

ARCHITECTURAL THEORY

- Eisenman's fragmented forms are identified with deconstructivism.
- His theories on architecture are based on the philosophy of deconstructivism.
- His work represents a continued attempt to liberate form from all meaning.
- He currently teaches theory seminars and advanced design studios at the Yale School of Architecture.
- Eisenman first rose to prominence as a member of the New York Five Architectural firm.
- Eisenman received a number of grants from the Graham Foundation for work done in this period. These architects' work at the time was often considered a reworking of the ideas of Le Corbusier.
- Eisenman's focus on "liberating" architectural form was notable from an academic and theoretical standpoint but resulted in structures that were both badly built and not user friendly.
- Until recently, few of his designs had been built. Most attention has been focused on his architectural ideas which attempt to create contextually disconnected architecture.
- Eisenman has also embarked on a larger series of building projects in his career. His largest project to date is the soon-to-be completed City of Culture of Galicia in Santiago de Compostela, Spain.

Investigation of the War Department United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Military Affairs, 1918 Bringing the Dark Past to Light John-Paul Himka, Joanna Beata Michlic, 2019-06-12 Despite the Holocaust's profound impact on the history of Eastern Europe the communist regimes successfully repressed public discourse about and memory of this tragedy Since the collapse of communism in 1989 however this has changed Not only has a wealth of archival sources become available but there have also been oral history projects and interviews recording the testimonies of eyewitnesses who experienced the Holocaust as children and young adults Recent political social and cultural developments have facilitated a more nuanced and complex understanding of the continuities and discontinuities in representations of the Holocaust People are beginning to realize the significant role that memory of Holocaust plays in contemporary discussions of national identity in Eastern Europe This volume of original essays explores the memory of the Holocaust and the Jewish past in postcommunist Eastern Europe Devoting space to every postcommunist country the essays in Bringing the Dark Past to Light explore how the memory of the dark pasts of Eastern European nations is being recollected and reworked In addition it examines how this memory shapes the collective identities and the social identity of ethnic and national minorities Memory of the Holocaust has practical implications regarding the current development of national cultures and international relationships Expanding

Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice Matthew Butcher, Megan O'Shea, 2020-11-27 Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice presents a selection of essays architectural experiments and works that explore the diversity within the fields of contemporary architectural practice and discourse Specific in this selection is the question of how and why architecture can and should manifest in a critical and reflective capacity as well as to examine how the discipline currently resonates with contemporary art practice It does so by reflecting on the first 10 years of the architectural journal P E A R 2009 to 2019 The volume argues that the initial aims of the journal to explore and celebrate the myriad forms through which architecture can exist are now more relevant than ever to contemporary architectural discourse and practice Included in the volume are architectural practitioners design researchers artists architectural theorists historians journalists curators and a paleobiologist all of whom contributed to the first seven issues of the journal Here they provide a unique presentation of architectural discourse and practice that seeks to test new ground while forming distinct relationships to recent and more longstanding historical legacies Praise for Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice The story told by the authors of this work can thus be considered as the central tool of an architectural transgression Critique d art Investigation of the War Department , 1918 Miscellaneous Hearings Before the Committee on Military Affairs, United States Senate Or Its Subcommittee United States. concerning the questions of aesthetics and politics and addresses city and urban strategies within the general critique of the post political By focusing on specific case studies from Warsaw Barcelona Dubai Tokyo and many more the book consolidates the contributions of a diverse group of academics architects and critics from Europe the Middle East and America This collection fills the gap in the existing literature on the relation between politics and aesthetics and its implications for the theoretical discourse of architecture today In summary this book provides a response to the predominant de politicization in academic discourse and is an attempt to re claim the abandoned critical project in architecture

Transformations of the New Germany R. Starkman,2006-02-04 This collection demonstrates the persistence of the initial anxieties about a united Germany and its rapid absorption of the German Democratic Republic and also suggests a potential optimism that despite much contemporary domestic disenchantment the new Germany continues to thrive as a European democracy endeavouring to confront its past

Rethinking Architecture Neil Leach,2005-12-20 Brought together for the first time the seminal writing on architecture by key philosophers and cultural theorist of the twentieth century Issues around the built environment are increasingly central to the study of the social sciences and humanities The essays offer a refreshing take on the question of architecture and provocatively rethink many of the accepted tenets of architecture theory from a broader cultural perspective The book represents a careful selection of the very best theoretical writings on the ideas which have shaped our cities and our experiences of architecture As such Rethinking Architecture provides invaluable core source material for students on a range of courses

IAUS, the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies Suzanne Frank,Suzanne Shulof Frank,2010 The book is a combined memoir and impressionistic history of the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies At first affiliated with New York s Museum of Modern Art and Cornell University the Institute housed architects artists and historians who worked on creative design and intellectual projects and would become world renown Its creation and direction was in the hands of its able leader Peter Eisenman Besides a documentary study of the work that went on there among an international clearing house the book is laced with impressions of the author s experience there It has been in the works for over 12 years and was originally financed by the Graham Foundation for the Study of the Fine Arts and has subsequently been aided by Dr Jenny Kaufmann The photographs of the Institute at the height of its activity are included and so does an original ground plan of its West 40th Street office done by Scott Brandi who also designed the book It ends with 27 interviews of prominent members of the Institute who comment on it and their experiences The book should appeal to architecture students and those interested in architecture and urbanism of the seventies when the government in the United States was more reasonable in economic and political equity The Philosopher's Index ,1995

creative Beyond embodying a collection of thought on architecture and its discipline the present collection of essays also serves as a not so veiled political program for the possibility of architecture

Architectural Design Instruments

Sébastien Bourbonnais, 2024-06-18 While it is undeniable that architectural practices have been transformed with the advent of digital technologies they nevertheless continue to occupy an ambiguous or even problematic place within the design process The underlying premise of this book on architectural design instruments is not to see them simply as means to an autonomous end one that is pure and detached from any other technological aspect but instead to see these instruments and their formative abilities as a different way in which architects can approach design We maintain that it is through the very act of experimentation with these instruments that their various potentials are revealed and established It is through such repeated experimentation which is constantly being revised and consolidated that practice is successfully and sustainably transformed This view is less of a wish than it is an observation and as such it can be seen in the various practices that are analyzed in this book

Mapping Impressionist Painting in Transnational Contexts

Emily C. Burns, Alice M. Rudy Price, 2021-05-03 This book offers microhistories related to the transnational circulations of impressionism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The contributors rethink the role of French impressionism in shaping these iterations by placing France within its global and imperialist context and arguing that impressionisms might be framed through the mobility studies concept of constellations of mobility Artists engaging with impressionism in France as in other global contexts relied on responded to appropriated and resisted elements of form and content based on fluid and interconnected political realities and market structures Written by scholars and curators the chapters demand reconsideration of impressionism as a historical construct and the meanings assigned to that term This project frames future discussion in art history cultural studies and global studies on the politics of appropriating impressionism

Morphodynamics in Aesthetics

Stefania Caliendo, 2019-12-12 This book deals with the complexity of art by focusing on the singularity of the work of art Gathering a selection of writings in art theory and semiotics it explores the question of apprehending art from its perceptual aspects to aesthetic comprehension and understanding Theoretical enquiries focus in particular on the dynamics of the perception of forms the semiotic value of colour the aesthetic phenomenon of empathy the function of vision in relation to other senses and its faculty to lead in a substantial way to the embodiment of sense These theoretical points are constantly observed with reference to the analysis of works of art especially from the beginning of the modern era when a renovated psychophysical approach oriented the evolution of contemporary aesthetics Research into art theories sheds light on how differentials in topologic positions dimensions relationships and tones contribute to the arising of forms and colours in perception and affect the perceiver The essays presented address in different ways the emergence of sense by conceiving it as deeply anchored to the dynamics of perception in addition to the cognitive disposition and knowledge regardless of whether or not the subject artist or beholder is aware of these processes Through in depth analyses

identifying to what extent the aesthetic moment builds on perceptual and semiotic processes works of art are revealed to be singularities reflecting the correlation with morphodynamics in the sciences
