnetic computation methods in relation to lightning surge protection The authors introduce and compare existing electromagnetic computation methods such as the method of moments MOM the partial element equivalent circuit PEEC the finite element method FEM the transmission line modeling TLM method and the finite difference time domain FDTD method The application of FDTD method to lightning protection studies is a topic that has matured through many practical applications in the past decade and the authors explain the derivation of Maxwell s equations required by the FDTD and modeling of various electrical components needed in computing lightning electromagnetic fields and surges with the FDTD method The book describes the application of FDTD method to current and emerging problems of lightning surge protection of continuously more complex installations particularly in critical infrastructures of energy and information such as overhead power lines air insulated sub stations wind turbine generator towers and telecommunication towers Both authors are internationally recognized experts in the area of lightning study and this is the first book to present current research in lightning surge protection Examines in detail why lightning surges occur and what can be done to protect against them Includes theories of electromagnetic computation methods and many examples of their application Accompanied by a sample printed program based on the finite difference time domain FDTD method written in C program United Kingdom Balance of Payments ,2009 The Handbook of Mortgage-Backed Securities,

7th Edition Frank J. Fabozzi,2016-09-01 This edition of The Handbook of Mortgage Backed Securities the first revision following the subprime mortgage crisis is designed to provide not only the fundamentals of these securities and the investment characteristics that make them attractive to a broad range of investors but also extensive coverage on the state of the art strategies for capitalizing on the opportunities in this market The book is intended for both the individual investor and the professional manager The volume includes contributions from a wide range of experts most of whom have been actively involved in the evolution of the mortgage backed securities market The Hidden Barriers and Enablers of Team-Based Ideation Linda Suzanne Folk,2023-01-01 This book explores elements of team dynamics and interactions that block or enable effective ideation The author investigates interpersonal dynamics inhibitors of collaboration and boosters of ideation efficiency that govern the ability of a team to generate new and valuable ideas Where it is widely accepted that teams are a necessity in the creative process this book highlights the inconsistency in terms of quality and reliability of creative output when looking at teams Why do some teams struggle and others succeed in innovating This book offers a valuable resource for those interested in the qualities and interventions that can impact the ideation potential of a team Crossing Histories and Ethnographies Ricardo Roque, Elizabeth G. Traube, 2019-06-20 The key question for many anthropologists and historians today is not whether to cross the boundary between their disciplines but whether the idea of a disciplinary boundary should be sustained Reinterpreting the dynamic interplay between archive and field these essays propose a method for mutually productive crossings between historical and ethnographic research It engages critically with the colonial pasts of indigenous societies and examines how fieldwork and archival studies together lead to fruitful insights into the making of different colonial historicities Timor Leste s unusually long and in some ways unique colonial history is explored as a compelling case for these crossings
