Revue Dhistoire Moderne Et Contemp Volume 20:

The Great War in the Middle East Robert Johnson, James Kitchen, 2019-01-30 Traditionally in general studies of the First World War the Middle East is an arena of combat that has been portrayed in romanticised terms in stark contrast to the mud blood and presumed futility of the Western Front Battles fought in Egypt Palestine Mesopotamia and Arabia offered a different narrative on the Great War one in which the agency of individual figures was less neutered by heavy artillery As with the historiography of the Western Front which has been the focus of sustained inquiry since the mid 1960s such assumptions about the Middle East have come under revision in the last two decades a reflection of an emerging global turn in the history of the First World War The sideshow theatres of the Great War Africa the Middle East Eastern Europe and the Pacific have come under much greater scrutiny from historians The fifteen chapters in this volume cover a broad range of perspectives on the First World War in the Middle East from strategic planning issues wrestled with by statesmen through to the experience of religious communities trying to survive in war zones The chapter authors look at their specific topics through a global lens relating their areas of research to wider arguments on the history of the First World War The Munich Crisis, 1938 Erik Goldstein, Igor Lukes, 2012-10-12 Most of the works on the crises of the 1930s and especially the Munich Agreement in 1938 were written when it was virtually impossible to gain access to the relevant archive collections on both sides of the Iron Curtain This text studies the Czechoslovak German crisis and its impact from previously neglected perspectives and celebrates the post Cold War openness by bringing in new evidence from hitherto inaccessible archives

Industry and Politics in the Third Reich (RLE Nazi Germany & Holocaust) John Gillingham, 2014-09-19 When originally published in 1985 this was the first detailed study of business in Nazi Germany Drawing on a wealth of new evidence from government and private archives the book throws light on the important role played by Germany heavy industry in preserving traditions valuable for the post Nazi future Contrary to widely held beliefs the industrialists of the Ruhr did not master mind the economic strategy of the third Reich nor were they the helpless victims of Hitler s tyranny In this penetrating study the author reveals that while the management of the coal industry in the Ruhr certainly cooperated with Hitler they did so only to the extent that it served their own purposes which were far less destructive than those of the regime One Hundred Years of Socialism Donald Sassoon, 2010-07-30 On 14 July 1889 the centenary of the French Revolution socialist parties from all corners of Europe met in Paris On the same day in the same city the Exposition Universelle was launched to mark the achievements of capitalist production The two events symbolized the beginning of the epic struggle between socialism and capitalism in Europe In this comprehensive study of a century of socialism the author traces the fortunes of the political parties of the Left in Western Europe From the rise of the Bolsheviks to the fall of the Berlin wall from the Second International through two world wars to the Cold War and the birth of the welfare state from the working class militancy and student uprisings of the 1960s through the revival of feminism and the arrival of green politics to the reluctant embrace of market economics en route to the millennium Donald Sassoon charts the course of socialism across 14 countries He shows that throughout their history the fortunes of socialism and capitalism have been inextricably linked They have grown up side by side each one challenging and seeking to destroy yet nourishing and shaping the other Cities and Social Change in Early Modern France Philip Benedict, 2005-06-28 The major changes experienced by France's cities over the period from the end of the middle ages to the eve of the Revolution are explored by six French and North American historians

Learning on the Shop Floor Bert De Munck, Steven L. Kaplan, Hugo Soly, 2007-12-01 Apprenticeship or vocational training is a subject of lively debate Economic historians tend to see apprenticeship as a purely economic phenomenon as an incomplete contract in need of legal and institutional enforcement mechanisms The contributors to this volume have adopted a broader perspective They regard learning on the shop floor as a complex social and cultural process to be situated in an ever changing historical context The results are surprising The authors convincingly show that research on apprenticeship and learning on the shop floor is intimately associated with migration patterns family economy and household strategies gender perspectives urban identities and general educational and pedagogical contexts ABHB Annual Bibliography of the History of the Printed Book and Libraries Hendrik D.L. Vervliet, 2013-11-11 The history of printing books and libraries is confined only to a limited extent within the boundaries of individual countries There are indeed few historical developments which have played a more universal role in reaction against all kinds of particularism than type design printing book production publishing illustration binding librarianship journal ism and related subjects Their history should be assessed and studied primarily in an international not in a local context The bibliographical resources however which the historian of these subjects has at his disposal correspond hardly at all to the essentially international character of the object of his studies Since the appearance of the retrospective bibliography of BIG MORE and WYMAN covering the subject comprehensively up to 1880 the only current bibliography has been the Internationale Bibliographie des Buch und Bibliothekswesens Covering a representative part of newly published literature it appeared from 1928 but did not survive the Second World War More recently several useful but limited bibliographies have appeared Grossières indécentes Domenic Dagenais, 2020-07-23 Après avoir cofondé la première revue homosexuelle canadienne la poète Elsa Gidlow 21 ans décide de quitter Montréal en 1920 due par le manque de possibilités amoureuses que lui offre alors la ville Le réseau d'amis masculins homosexuels qu'elle a intégré au cours des années précédentes ne manque toutefois pas d'occasions de trouver des partenaires En effet même si l'homosexualité est considérée comme un crime depuis l'époque coloniale une culture gaie masculine qui était pratiquement inexistante avant 1880 s'est largement développée depuis le début du siècle Grossières indécentes retrace les origines de cette culture clandestine complexe et fascinante Dominic Dagenais a consulté rebours des archives produites en grande partie par la surveillance et la persécution soit des dossiers judiciaires des articles de journaux de la correspondance des archives personnelles des publications médicales et des dossiers d'enquêtes publiques pour mettre au jour le contexte répressif dans lequel les identités homosexuelles contemporaines se sont construites et pour découvrir les espaces publics investis par le monde homosexuel montraient au tournant du XXe siècle. Dans une ville marquée par le fleurissement des loisirs commerciaux et les trépidations de son quartier chaud des hommes mais aussi quelques femmes ont déployé diverses stratégies pour se rencontrer et pour nouer des relations. Des rencontres risquées surviennent ainsi dans les rues, ruelles, magasins, parcs, théâtres et toilettes publiques de la ville. Un monde homosexuel riche et diversifié prend forme. Montraient au tournant du XXe siècle en dépit d'une surveillance policière de plus en plus laborieuse et des lourdes sanctions pénales auxquelles s'exposent les individus se livrant des rapports homosexuels considérés alors comme une grosse indécence et comme le pire des vices. Ce livre documente son histoire.

(Re)Writing War in Contemporary Literature and Culture Cristina Pividori, David Owen, 2024-07-09 ReWriting War in Contemporary Literature and Culture: Beyond Post Memory is an exploration of war narratives through the lens of postmemory offering a critical re-evaluation of how contemporary literature and cultural products reshape our understanding of past conflicts. This volume presents a rich tapestry of perspectives drawing from an array of conflicts and incorporating insights from international experts across various disciplines including contemporary literature, film studies, visual arts and cultural studies. It critically builds upon and extends Marianne Hirsch's concept of postmemory engaging with complex themes like the ethical dimensions of war writing, the authenticity of representations and the creative power of art in reimagining traumatic events This study not only challenges traditional boundaries in war literature and memory studies but also resonates with contemporary concerns about societal engagement with violent pasts making it a significant addition to scholarly discourse and essential reading for those interested in the intersection of history memory and literature

Chaos in the Heavens Jean-Baptiste Fressoz, Fabien Locher, 2024-03-12 Nothing could seem more contemporary than climate change Yet in Chaos in the Heavens Jean Baptiste Fressoz and Fabien Locher show that we have been thinking about and debating the consequences of our actions upon the environment for centuries The subject was raised wherever history accelerated by the conquistadors in the New World by the French revolutionaries of 1789 by the scientists and politicians of the nineteenth century by the European imperialists in Asia and Africa until the Second World War Climate change was at the heart of fundamental debates about colonisation God the state nature and capitalism From these intellectual and political battles emerged key concepts of contemporary environmental science and policy For a brief interlude science and industry instilled in us the reassuring illusion of an impassive climate But in the age of global warming we must once again confront the chaos in the heavens Impersonal Power Heide Gerstenberger,2007-08-31 The point of departure of Heide Gerstenberger's path breaking work is a critique of structural functionalist theory of the state in both its modernisation theory and materialist variants Prof Gerstenberger opposes to these a historical theoretical explanation that proceeds from the long term structuring effect of concrete social practice This is elucidated by detailed investigation of the development of bourgeois state power in the two key examples of England and France The different complexions that the bourgeois state assumed are presented as the results of processes of social and cultural formation and thus irreducible to a simple function of capitalism This approach culminates in the thesis that the bourgeois form of capitalist state power arose only where capitalist societies developed out of already rationalised structures of the Ancien R gime type The Demon of Writing Ben Kafka,2020-04-14 Since the middle of the eighteenth century political thinkers of all kinds radical and reactionary professional and amateur have been complaining about bureaucracy But what exactly is all this complaining about The Demon of Writing is a critical history and theory of one of the most ubiquitous least understood forms of media paperwork States rely on records to tax and spend protect and serve discipline and punish But time and again this paperwork proves to be unreliable Examining episodes from the story of a clerk who lost his job and then his mind in the French Revolution to Roland Barthes's brief stint as a university administrator the book reveals the powers failures and even pleasures of paperwork Many of its complexities the book argues have been obscured by the comic paranoid style that characterizes so many of our criticisms of bureaucracy At the same time the book outlines a new theory of what Marx called the bureaucratic medium Returning first to Marx then to Freud The Demon of Writing argues that this theory of paperwork must be attentive to both praxis and parapraxis List of Periodicals, 1993 European University Institute.
