Dennis Schaefer, Larry Salvato, 1985-12-23 Fifteen top cinematographers discuss their approaches to filmmaking the films on which they have worked and the techniques they have used to solve specific problems Vision in 3D Environments

Laurence R. Harris, Michael R. M. Jenkin, 2011-07-07 Biological and machine systems exist within a complex and changing three dimensional world We appear to have no difficulty understanding this world but how do we go about forming a perceptual model of it Centred around three key themes depth processing and stereopsis motion and navigation in 3D and natural scene perception this volume explores the latest cutting edge research into the perception of three dimension environments It features contributions from top researchers in the field presenting both biological and computational perspectives Topics covered include binocular perception blur and perceived depth stereoscopic motion in depth and perceiving and remembering the shape of visual space This unique book will provide students and researchers with an overview of ongoing research as well as perspectives on future developments in the field Colour versions of a selection of the figures are available at www.cambridge.org 9781107001756 Voice and Vision: A Creative Approach to Narrative Film and DV Production

Mick Hurbis-Cherrier, 2007-03-13 Voice Vision is a comprehensive manual for the independent filmmakers and film students who want a solid grounding in the tools techniques and processes of narrative film in order to achieve their artistic vision This book includes essential and detailed information on relevant film and digital video tools a thorough overview of the filmmaking stages and the aesthetic considerations for telling a visual story The ultimate goal of this book is to help you develop your creative voice while acquiring the solid practical skills and confidence to use it Unlike many books that privilege raw technical information or the line producing aspects of production Voice Vision places creativity visual expression and cinematic ideas front and center After all every practical decision a filmmaker makes like choosing a location an actor a film stock a focal length a lighting set up an edit point or a sound effect is also an expressive one and should serve the filmmaker's vision Every decision from the largest conceptual choices to the smallest practical solutions has a profound impact on what appears on the screen and how it moves an audience In Practice sidebars throughout Voice Vision connect conceptual aesthetic and technical issues to their application in the real world Some provide a brief analysis of a scene or technique from easily rentable films which illustrate how a specific technology or process is used to support a conceptual narrative or aesthetic choice Others recount common production challenges encountered on real student and professional shoots which will inspire you to be innovative and resourceful when you are solving your own filmmaking challenges

Digital Image Analysis Walter Kropatsch, Horst Bischof, 2006-05-10 The human visual system as a functional unit including the eyes the nervous system and the corresponding parts of the brain certainly ranks among the most important means of human information processing The efficiency of the biological systems is beyond the capabilities of today's technical systems even with the fastest available computer systems However there are areas of application where digital image analysis systems produce acceptable results Systems in these areas solve very specialized tasks they operate in a limited environment and high speed is often not necessary Several factors determine the economical application of technical vision systems cost speed exhibility robu ness functionality and integration with other system components Many of the recent developments in digital image processing and pattern recognition show some of the required achievements Computer vision enhances the capabilities of computer systems in autonomously collecting large amounts of data in extracting relevant information in perceiving its environment and in automatic or semiautomatic operation in this environment The development of computer systems in general shows a steadily increasing need in computational power which comes with decreasing hardware costs

The Visual World in Memory James R. Brockmole,2008-10-07 The book examines how well we remember what we see It pulls together the field with a series of chapters that concisely present the state of the science in all the areas of research

Skin in Psychoanalysis Jorge Ulnik,2020-03-11 Skin in Psychoanalysis is an important theoretical contribution revising several authors starting with Freud in whose writing we can now discover multiple direct or indirect references to the skin It adopts a decidedly complex point of view regarding the skin here the skin as source the skin as object the skin as protection and as a way of entrance as contact and as contagion the skin for two within the relationship with the mother the skin as envelope and as support as a shell presented as second skin as demarcation of individuality as a place of inscription of non verbal memories toxic envelops and so on Also being the result of more than fifteen years of work with dermatologists and patients with skin diseases psoriasis in particular the book can be seen as a serious proposal for interdisciplinary work between dermatologists and psychoanalysts The hospital is a place where both tragedies and miracles occur where many people go to heal but many others go in search for punishment
