Marcus Baynes-Rock, 2020-03-19 Across the world animals are being domesticated at an unprecedented rate and scale But what exactly is domestication and what does it tell us about ourselves In this book Marcus Baynes Rock seeks the common thread linking stories about the domestication of Australia's native animals arguing that domestication is part of a process by which late modernity threatens to undo the world In a deeply personal account the author tells of his encounters with crocodiles and emus behind fences dingoes and kangaroos crossing boundaries and native bees producing honey in his suburban backyard Drawing on comparisons between Aboriginal and colonial Australians Baynes Rock reveals how the domestication of Australia's fauna is a process of unmaking As an extension of late modernity the connections that tie humans and other animals to wider ecologies are being severed threatening to isolate us and our domesticates from the rest of the world It is here that Baynes Rock reveals a key difference between Aboriginal and colonial Australian modes of landscape management while one is focused on a systemic approach and sees humans as integral to ecological integrity the other seeks to sever domesticates from ecological processes The question that emerges is How might we reconfigure and maintain these connections without undoing humanity Written in the author's characteristically frank passionate and humorous style Crocodile Undone takes the reader on a journey across both physical and philosophical landscapes This fascinating narrative will appeal to anyone interested in the vital connections between humans and animals Coordinating Constructions Martin Haspelmath, 2004-07-29 This is the first book on coordinating constructions that adopts a broad cross linguistic perspective Coordination has been studied intensively in English and other major European languages but we are only beginning to understand the range of variation that is found world wide This volume consists of a number of general studies as well as fourteen case studies of coordinating constructions in languages or groups of languages Africa Iraqw Fongbe Hausa the Caucasus Daghestanian Tsakhur Chechen the Middle East Persian and other Western Iranian languages Southeast Asia Lai Karen Indonesian the Pacific Lavukaleve Oceanic Nl mwa and the Americas Upper Kuskokwim Athabaskan A detailed introductory chapter summarizes the main results of the volume and situates them in the context of other relevant current research Endangered Languages of Austronesia Margaret Florey, 2010 This book explores the challenges to linguistic vitality confronting many minority languages in the highly diverse and geographically far flung Austronesian language family The contributions bring together Indigenous language activists and academic researchers with a long standing commitment to language documentation Nunggubuyu Dictionary Jeffrey Heath, 1982 Nunggubuyu English dictionary with English Nunggubuyu index and thesaurus notes on lexicon style ethnobotany tape catalogue place names maps of mythical events The Language of Hunter-Gatherers Tom Güldemann, Patrick McConvell, Richard A. Rhodes, 2020-02-27 Offers a linguistic window into contemporary hunter gatherer societies looking at how they survive and interface with agricultural and industrial societies Routledge Library Editions: Linguistics Various, 2021-12-02 Routledge Library Editions Linguistics brings together as one set mini sets or individual volumes a series of previously out of print classics from a variety of academic imprints With titles ranging from Applied Linguistics and Language Learning to Experimental Psycholinguistics and Sociolinguistics Today International Perspectives this set provides in one place a wealth of important reference sources from a wide range of authors expert in the field The Emergence of Pidgin and Creole Languages Jeff Siegel, 2008-02-28 This book provides explanations for the emergence of contact languages especially pidgins and creoles It assesses the current state of research and examines aspects of current theories and approaches that have excited much controversy and debate The book answers questions such as How valid is the notion of a pidgin creole postcreole life cycle Why are many features of pidgins and creoles simple in formal terms compared to other languages And what is the origin of the grammatical innovations in expanded pidgins and creoles linguistic universals conventional language change the influence of features of languages in the contact environment or a mix of two or more factors In addressing these issues the author looks at research on processes of second language acquisition and use including simplification overgeneralization and language transfer He shows how these processes can account for many of the characteristics of contact languages and proposes linguistic and sociolinguistic constraints on their application in language contact His analysis is supported with detailed examples and case studies from Pidgin Fijian Melanesian Pidgin Hawai i Creole New Caledonian Tayo and Australian Kriol which he uses as well to assess the merits of competing theories of language genesis Professor Siegel also considers his research s wider implications for linguistic theory
