

A collage of various historical and artistic images, including a large fire, a group of people, a grid of small illustrations, a landscape, and a person in a blue dress, set against a background of faint, stylized text. The collage is composed of several rectangular images of different sizes and orientations. At the top left is a large, intense fire with bright orange and yellow flames. To its right is a painting of a group of people in a landscape. Below the fire is a painting of a person in a blue dress. To the right of the fire is a grid of small, colorful illustrations. Below the grid is a landscape painting of a body of water and distant hills. To the right of the grid is a painting of a person in a blue dress. The background of the collage is a light beige color with faint, stylized text in a serif font, including the words "a custom publication" at the bottom.

Retrieving American Past:

Retrieving the American Past, 2001      The American Journey: Derived from retrieving the American past, 1998      Retrieving the Past Joe D. Seger, 1996      Retrieving the American Past: Nicholas Bloom, 2009      Retrieving the American Past, 2000      Retrieving Bones William Daniel Ehrhart, Philip K. Jason, 1999 Many of the twelve stories and fifty poems assembled in Retrieving Bones have long been out of print and are almost impossible to find in any other source. The editors have enhanced this collection by providing maps, a chronology of the Korean War, and annotated lists of novels, works of nonfiction, and films. In a detailed introduction, Ehrhart and Jason discuss the milestones of the Korean War and place each fiction writer and poet represented into historical and literary contexts.      Retrieving the American Past Bart Hayward, 1998      Retrieving the Human Rebecka Rutledge Fisher, Jay Garcia, 2014-08-25 An interdisciplinary consideration of Paul Gilroy's contributions to cultural theory and understandings of modernity. In the more than twenty years since the publication of his book The Black Atlantic, Paul Gilroy has become a leading Afro-European intellectual whose work in the cultural studies of race has influenced a number of fields and made the study of black Atlantic literatures and cultures an enduring part of the humanities. The essays in this collection examine the full trajectory of Gilroy's work, looking beyond The Black Atlantic to consider also his work in the intervening years, focusing in particular on his investigations of contemporary black life in the United States, histories of human rights, and the politics of memory and empire in contemporary Britain. With an essay by Gilroy himself extending his longstanding examination of fascism, racial thinking, and European philosophical thought, in addition to an interview with Gilroy, this volume features Gilroy's own words alongside other scholars' alternative conceptualizations and critical rereadings of his works.      Retrieving the American Past Paul Bishop, 2007      The American History Highway: A Guide to Internet Resources on U.S., Canadian, and Latin American History Dennis A. Trinkle, 2020-10-28 This brand new addition to the acclaimed History Highway series is essential for anyone conducting historical research on North Central or South America. Complete with a CD with live links to sites, it directs users to the best and broadest, most current information on U.S., Canadian, and Latin American history available on the Internet. The American History Highway provides detailed, easy-to-use information on more than 1,700 websites, covers all periods of U.S., Canadian, and Latin American history, features new coverage of Hispanic American and Asian American history, includes chapters on environmental history, immigration history, and document collections. All site information is current and up-to-date; includes a CD of the entire contents with live links to sites; just install the disc, go online, and link directly to the sites; and also provides a practical introduction to web-based research for students and history buffs of all ages.      Retrieving the American Past Pearson Prentice Hall, Prentice Hall PTR, 2000-07      Retrieving Women's History S. J. Kleinberg, 1992-08-26 Edited by S. Jay Kleinberg, this volume investigates the role played by women in ancient, more recent, and contemporary history and demonstrates that taking into account the activities of women radically alters the perspectives of historians.      Retrieving

Comblin, 2003-08-26 All roads in the church lead to humankind Pope John Paul II wrote in his first encyclical But what is it to be a human being And what vision does Christian theology offer for being and becoming human In the past theology has taken the role of the dominant ideology in a society claiming to present a complete vision of humankind and its place in creation Now Comblin argues we need to reestablish the primacy of the biblical message and tradition being lived today The Bible espouses a non idealized non individualized but realistic and communitarian view of what it means to be human This can be called the humanity of the two thirds world those whose humanity does not figure in the ideology of the privileged few As Comblin writes The privileged forget their bodies Those who have never been truly hungry do not understand that a human being is first and foremost a being who needs to eat Today it is the poor who live through their bodies and theology makes an option for the poor A new model of theology is emerging from Christian communities growing up all over the globe And yet it is an old model too that finds and takes much from the communities of the first Christians Retrieving the Human explores this new yet old vision examining questions of the new person and personhood soul and body humankind in relation to space and time the person in relation to science technology and work humanity before God It is among the poor particularly in the base communities that Comblin looks for models of being truly human today
