Rhetoric On The Margins Of Modernity Vico Condillac Monboddo:

Rhetoric on the Margins of Modernity C. L. Hobbs, 2002 Rhetoric, History, and Women's Oratorical

Education David Gold, Catherine L. Hobbs, 2013-05-02 Historians of rhetoric have long worked to recover women's education in reading and writing but have only recently begun to explore women's speaking practices from the parlor to the platform to the varied types of institutions where women learned elocutionary and oratorical skills in preparation for professional and public life. This book fills an important gap in the history of rhetoric and suggests new paths for the way histories may be told in the future, tracing the shifting arc of women's oratorical training as it develops from forms of eighteenth-century rhetoric into institutional and extrainstitutional settings at the end of the nineteenth century and diverges into several distinct streams of community embodied theory and practice in the twentieth. Treating key rhetors, genres, settings, and movements from the early republic to the present, these essays collectively challenge and complicate many previous claims made about the stability and development of gendered public and private spheres, the decline of oratorical culture, and the limits of women's oratorical forms such as elocution and parlor rhetorics, and women's responses to rhetorical constraints on their public speaking. Enriching our understanding of women's oratorical education and practice, this cutting-edge work makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetoric and communication.

Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures David G. Nicholls, 2015-01-01 The third edition of the MLA's widely used Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures features sixteen new essays by leading scholars. Designed to highlight relations among languages and forms of discourse, the volume is organized into three sections. Understanding Language provides an overview of the field of linguistics with special attention to language acquisition and the social life of languages. Forming Texts offers tools for understanding how speakers and writers shape language; it examines scholarship in the distinct but interrelated fields of rhetoric, composition, and poetics. Reading Literature and Culture continues the work of the first two sections by introducing major areas of critical study. The nine essays in this section cover textual and historical scholarship, interpretation, comparative cultural and translation studies, and the interdisciplinary topics of gender, sexuality, race, and migrations, among others. As in previous volumes, an epilogue examines the role of the scholar in contemporary society. Each essay discusses the significance, underlying assumptions, and limits of an important field of inquiry, traces the historical development of its subject, introduces key terms, outlines modes of research now being pursued, postulates future developments, and provides a list of suggestions for further reading. This book will interest any member of the academic community seeking a review of recent scholarship while it provides an indispensable resource for undergraduate and graduate students of modern languages and literatures.

The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship, synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field

Invention in Rhetoric and Composition Janice M. Lauer, 2004 Invention in Rhetoric and Composition examines issues that have surrounded historical and contemporary theories and pedagogies of rhetorical invention citing a wide array of positions on these issues in both primary rhetorical texts and secondary interpretations It presents theoretical disagreements over the nature purpose and epistemology of invention and pedagogical debates over such issues as the relative importance of art talent imitation and practice in teaching discourse After a discussion of treatments of invention from the Sophists to the nineteenth century Invention in Rhetoric and Composition introduces a range of early twentieth century multidisciplinary theories and calls for invention's awakening in the field of English studies It then showcases inventional theories and pedagogies that have emerged in the field of Rhetoric and Composition over the last four decades including the ensuing research critiques and implementations of this inventional work As a reference guide the text offers a glossary of terms an annotated bibliography of selected texts and an extensive bibliography Janice M Lauer is Professor of English Emerita at Purdue University where she was the Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English In 1998 she received the College Composition and Communication Conference's Exemplar Award Her publications include Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context Composition Research Empirical Designs and New Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention as well as essays on rhetorical invention disciplinary writing as inquiry composition pedagogy historical rhetoric and empirical research

Giambattista Vico on Natural Law John Schaeffer, 2019-03-20 This book introduces the thought of Giambattista Vico 1668-1744 into the discussion about natural law For many critics natural law is not natural but a facade behind which lurks the supernatural that is revealed religion While current notions of natural law are based on either Aristotelian Thomistic principles or on Enlightenment rationalism the book shows how Vico was the only natural law thinker to draw on the Roman legal tradition rather than on Greek or Enlightenment philosophy Specifically the book addresses how Vico drawing his inspiration from Roman history incorporated both rhetoric and religion into a dynamic concept of natural law grounded in what he called the sensus communis the entire repertoire of values images institutions and even prejudices that a community takes for granted Vico denied that natural law could ever furnish a definitive answer to moral problems in the social public sphere Rather he maintained that such problems had to be debated in the wider arena of the sensus communis For Vico as this book argues natural law principles emerged from these debates they did not resolve them

Vision, Rhetoric, and Social Action in the Composition Classroom Kristie S. Fleckenstein, 2009-11-16 In this innovative volume Kristie S Fleckenstein explores how the intersection of vision rhetoric and writing pedagogy in the classroom can help students become compassionate citizens who participate in the world as they become more critically aware of the world Fleckenstein argues that all social action behavior designed to increase human dignity value and quality of life depends on a person's repertoire of visual and rhetorical habits To develop this repertoire in students the author advocates the incorporation of visual habits or ways of seeing into a language based pedagogical approach in the writing classroom According to Fleckenstein interweaving the visual and rhetorical in composition pedagogy enables students to more readily perceive the need for change while arming them with the abilities and desire to enact it The author addresses social action from the perspective of three visual habits spectacle which fosters disengagement animation or fusing body with meaning and antinomy which invites the invention of new realities Fleckenstein then examines the ways in which particular visual habits interact with rhetorical habits and with classroom methods resulting in the emergence of various forms of social action To enhance the understanding of the concepts she discusses the author represents the intertwining relationships of vision rhetoric and writing pedagogy graphically as what she calls symbiotic knots In tracing the modes of social action privileged by a visual habit and a teacher's pedagogical choices Fleckenstein attends particularly to the experiences of students who have been traditionally barred from participation in the public sphere because of gender race or class The book culminates in a call for visually and rhetorically robust writing pedagogies In Vision Rhetoric and Social Action in the Composition Classroom Fleckenstein combines classic methods of rhetorical teaching with fresh perspectives to provide a unique guide for initiating important improvements in teaching social action The result is a remarkable volume that empowers teachers to best inspire students to take part in their world at that most crucial moment when they are discovering it

Rhetorical Investigations Leslie Gardner, 2013-04-12 Rhetorical analysis of texts exposes plausible truths and presumptions implied by the writer's presentation In this volume Leslie Gardner analyses the master psychologist Jung who claimed to be expert at uncovering personal psychological truths In his theoretical writings his rhetoric reveals philosophical ramifications which bear strong similarities to those of the rhetorician of the 18th century Italian philosopher Giambattista Vico This book is driven by an interest in arguing that it is possible to read Jung's works easily enough when you have a set of precepts to go by The paradox of scientific discovery being set out in Jung's grotesque and arcane imagery begins to seem a startling and legitimate psychology for the 21st century It is time Jungian studies took on this most appropriate examination of analytical psychology Bringing Vico to bear directly on Jung's thought has only been cursorily attempted before although much alluded to We find indeed that some of Jung's ideas derive directly from rhetorical theory and this volume proposes to highlight Jung's innovations and bring him into forefront of contemporary psychological thought Rhetorical Investigations will be of interest to analysts and academics and also to those studying philosophy and psychology

The Poetic Enlightenment Rowan Boyson, 2015-10-06 The essays in this edited collection look at the role of poetry in the development of Enlightenment ideas As scholarly disciplines began to emerge anthropology linguistics psychology the ancient art of poetry was invoked to create new ways of defining and expanding this philosophy of human science Ways of Seeing, Ways of Speaking Kristie S. Fleckenstein, Sue Hum, 2007-10-11 The essays in Ways of Seeing Ways of Speaking The Integration of Rhetoric and Vision in Constructing the Real explore the intersections among image word and visual habits in shaping realities and subjectivities Models of the History of Philosophy Gregorio Piaia, Giovanni Santinello, 2015-08-24

This is the third volume of Models of the History of Philosophy a collaborative work on the history of the history of philosophy dating from the Renaissance to the end of the nineteenth century The volume covers a decisive period in the history of modern thought from Voltaire and the great Encyclopédie of Diderot and d'Alembert to the age of Kant i e from the histoire de l'esprit humain animated by the idea of progress to the a priori history of human thought The interest of the philosophes and the Kantians Buhle and Tennemann in the study and the reconstruction of the philosophies of the past was characterized by a spirit that was highly critical but at the same time systematic The material is divided into four large linguistic and cultural areas the French Italian British and German The detailed analysis of the 35 works which can be considered to be general histories of philosophy is preceded and accompanied by lengthy introductions on the historical background and references to numerous other works bordering on philosophical historiography Educating the New Southern Woman

David Gold, Catherine L Hobbs, 2013-12-19 From the end of Reconstruction through World War II a network of public colleges for white women flourished throughout the South Founded primarily as vocational colleges to educate women of modest economic means for life in the emerging new South these schools soon transformed themselves into comprehensive liberal arts industrial institutions proving so popular that they became among the largest women's colleges in the nation In this illuminating volume David Gold and Catherine L Hobbs examine rhetorical education at all eight of these colleges providing a better understanding of not only how women learned to read write and speak in American colleges but also how they used their education in their lives beyond college With a collective enrollment and impact rivaling that of the Seven Sisters the schools examined in this study Mississippi State College for Women 1884 Georgia State College for Women 1889 North Carolina College for Women 1891 Winthrop College in South Carolina 1891 Alabama College for Women 1896 Texas State College for Women 1901 Florida State College for Women 1905 and Oklahoma College for Women 1908 served as important centers of women's education in their states together educating over a hundred thousand students before World War II and contributing to an emerging professional class of women in the South After tracing the establishment and evolution of these institutions Gold and Hobbs explore education in speech arts and public speaking at the colleges and discuss writing instruction setting faculty and departmental goals and methods against larger institutional professional and cultural contexts In addition to covering the various ways the public women's colleges prepared women to succeed in available occupations the authors also consider how women's education in rhetoric and writing affected their career choices the role of race at these schools and the legacy of public women's colleges in relation to the history of women's education and contemporary challenges in the teaching of rhetoric and writing The experiences of students and educators at these institutions speak to important conversations among scholars in rhetoric education women's studies and history By examining these previously unexplored but important institutional sites Educating the New Southern Woman provides a richer and more complex history of women's rhetorical education and experiences

Myth and Authority Alexander U. Bertland, 2022-10-01 Living in a province dominated by powerful oligarchs Giambattista Vico 1668 1744 concluded that political philosophy should work to undermine aristocratic authority and prevent political devolution into feudalism Rejecting the possibility that the free market could successfully instill civil behavior he advocated for a strong central judicial system to work closely with citizens to promote stability and justice This study puts Vico in conversation with other Enlightenment thinkers such as Locke Rousseau and Mandeville to show how his alternative warrants serious consideration In contrast to scholars who read Vico's New Science as a defense of the imagination this study casts his account of poetic wisdom politically as an epistemological critique of the aristocratic mentality Myth and Authority argues that Vico's depiction of pagan religion is a refined attempt to explain how oligarchy maintains its stranglehold on power While Western civilization did not follow the path Vico suggested it may now be more relevant as concerns grow about the increasing influence of the wealthy on civil institutions

Mapping Paradigms in Modern and Contemporary Art Simonetta Moro, 2021-07-29 Mapping Paradigms in Modern and Contemporary Art defines a new cartographic aesthetic or what Simonetta Moro calls carto aesthetics as a key to interpreting specific phenomena in modern and contemporary art through the concept of poetic cartography The problem of mapping although indebted to the spatial turn of poststructuralist philosophy is reconstructed as hermeneutics while exposing the nexus between topology space time and memory The book posits that the emergence of mapping as a ubiquitous theme in contemporary art can be attributed to the power of the cartographic model to constitute multiple worldviews that can be seen as paradigmatic of the post modern and contemporary condition This book will be of particular interest to scholars in art history art theory aesthetics and cartography

Imagination in Politics Mihaela Czobor-Lupp, 2014-10-15 Imagination is a complex and ambiguous culture making

power which while central to politics is a rather marginal concept in contemporary political theory By drawing on works of modern and contemporary Continental political philosophers this book addresses how imagination can be both a source of freedom and domination in liberal democratic politics and argues for a benign public employment of images and narratives in a global world of diverse cultures The challenge is not to keep contemporary politics clear of images but to better distinguish between benign and malign uses of creativity in the public realm This distinction is important because the language employed by the participants in the complex cultural dialogue that characterizes modern plural societies is constituted by metaphors and myths which form their perceptions and sensibilities The embedment of communicative practices in a society's imaginary brings an ambivalent psychological and emotional potential into democratic politics Modern liberal democracies can shift the public employment of imagination either in a direction that increases the autonomous capacity of individuals to engage culture and language in a creative and interactive manner in the construction of their identities or in a direction that increases fascination with images and myths and consequently the escapist desire to pull these out of the living dialogue with others Turning the public work of creativity in the first direction requires a conscious change in the modern social imaginary This can be achieved through the aesthetic cultivation of an ethical productive imagination both analogical and explorative both empathic and reflective While capable of creatively giving utopian impetus to politics this imagination would also stir the individuals responsiveness to the particularity of others and to their capacity to be equal and free partners in the making of a common world An important avenue in achieving this objective in modern liberal democracies will be provided by the capacity of literary works to open up public spaces of dialogue There the renewal of the metaphors and myths that frame individual and collective identities in a society can have transformative effects that increase the individuals ability for cross cultural understanding

Where Writing Begins: A Postmodern Reconstruction (Rhetorical Philosophy and Theory) Michael Carter, 2003

Writing Genres Amy J Devitt, 2008-07-23 In Writing Genres Amy J Devitt examines genre from rhetorical social linguistic professional and historical perspectives and explores genre's educational uses making this volume the most comprehensive view of genre theory today Writing Genres does not limit itself to literary genres or to ideas of genres as formal conventions but additionally provides a theoretical definition of genre as rhetorical dynamic and flexible which allows scholars to examine the role of genres in academic professional and social communities Writing Genres demonstrates how genres function within their communities rhetorically and socially how they develop out of their contexts historically how genres relate to other types of norms and standards in language and how genres nonetheless enable creativity Devitt also advocates a critical genre pedagogy based on these ideas and provides a rationale for first year writing classes grounded in teaching antecedent genres
