

Sentimental attachments to the past have been keeping portions of life alive that should have been re-formed into higher expression.

The predictability of the past makes it seem benign, but bringing the past into the present creates apathy and mediocrity.

Research Into Translation and Training in Arab Academic Institutions Said M. Shiyab, 2021-07-29 Research Into Translation and Training in Arab Academic Institutions provides insights into the current issues and challenges facing in service and trainee Arabic translators and interpreters both professionally and academically This book addresses translators status roles and structures It also provides Arab perspectives on translation and translation training written by scholars representing academic institutions across the Arab world Themes in this collection include training terminologists on managing promoting and marketing terms corpora and translation teaching in the Arab world use of translation technologies translators training and translators methodologies and assessment of translators competence research on translator training and the status quo of undergraduate translation programs in a sample of five Arab universities A valuable resource for students professionals and scholars of Arabic translation and interpreting Literary Passion, Ideological Commitment Dawn Duke, 2008 This study examines Afro Cuban and Afro Brazilian women writers as well as analysing the roles of women of African descent in Cuban and Brazilian literature Initially literary imagination locked women into circumscribed roles a result of hierarchies embedded in slavery and colonialism and sustained by hierarchical theories on race and gender The discussion illustrates how these negative aspects have influenced the mainstream literary imagination that contrasts with the self portrayals created by women writers themselves Even as there continues to be disadvantageous constructions there is no doubt that a modification has occurred over time in images representation and articulation It is a change directly associated with the instances when women themselves are the writers The historiographic image of the Afro Cuban and Afro Brazilian woman as a written object is ideologically replaced by a vision of her as a writing subject It is here that the vision of a creative multifaceted and diversified literature becomes important AdI, 1983 Dramatic essays, selected [from A view of the English stage] and ed., with notes and an intr., by W. Archer and R.W. Lowe William Hazlitt, 1895 The Negro in Brazilian Fiction Since 1888 Gregory Rabassa, 1974 The Eruption of Insular Identities Brianna Medeiros, 2020-06-21 The Eruption of Insular Identities explores themes common to the literatures of the Azores and Cape Verde two isolated archipelagos in the former Portuguese empire but contemporaneously in the Portuguese speaking world In the 1930s writers from both archipelagos initiated projects to explore acorianidade and caboverdianidade firmly placing narratives within their respective regional spaces a tradition that would be continued by following generations Despite vast differences in the realities in the two archipelagos in terms of race and politics the insularity lent itself to two bodies of literature with striking similarities The authors aim is to set out these similarities as a means to understanding the differences in rhetoric and treatment of this commonality Earlier scholarly work has suggested the comparison but this book is the first extensive study comparing the literatures of the two archipelagos Within the field of Lusophone studies the study of Lusophone African literatures are gaining international literary appeal Cape Verdean writer Germano Almeida won the Premio Camoes in 2018 one of the most prestigious awards for Portuguese language authors His work is explored extensively in the volume The Eruption of Insular Identities provides a perspective on Cape Verdean literature that brings to the fore the nations social reality and literary production its individual insularity which distances it from most of the other Lusophone African nations And it provides an in depth comparison to the second region under study the Azores Dramatic Essays Lowe,1896
