Unworking Choreography Frédéric Pouillaude, 2017 There is no archive or museum of human movement no place where choreographies can be collected and conserved in pristine form The central consequence of this is the incapacity of philosophy and aesthetics to think of dance as a positive and empirical art In the eyes of philosophers dance refers to a space other than art considered both more frivolous and more fundamental than the artwork without ever quite attaining the status of a work Unworking Choreography develops this idea and postulates an unworking as evidenced by a conspicuous absence of references to actual choreographic works within philosophical accounts of dance the late development and partial dominance of the notion of the work in dance in contrast to other art forms such as painting music and theatre the difficulties in identifying dance works given a lack of scores and an apparent resistance within the art form to the possibility of notation and the questioning of ends of dance in contemporary practice and the relativisation of the very idea that dance artistic or choreographic processes aim at work production The Art-Work of the Future and Other Works Richard

Wagner, 1993-01-01 Poor frustrated and angered by the fashion mongers and mode purveyors of art Richard Wagner published The Art Work of the Future in 1849 It marked a turning point in his life an appraisal of the revolutionary passions of mid century Europe his farewell to symphonic music and his vision of the music to come Beethoven s Ninth Symphony was unsurpassable he wrote Henceforth The Folk must of necessity be the Artist of the Future and only artists who were in harmony with the Folk could know what harmony was for The essay became a touchstone for Wagner his family friends and followers as he sought to produce works that thoroughly combined music dance drama and national saga In addition to Wagner s epoch defining essay this volume includes his Autobiographical Sketch Art and Climate his libretto for an opera Wieland the Smith and his notorious Art and Revolution The concluding piece A Communication to My Friends 1851 explains his views on his first successes The Flying Dutchman Lohengrin and Tannh user and defines his agenda for later works As spokesman for the future Wagner spoke most of himself In these works he set forth his ambitions identified his enemies and began a campaign for public attention that made him a legend in his own time and in ours Richard Wagner's Prose

International Music and Drama ,1915 The Unification of the Arts Steven Brown, 2021-11-25 What are the arts What functions do the arts serve in human life There has been a surge of cognitive biological and evolutionary interest in the arts in recent years most of it oriented towards individual artforms However there has been virtually no bridging work to integrate the arts under a single theoretical perspective This book presents the first integrated cognitive account of the arts that unites visual art theatre literature dance and music into a single framework with supporting discussions about creativity and aesthetics Its comparative approach identifies both what is unique to each artform and what they share shedding light on how the arts can combine with one another to form syntheses such as choreographing dance movements to music or setting lyrics to music to create a song While studies in the psychology of the arts tend to focus on perceptual processes and aesthetic responses alone this book offers a holistic sensorimotor account that examines the full gamut of processes from creation to perception This allows for a broad discussion of the evolution of the arts including the origins of rhythm the co evolution of music and language the evolution of drawing and cultural evolution of the arts Finally the book unifies a number of topics that have not previously been fully related to one another including theatre and literature music and language creativity and aesthetics dancing and acting and visual art and music A unique volume providing a bold new approach to the integration of the arts for academics or general readers of the arts psychology cognitive neuroscience anthropology and evolutionary studies
