Same Place But Different:

The Prison of Time Elisa Pezzotta, 2022-08-25 We are imprisoned in circadian rhythms as well as in our life reviews that follow chronological and causal links For the majority of us our lives are vectors directed toward aims that we strive to reach and delimited by our birth and death Nevertheless we can still experience fleeting moments during which we forget the past and the future as well as the very flow of time During these intense emotions we burst out laughing or crying or we scream with pleasure or we are mesmerized by a work of art or just by eyes staring at us Similarly when we watch a film the screening time has a well defined beginning and end and screening and diegetic time and their relations together with narrative and stylistic techniques determine a time within the time of our life with its own rules and exceptions Through the close analysis of Stanley Kubrick s Adrian Lyne s Michael Bay s and Quentin Tarantino s oeuvres this book discusses the overall dominating time of their films and the moments during which this ruling time is disrupted and we momentarily forget the run toward the diegetic future suspense or the past curiosity and surprise It is in these very moments as well as in our own lives that the prison of time through which the film is constructed and that is constructed by the film itself crumbles displaying our role as spectators our deepest relations with the film
