Rhetorical Argumentation Principles Of Theory And Practice:

Rhetorical Argumentation Christopher W. Tindale, 2004-05-27 The study of argumentation has primarily focused on logical and dialectical approaches with minimal attention given to the rhetorical facets of argument. Rhetorical Argumentation Principles of Theory and Practice approaches argumentation from a rhetorical point of view and demonstrates how logical and dialectical considerations depend on the rhetorical features of the argumentative situation. Throughout this text, author Christopher W. Tindale identifies how argumentation as a communicative practice can best be understood by its rhetorical features.

Rhetorical Argumentation Christopher William Tindale, 2004 By encouraging readers to think about the ways they encounter arguments, this text presents argumentation through the idea of an invitational rhetoric.

Classical Rhetorical Argumentation for the Rhetorical Critic Mika Hietanen, 2025-07-08 This book offers a reassessment of argumentation in classical rhetoric, foregrounding its rational dimension. Moving beyond introductions, it provides insights from Aristotle, Quintilian, and other ancient thinkers while addressing common misconceptions and offering clarifications that are particularly valuable for the rhetorical critic. Adopting a Scandinavian rhetorical perspective, this book argues that classical rhetoric offers enduring tools for both the analysis and the construction of persuasive argumentation. By bridging theory and practice, it demonstrates how classical rhetoric remains highly relevant while also naturally integrating with analyses that focus on classical concepts such as ethos, pathos, or style, whether through neo-Aristotelian methods or contemporary approaches rooted in the classical rhetorical tradition. Key concepts are explored in dedicated chapters: the art of logos-based argumentation is reassessed, enthymeme and epicheireme structures are examined, and topoi and staseis are discussed in relation to their later developments. A chapter on the centenary of rhetorical criticism traces its evolution from Herbert Wichelns (1925) to today, proposing a new template for the rhetorical critic. This concise yet comprehensive book will interest intermediate and advanced students as well as scholars of rhetoric, argumentation, persuasion, speech, and writing studies.

Argumentation Theory: A Pragma-Dialectical Perspective Frans H. van Eemeren, 2018-07-27 The book offers a compact but comprehensive introductory overview of the crucial components of argumentation theory. In presenting this overview, argumentation is consistently approached from a pragma-dialectical perspective by viewing it pragmatically as a goal-directed communicative activity and dialectically as part of a regulated critical exchange aimed at resolving a difference of opinion. As a result, the book also systematically explains how the constitutive parts of the pragma-dialectical theory of argumentation, which are discussed in a number of separate publications, hang together. The following crucial topics are discussed: 1. argumentation theory as a discipline; 2. the meta-theoretical principles of pragma-dialectics; 3. the model of a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion; 4. fallacies as violations of a code of conduct for reasonable argumentative discourse; 5. descriptive research of argumentative reality; 6. analysis as theoretically motivated reconstruction; 7. strategic manoeuvring aimed at combining achieving effectiveness with maintaining reasonableness 8 the conventionalization of argumentative practices 9 prototypical argumentative patterns 10 pragma dialectics amidst other approaches Argumentation Theory A Pragma Dialectical Perspective is clearly written and makes argumentation theory understandable to all scholars and advanced students interested in argumentation research Marketing, Rhetoric and Control Christopher Miles, 2018-04-19 Marketing Rhetoric and Control investigates the tensions that surround the place of persuasion and more broadly control in marketing Persuasion has variously been seen as an embarrassment to the discipline a target for anti marketing sentiment the source of marketing's value in the modern organisation a mysterious black box inside the otherwise rational and logical endeavour of enterprise and a rather insignificant part of the marketing programme This book argues that this multifarious reputation for persuasion within marketing stems from the influence of two quite oppositional paradigms the scientific and the magico rhetorical that ebb and flow across the discourses of its discipline and practice Constructing an interface between original challenging close readings of texts from the beginnings of the Western rhetorical tradition and an examination of the ways in which marketing has set about describing itself this text argues for a Sophistic interpretation of marketing From this perspective marketing is understood as providing intermediary services to facilitate the continuing exchange of attention and regard between firm client and stakeholders It seeks to manage and direct this exchange through an appreciation of the changing rational and irrational motivations of the firm and stakeholders using these as resources for the construction of both planned and improvised persuasive interactions in agonistic or competitive environments This book is aimed primarily at researchers and academics working in the fields of marketing marketing communications and the related disciplines of marketing theory critical marketing and digital marketing It will also be of value to marketing academics in business schools including those working in the areas of media and communication studies who have an interest in commercial and corporate communication brand use of interactive media and communication theory Renewing Tradition Mark W.

Hamilton, Thomas H. Olbricht, Jeffrey Peterson, 2006-11-10 We offer this collection as a token of our affection and admiration of our friend and colleague James Weldon Thompson His studies of the letter to the Hebrews and of Paul in their intellectual contexts especially Middle Platonism have contributed significantly to the ongoing quest for placing the New Testament in its socio intellectual setting Although his publications in this area date back more than thirty years his best work is occurring now and we may anticipate path breaking contributions ahead His more recent work on preaching and pastoral care in Paul both situate the Apostle in his own world and just as importantly offer correctives of some contemporary ministerial practices and invitations for improvements Since 1993 Thompson has served as the editor of Restoration Quarterly a significant venue for research in biblical studies church history especially of the Stone Campbell Restoration Movement and contemporary theology His more popular works make available to a lay audience thoughtful well informed and spiritually rewarding interpretations of much of the New Testament His achievements however do not end at the printing press For more than thirty years he has taught ministers and others at the Institute for Christian Studies now Austin Graduate School of Theology and Abilene Christian University Students of the past and the present speak of him as a prepared stimulating and creative teacher unafraid of experimentation for a new generation of learners At both institutions he also served as an administrator first as President of ICS and then as Associate Dean of ACU's Graduate School of Theology His colleagues respect his ability to enlist them for work as needed and otherwise to get out of their way certainly a too rare set of skills in university administrators from the Preface

The Logic of Legal Argumentation Marko Novak, 2024-02-26 Multi modal argumentation with its logical emotional visceral and kisceral arguments is an important addition to logical argumentation especially when real life situations are considered It does not discard logic but adds other modes of argumentation to complement it to emphasize the realistic environments of communication In this sense the multi modal theory is important for the area of legal argumentation where even in the reasoning of judicial decisions traces of a flesh and blood personality who decided the case and wrote the reasons can be found This book presents a comprehensive analysis of this informal logic in legal argumentation and its practicality within the law It argues that by building on the dialectical and rhetorical models of legal argument the former being important for clear cases while the latter for unclear ones the multi modal theory of legal argumentation brings together logic and psychology in a holistic or integral perspective The approach is not only descriptive identifying the traces of alternate arguments in judicial decisions but is also normative presenting the criteria for evaluation that multi modal arguments need to face to attain validity in the legal context The work will be of interest to academics and researchers in the areas of Legal Theory Legal Linguistics Philosophy of Law and Communication Studies

Politics and Rhetoric James Martin, 2013-10-08 Rhetoric is the art of speech and persuasion the study of argument and in Classical times an essential component in the education of the citizen For rhetoricians politics is a skill to be performed and not merely observed Yet in modern democracies we often suspect political speech of malign intent and remain uncertain how properly to interpret and evaluate it Public arguments are easily dismissed as mere rhetoric rather than engaged critically with citizens encouraged to be passive consumers of a media spectacle rather than active participants in a political dialogue This volume provides a clear and instructive introduction to the skills of the rhetorical arts It surveys critically the place of rhetoric in contemporary public life and assesses its virtues as a tool of political theory Questions about power and identity in the practices of political communication remain central to the rhetorical tradition how do we know that we are not being manipulated by those who seek to persuade us Only a grasp of the techniques of rhetoric and an understanding of how they manifest themselves in contemporary politics argues the author can guide us in answering these perennial questions Politics and Rhetoric draws together in a comprehensive and highly accessible way relevant ideas from discourse analysis classical rhetoric updated to a modern setting relevant issues in contemporary political theory and numerous carefully chosen examples and issues from current politics It will be essential reading for all students of politics and political communications

Argument Dialectics: The Place of Reasons in Logic Hubert Marraud, 2025-06-12 This book is a systematic exposition of Argument Dialectics (AD) Despite its name argument dialectics is a logical approach to argumentation theory AD stands out among theories of argument because of three unusual features it is reasons based holistic and particularistic This implies that AD conceives of logic as a theory of the dialectical construction of reasons not as a theory of inferences Consequently contrary to other logical approaches AD focuses on the study of inter argumentative relations especially those of opposition and weighing The book makes an extensive use of the theory of reasons a branch of metaethics that has been a very valuable quarry of intuitions and concepts for the elaboration of a reason based theory of argument The oppositions generalism particularism and atomism holism proposed by Jonathan Dancy which play a central role in the book and in the development of AD have been adapted from the theory of reasons and the same can be said of the distinction between different statuses of reasons that AD associates with different kinds of counterarguments Conceiving of the theory of argument in terms of reasons has the effect of situating the paradigm of argumentation in practical argumentation reasoning about what to do rather than in theoretical argumentation about what to believe as inference based theories do Hence this book is of interest to argumentation theorists communication theorists epistemologists linguists moral philosophers and philosophers of law
