Nurtured By Knowledge Learning To Do Participatory Actionresearch:

Nurtured by Knowledge Susan Elizabeth Smith, Dennis George Willms, Nancy Arbutnot Johnson, 1997 This book describes the struggle to build on a twenty five year approach to democratic social change and personal growth known as participatory action research PAR It based on the principle that people have a universal right to participate the production of knowledge that directly affects their lives The heart of the book is a series of compelling case studies of PAR and attempts to achieve it in such diverse places as Canada India Africa and Latin America The final chapter analyzes lessons from these case studies and explores the principles and evolving processes of the PAR methodology in striving to satisfy the need for liberation and recovery of community Back cover

Doing Ethnography Charlene Elizabeth Miall, Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir, 2005 Doing Ethnography is an essential text for courses in ethnography research methods qualitative emphasis applied sociology and related subjects across Canada This unique volume first considers the merits of qualitative research profiles interviewing strategies and discusses the relationships to respondents and how to write about social life The second portion of Doing Ethnography contains three sections constructing perspectives constructing identities as well as doing and relating Case studies and original research are featured throughout The editors Dorothy Pawluch William Shaffir and Charlene Miall emphasize the importance of studying social interaction In truth any question about society big or small is ultimately about people interacting with each other Whether the issue is changing gender relationships corporate deeds and misdeeds class structures or the school performance of children from cultural minorities it all comes down to one thing people doing things together

From Subjects to Subjectivities Deborah L. Tolman, Mary Brydon-Miller, 2001 From Subject to Subjectivities profiles the recent debates about the role of qualitative and participatory methods in psychology a discipline which has traditionally seen itself as a form of positivistic science Contributors explain how fundamentally different views of the nature of reality and of scientific theory have shaped these debates and how psychology is being transformed through the use of these methods At the heart of the book are 10 exemplars of interpretive and participatory action research which describe the rationale for and process of using these methods in actual cases They also articulate some of the challenges psychologists may face in adopting them offering insights into how these complications can be successfully negotiated Relevant beyond psychology the models provided can be used within the context of a wide array of social science disciplines from sociology and anthropology to women s studies and public health The contributors represent a veritable who s who of qualitative scholars including Lyn Mikel Brown Larry Davidson Michelle Fine Louise Kidder M Brinton Lykes Jeanne Marecek Abigail Stewart and Niobe Way No previous book has examined qualitative and participatory methods specifically within the context of psychology From Subjects to Subjectivities provides a unique and badly needed resource for those interested in learning about the practice of these methods in the field

Moving Health Sovereignty in Africa Andrew F. Cooper, Hany Besada, 2016-04-15 Today's era of intense globalization has unleashed dynamic movements of people pathogens and pests that overwhelm the static territorial jurisdictions on which the governance provided by sovereign states and their formal intergovernmental institutions is based. This world of movement calls for new ideas and institutions to govern people's health above all in Africa where the movements and health challenges are the most acute. This book insightfully explores these challenges in ways that put the perspectives of Africans themselves at centre stage. It begins with the long central and still compelling African health challenge of combating the pandemic of HIV/AIDS. It then examines the global governance responses by the major multilateral organizations of the World Bank and the World Trade Organization and the newer informal flexible democratically oriented ones of the Group of Eight. It also addresses the compounding health challenge created by climate change to assess both its intensifying impact on Africa and how all international institutions have largely failed to link climate and health in their governance response. It concludes with several recommendations about the innovative ideas and institutions that offer a way to closing the great global governance gaps and thus improving Africans' health and that of citizens beyond.

Researching Real-World Problems Zina O'Leary, 2005-11-04

This is the perfect book for any student new to Research Methods. It is brilliantly written, witty and always easy to understand. Taking as her starting point the need for students to conduct research for themselves in the real world, Zina O'Leary guides those new to research through the whys and how-tos of the entire research process. Always student-focused, this book offers a hands-on and practical guide to the research process from the initial process of coming up with a good question via methods of gathering information through to the writing process itself. Researching Real-World Problems makes the entire research process a meaningful experience. Provides a jargon-busting hands-on guide to the entire research process. Is illustrated throughout with real-life examples. Speaks directly to the needs of the new researcher. Locates the researcher and research process at heart of a complex web of social structures. O'Leary draws her examples from the full range of the Social Sciences and this is the perfect text for any student in Health Education or Applied Social Science.

Emancipated Education

Azhar Ibrahim, 2022-12-06. The obsession with world rankings and vocational training has turned universities into factories for the production of students and publications. Teaching plays second fiddle to research output normally circulated within a small circle of experts to be validated or condemned to the abyss, leading to the justifiable charge that universities are ivory towers. In Emancipated Education, Dr Azhar Ibrahim's call to reclaim the space of what he calls the educative front as a site for emancipation is timely and urgent. Channelling the thoughts of giants like Paulo Freire and N. F. S. Grundtvig, the book articulates the higher purpose of higher education. It serves to re-humanise the human process of learning that we may have harmed. Dr Nazry Bahrawi, literary and cultural critic, co-founder of the Bras Basah Open School for Theory and Philosophy. Dr Azhar's book is a detour around the current climate of global education which tends to celebrate rankings at the expense of empowerment and humanisation. He clearly shows that education should be a combative front against any establishment without having to succumb to dogmatic power through a combination of reason, ethics, conscience and spirituality. For him, education is not just a ladder for immediate gains but is also supposed to be a part of supra-structure to ensure social justice.

Emancipated Education is a must read book for teachers lecturers and education policy makers alike who wish to recharge their intellectual spirits Dr Achmad Uzair Fauzan Director of the Office for International Affairs Sunan Kalijaga State Islamic University Yogyakarta Tourism, Recreation, and Sustainability Stephen F. McCool,R. Neil Moisey,2008 This book is designed to illustrate many of the issues and approaches associated with sustainable tourism development policy and research Included are case studies of tourism development using both quantitative and qualitative methods analytical frameworks for managing tourism and chapters addressing critical questions about the relationship between tourism and sustainability goals As a whole the book demonstrates the many dimensions and topics associated with attempts to address the complex issues associated with sustainability and tourism Added in this second edition are several new chapters that address emerging issues in management of tourism Part I Frameworks and Approaches discusses the need for integration of social and environmental issues in tourism development Part II Tourism and Place explicitly recognizes the importance of understanding the values and attributes of areas that become tourist destinations Part III Emerging Issues in Culture and Tourism illustrates that we live in a dynamic world that what was once acceptable is no longer that our mental models of tourism development are in constant change and that researchers and policy makers must be alert to shifting public values and beliefs This part includes material on local attitudes poverty alleviation indigenous people and tourism and a discussion about culture and tourism The book has 16 chapters and a subject index Real-life Dilemmas in Moral Education Vishalache Balakrishnan,2011 The purpose of this book is to contribute to contemporary debates about alternative ways of teaching Moral Education in Malaysia by including the voice of students Moral Education in the Malaysian setting is both complex and compulsory This book explores alternatives to the current somewhat dated approach It seeks to discover what young adolescents describe as moral dilemmas how they approach them and what they find useful in resolving these moral problems Indigenous Screen Cultures in Canada Sigurjon Baldur Hafsteinsson,Marian Bredin,2010-09-01 Indigenous media challenges the power of the state erodes communication monopolies and illuminates government threats to Indigenous cultural social economic and political sovereignty Its effectiveness in these areas however is hampered by government control of broadcast frequencies licensing and legal limitations over content and ownership Indigenous Screen Cultures in Canada explores key questions surrounding the power and suppression of Indigenous narrative and representation in contemporary Indigenous media Focussing primarily on the Aboriginal Peoples Television Network the authors also examine Indigenous language broadcasting in radio television and film Aboriginal journalism practices audience creation within and beyond Indigenous communities the roles of program scheduling and content acquisition policies in the decolonization process the roles of digital video technologies and co production agreements in Indigenous filmmaking and the emergence of Aboriginal cyber communities Qualitative Inquiry in TESOL K. Richards,2003-08-19 Graduate and professional TESOL students will welcome this research methods textbook for undertaking qualitative naturalistic and action research projects

Uniquely the book offers a three level structured progression suited both to novice and intermediate students with a focus on development as classroom teachers of English and to advanced students engaged in academic research work in applied linguistics Every chapter is structured to develop the important skills for undertaking QI in a rigorous and serious way at whatever level is appropriate for the reader s purpose The book is both scholarly in approach and written in an engagingly direct and clear style Where Music Helps: Community Music Therapy in Action and Reflection Cochavit

Elefant, Mercédès Pavlicevic, Dr Gary Ansdell, Professor Brynjulf Stige, 2013-06-28 This book explores how people may use music in ways that are helpful for them especially in relation to a sense of wellbeing belonging and participation The central premise for the study is that help is not a decontextualized effect that music produces The book contributes to the current discourse on music culture and society and it is developed in dialogue with related areas of study such as music sociology ethnomusicology community psychology and health promotion Where Music Helps describes the emerging movement that has been labelled Community Music Therapy and it presents ethnographically informed case studies of eight music projects localized in England Israel Norway and South Africa The various chapters of the book portray music s help in action within a broad range of contexts with individuals groups and communities all of whom have been challenged by illness or disability social and cultural disadvantage or injustice Music and musicing has helped these people find their voice literally and metaphorically to be welcomed and to welcome to be accepted and to accept to be together in different and better ways to project alternative messages about themselves or their community and to connect with others beyond their immediate environment The overriding theme that is explored is how music comes to afford things in concert with its environments which may suggest a way of accounting for the role of music in music therapy without reducing music to a secondary role in relation to the therapeutic that is being just a symbol of psychological states a stimulus or a text reflecting socio cultural content
