Return Of Felix Nogara 1st Edition:

One Island, Many Voices Eduardo R. del Rio, 2022-04-12 Cuban American writers have been studied primarily within the context of Latino literature as a whole. Seeing a need to distinguish and define this unique literary perspective, Eduardo del Rio selected twelve important well-known authors and conducted interviews. He chose writers who were born in Cuba but have lived in the United States for a significant amount of time and whose works include themes he considers elemental to Cuban American literature: identity, duality, memory, and exile. But rather than a cohesive homogeneous group, these conversations unveiled a kaleidoscope of individuality, style, and motive. The authors' bonds to Cuba inform their creative work in vastly different ways, and attempts to categorize their similarities only highlight the range of character and experience within this assemblage of talented writers. From playwright Dolores Prida to author and literary critic Gustavo Pérez Firmat, these voices run the gamut of both genre and personality. In addition to the essential facts of literary accomplishment, the interviews include a wealth of insight into each writer's history, motivations, concerns, and relationship to language. These personal details serve to humanize and illuminate the unique circumstances and realities that have shaped both the authors and their work. What del Rio has ultimately brought together is a series of intimate sketches that will not only serve as an important reference for any discussion of the literature but will also help readers to develop for themselves a sense of what Cuban American writing is and what it is not.

Herrera, 2012-02-01 In Cuba, internationally renowned artists, philosophers, and writers reflect on the idea of a nation displaced. Featuring contributions from Isabel Alvarez Borland, Antonio Benítez Rojo, María Cristina García, William Navarrete, Eliana Rivero, Rafael Rojas, and Carlos Victoria, as well as many others, Cuba is a rich collection of essays, testimonials, and interviews that reveal the complex, often antagonistic cultural and political debates coexisting within the Cuban exile population. As a multivoiced text, Cuba formulates a deeper understanding of diasporic identity and broadens the discussion of the manner in which Cuban cultural identity and nationhood have been constructed, negotiated, and transformed by physical and cultural displacement.

Identity, Memory, and Diaspora Jorge J. E. Gracia, Lynette M. F. Bosch, Isabel Alvarez Borland, 2009-01-08 This fascinating volume contains interviews with nineteen prominent Cuban American artists, writers, and philosophers who tell their stories and share what they consider important for understanding their work. Struggling with issues of Cuban American identity in particular and social identity in general, they explore such questions as how they see themselves, how they have dealt with the diaspora, and their memories of what they have done to find a proper place in their adopted country and how their work has been influenced by the experience. Their answers reveal different perspectives on art, literature, and philosophy and the different challenges encountered personally and professionally. The interviews are gathered into three groups nine artists six writers and four philosophers An introductory essay for each group is included and the interviews are accompanied by brief biographical notes along with samples of the work of those interviewed G.K.
