The Revenge Files Jamie Rix,2005 Dip into the diary of Alistair Fury revenger extraordinaire and find out how to overcome infuriating siblings unfair parents and disgusting teachers Be horrified by the vile yellow clothes totally unfair restrictions fungal fingers and completely embarrassing wig that his family have subjected him to and avoid the same fate for yourself Younger brothers of the world unite it s time to get even Two brilliant books in one from a BAFTA shortlisted Smarties Prize winning author Adult Supervision Sarah Rutherford,2013-10-08 I keep trying to find something a bit exotic in my family tree Best I could do was a great grandma who looks a bit tanned in the old photos US election night 2008 A smart inner London village For white ex lawyer Natasha adoptive mother to two Ethiopian children tonight is the ideal opportunity to get to know the small handful of other mothers of children of colour at their smart private school But as the Obamatinis start to flow the middle class veneer begins to crack and Natasha s carefully planned social occasion quickly unravels Lifting the lid on a stew of racial tensions and social embarrassments this is a hilarious provocative and brilliantly insightful look at the new Beige Britain You Can Still Make A Killing Nicholas Pierpan,2013-12-02 He wants me to fuck about with paper clips in some office with a smile on my face fuck him but there s just one thing I ve got to take care of first I ve got to do something to make this right Four years on from the collapse of the Lehman Brothers and still we find ourselves in crisis It s time to work out what s wrong It s time to look at the heart of the system You Can Still Make A Killing is the story of the normal men and women who fill the City s institutions of a world radically altered when right became wrong and of the private worlds that fall apart when there are no alternatives in sight This production reunites director

Matthew Dunster with playwright Nicholas Pierpan following their collaboration in 2010 on Pierpan's play The Maddening Rain. Old Red Lion and Soho Theatre. The cast includes Alecky Blythe, writer of London Road, which marks her much anticipated return to acting, and Kellie Bright. Love and Money. Royal Exchange and Young Vic. It will run at the Southwark Playhouse in its main house, which holds 150 seats, from 10 October until 3 November 2012. A German production will open at Theatre Ulm in April 2013.

Terror Television John Kenneth Muir, 2013-02-25. Although horror shows on television are popular in the 1990s thanks to the success of Chris Carter's The X-Files, such has not always been the case. Creators Rod Serling, Dan Curtis, William Castle, Quinn Martin, John Newland, George Romero, Stephen King, David Lynch, Wes Craven, Sam Raimi, Aaron Spelling, and others have toiled to bring the horror genre to American living rooms for years. This large-scale reference book documents an entire genre from the dawn of modern horror television with the watershed Serling anthology Night Gallery (1970), a show lensed in color and featuring more graphic makeup and violence than ever before seen on the tube, through more than 30 programs including those of the 1998-1999 season. Complete histories, critical reception, episode guides, cast crew, and guest star information, as well as series reviews, are included along with footnotes, a lengthy bibliography, and an in-depth index. From Kolchak: The Night Stalker to Millennium, from The Evil Touch to Buffy the Vampire Slayer and Twin Peaks, Terror Television is a detailed reference guide to three decades of frightening television programs, both memorable and obscure.

Kill-Do Not Release Douglass K. Daniel, 2025-08-05. Fighter Writer reports from major battles in the Pacific highlight what America's Marines endured in World War II. Douglass K. Daniel presents a fascinating trove of previously classified material withheld from the public because of government and public relations concerns at the time, including tactical details that could inadvertently aid the enemy, battlefield gore that could disturb readers, and the gamut of issues of taste. Navy censors in the field and editors at Marine Corps headquarters in Washington were also on alert for any material that could negatively affect the Corps itself or the overall war effort. Soul-searching stories that questioned the nature of war were rejected lest they sow doubt stateside about the cause for which so many lives were being lost. Behind the bylines was a new breed of storytellers. Considered fighter writers, Marine combat correspondents, or CCs, carried typewriters as well as weapons. The Marine Corps Division of Public Relations recruited them from America's newsrooms to join the fight that stretched from Guadalcanal and the bloody assault on Tarawa to the black sands of Iwo Jima and the dense jungles of Okinawa. Their approved work appeared in civilian newspapers, magazines, and other national and local media. This collection also highlights the unique efforts of the CCs and the public relations officers who commanded them. While they were assigned to report and write, they were Marines first. They eagerly put aside their notebooks to take up arms against the enemy as needed. Many were wounded in battle, and more than a dozen were killed, giving their lives to get the story behind the most significant conflict in human history.

The Open World, Hackbacks and Global Justice A. Jean Thomas, 2023-01-13. This book explores the current impasse that global regulators face in the digital sphere. Computer technology has advanced human civilization tenfold but the freedom to interact with others in cyberspace has made individuals discrete communities organizations and governments more vulnerable to abuse In consequence political decision makers are seriously considering granting limited legal immunity to victims who decide to hack back Many victims frustrated by the slow pace of law enforcement in cyberspace have chosen to take the law into their own hands retaliating against those who have stolen valuable data and damaged network operations Political deliberations about limited immunity for hackbacks usually ignore global justice and moral justifications for active defense policies Typically cyber security policies balance deterrence against two different understandings of morality and the good life fairness or welfare This book proposes a third moral rationale for cyber security policies capability theory developed principally by Amartya Sen and Martha Nussbaum Properly formulated a capability based defense of retaliatory hackbacks can minimize attribution and cyber escalation risks deter bad behavior by casual computer users disingenuous security experts big tech companies criminals and rogue governments and satisfy calls for more retributive and distributive justice in the open world This book will appeal to legal theorists political philosophers social activists investors international relations scholars and businesspeople in the tech community
