Returning Home Jerry M. Burger, 2011-03-16 Each year millions of American adults visit a childhood home Few can anticipate the effect it will have on them Often serving several important psychological needs these trips are not intended as visits with people from their past Rather those returning to their homes have a strong desire to visit the places that comprised the landscape of their childhood Approximately one third of American adults over the age of thirty have visited a childhood home This book describes some of their experiences and the psychology behind the journeys Most people who visit a childhood home are motivated by a desire to connect with their past Seeing the buildings schools parks and playgrounds from their youth helps to establish the psychological and emotional link between the child in the black and white photographs and the person they are today Many people use the trip to get in touch with the values and principles they were taught as children often as a means to get their lives back on track Others use that journey to strengthen emotional bonds between themselves and loved ones Still others return to former homes to work through psychological issues left over from sad or traumatic childhoods No matter the reason there are few experiences in one's life that can move a person as deeply and unpredictably as returning home

Returning Home: Housing and Property Restitution Rights for Refugees and Displaced Persons Scott Leckie, 2021-11-15 This volume is a unique effort to cover the topic of the restitution of housing and property in light of lessons learned in the Balkans South Africa East Timor and in a range of other countries that have made the shift from conflict to peace Individual chapters by authors with direct experience dealing with housing and property restitution in particular contexts will bring into focus the legal and human rights aspects of this question All parties involved in human rights refugee assistance post conflict reconstruction and reconciliation and property rights will find this volume to be an indispensable resource now that housing and property restitution is viewed as an essential element of post conflict reconstruction and a primary means of reversing ethnic cleansing

Returning Home Farina King, Michael P. Taylor, James R. Swensen, Terence Wride, 2021-11-30 Returning Home features and contextualizes the creative works of Din Navajo boarding school students at the Intermountain Indian School which was the largest federal Indian boarding school between 1950 and 1984 Din student art and poetry reveal ways that boarding school students sustained and contributed to Indigenous cultures and communities despite assimilationist agendas and pressures This book works to recover the lived experiences of Native American boarding school students through creative works student interviews and scholarly collaboration It shows the complex agency and ability of Indigenous youth to maintain their Din culture within the colonial spaces that were designed to alienate them from their communities and customs Returning Home provides a view into the students experiences and their connections to Din community and land Despite the initial Intermountain Indian School agenda to send Din students away and permanently relocate them elsewhere Din student artists and writers returned home through their creative works by evoking senses of Din Bik yah and the kinship that defined home for them Returning Home

The Returning Hero Simon Hornblower, Giulia Biffis, 2018-09-04 A recurring and significant theme in ancient Greek literature is that of returns and returning chiefly but by no means only of mythical Greek heroes from Troy One main and certainly the most marked ancient Greek word for return is nostos plural nostoi from which is derived the English nostalgia Nostos related traditions were important ingredients of colonial foundation myths and the theme runs through both ancient Greek prose and poetry from Homer's Odyssey to Lykophron's Alexandra also leaving traces in the historical record through the archaeological and epigraphical commemoration of nostoi which played a central part in defining Greek ethnicity and crystallizing personal and communal identities This volume offers a truly interdisciplinary exploration of the concept of nostos in ancient Greek culture which draws on its contributors expertise in ancient Greek and Roman history literature archaeology and religion The chapters examine both literary and material evidence in order to achieve a better understanding of the nature of Greek settlement in the Mediterranean zone and of sometimes equivocal Greek and Roman perceptions of home displacement and returning The special problems and vocabulary of exile are explored in the long Introduction which offers an incisive yet accessible overview of the volume's key themes and sets its range of contributions clearly in context while two chapters are concerned in different ways with emotions and personal identity making use of the theoretical tool of place attachment another demonstrates that failed nostoi can be more interesting than successful examples Evidential absence can be as important and illuminating as presence and mythical women underrepresented in this regard feature extensively in several chapters which open up a range of new perspectives on nostos

?STREETISM? Isaac Ishmael Arthur, 2013 This book is a study that investigates the phenomenon of streetism the manner of life of homeless or unmonitored youth on the streets of Accra Ghana and other urban centers in a country where barrenness and childlessness are socially undesirable The study utilizes a qualitative ethnographic and critical theory based approach to present a socio culturally nuanced addition to the literature on street children The work engages in theological reflection on the basis of the experiences of poverty and marginalization of the youth on the streets and for their liberation This thesis also utilizes an intercultural methodology to examine the causes of streetism and liberation praxis for its eradication The findings of the study include how poverty dropping out of school breakdown of the extended family systems parental death urbanization adventure and earning of personal income influence the migration of youth to the streets The study also examines the effects of rape and the resilient and hopeful attitudes of the homeless youth The study proposes pastoral responses on three ecological levels At the macro level advocacy is proposed for addressing the problems embedded in social structures and government policies and ideologies At the meso level congregational and community response is offered to deal with issues emanating from local communities and institutions Dealing with the psychosocial effects at the micro level the study offers pastoral counseling for street youth and parents and individual group and narrative counseling approaches for individuals and groups within the community Mobilities of Return John Taylor, Helen Lee, 2017-12-15 In recent decades the term mobility has emerged as a defining paradigm within the humanities For scholars engaged in the multidisciplinary topics and perspectives now often embraced by the term Pacific Studies it has been a much more longstanding and persistent concern Even so specific questions regarding mobilities of return that is the movement of people back to places that are designated however ambiguously or ambivalently as home have tended to take a back seat within more recent discussions of mobility transnationalism and migration This volume situates return mobility as a starting point for understanding the broader context and experience of human mobility community and identity in the Pacific region and beyond Through diverse case studies spanning the Pacific region it demonstrates the extent to which the prospect and practice of returning home or of navigating returns between multiple homes is a central rather than peripheral component of contemporary Pacific Islander mobilities and identities everywhere Journal of Transportation and Statistics ,2002 No Time for the Sea Pasquale De Marco, 2025-07-23 No Time for the Sea is a practical guide to help you overcome life's challenges and embrace new beginnings Drawing on their own experiences and the wisdom of others Pasquale De Marco offers insights on how to Navigate uncharted waters Overcome challenges and adversity Find strength in weakness Embrace the unknown Discover your hidden potential Set sail into the future This book is filled with inspiring stories and practical advice that will help you find your way through even the darkest of times Whether you're facing a personal crisis a career setback or simply the challenges of everyday life No Time for the Sea will provide you with the tools and inspiration you need to overcome obstacles and achieve your goals With chapters on everything from finding your purpose to building resilience this book is a valuable resource for anyone who wants to live a more fulfilling and meaningful life So what are you waiting for Set sail on a new adventure today and discover the hidden treasures that await you on the open sea This book is intended for an American audience and should be in the English language If you like this book write a review Indian Immigrants in United Kingdom K.
