Rhetoric And Irony Western Literacy And Western Lies:

Rhetoric and Irony C. Jan Swearingen, 1991 This pathbreaking study integrates the histories of rhetoric literacy and literary aesthetics up to the time of Augustine focusing on Western concepts of rhetoric as dissembling and of language as deceptive that Swearingen argues have received curiously prominent emphasis in Western aesthetics and language theory Swearingen reverses the traditional focus on rhetoric as an oral agonistic genre and examines it instead as a paradigm for literate discourse She proposes that rhetoric and literacy have in the West disseminated the interrelated notions that through learning rhetoric individuals can learn to manipulate language and others that language is an unreliable manipulable and contingent vehicle of thought meaning and communication and that literature is a body of pretty lies and beguiling fictions In a bold concluding chapter Swearingen aligns her thesis concerning early Western literacy and rhetoric with contemporary critical and rhetorical theory with feminist studies in language psychology and culture and with studies of literacy in multi and cross cultural settings

"Guiguzi," China's First Treatise on Rhetoric Guiguzi, 2016-08-19 This pre Qin dynasty recluse produced what is considered the earliest Chinese treatise devoted entirely to the art of persuasion Called Guiguzi after its author the text provides an indigenous rhetorical theory and key persuasive strategies some of which are still used by those involved in decision making and negotiations in China today In Guiguzi China's First Treatise on Rhetoric Hui Wu and C Jan Swearingen present a new critical translation of this foundational work which has great historical significance for the study of Chinese rhetoric and communication and yet is little known to Western readers

The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric Lynée Lewis Gaillet, Winifred Bryan Horner, 2010-03-15 Through two previous editions The Present State of Scholarship in Historical and Contemporary Rhetoric has not only introduced new scholars to interdisciplinary research but also become a standard research tool in a number of fields and pointed the way toward future study Adopting research methodologies of revision and recovery this latest edition includes all new material while still following the format of the original and is constructed around bibliographical surveys of both primary and secondary works addressing the Classical Medieval Renaissance and eighteenth through twentieth century periods within the history of rhetoric The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric doesn't simply update but rather recasts study in the history of rhetoric The authors experienced and well known scholars in their respective fields redefine existing strands of rhetorical study within the periods expand the scope of rhetorical engagement and include additional figures and their works The globalization and expansion of rhetoric are demonstrated in each of these parts and seen clearly in the inclusion of more female rhetors discussions of historical and contemporary electronic resources and examinations of rhetorical practices falling outside the academy and the traditional canon New to this edition is a cumulative review of twentieth century rhetoric along with a thematic index designed to facilitate interdisciplinary or specialized study and scholarly research across the traditional historical periods As programs incorporating rhetorical studies continue to expand at the university level students and researchers are in need of up to date bibliographical resources No other work matches the scope and approach of The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric which carries scholarship on rhetoric into the twenty first century the Twenty-first Century Lynn Z. Bloom, Donald A. Daiker, Edward Michael White, 1997 The essays in this book stemming from a national conference of the same name focus on the single subject required of nearly all college students composition Despite its pervasiveness and its significance composition has an unstable status within the curriculum Writing programs and writing faculty are besieged by academic political and financial concerns that have not been well understood or addressed At many institutions composition functions paradoxically as both the gateway to academic success and as the gatekeeper reducing access to academic work and opportunity for those with limited facility in English Although writing programs are expected to provide services that range from instruction in correct grammar to assisting or resisting political correctness expanding programs and shrinking faculty get caught in the crossfire The bottom line becomes the firing line as forces outside the classroom determine funding and seek to define what composition should do In search of that definition the contributors ask and answer a series of specific and salient questions What implications intellectual political and institutional will forces outside the classroom have on the quality and delivery of composition in the twenty first century How will faculty and administrators identify and address these issues What policies and practices ought we propose for the century to come This book features sixteen position papers by distinguished scholars and researchers in composition and rhetoric most of the papers are followed by invited responses by other notable compositionists In all twenty five contributors approach composition from a wide variety of contemporary perspectives rhetorical historical social cultural political intellectual economic structural administrative and developmental They propose solutions applicable to pedagogy research graduate training of composition teachers academic administration and public and social policy In a very real sense then this is the only book to offer a map to the future of composition

Between Politics and Ethics James N. Comas, 2006 Between Politics and Ethics traces the development of politics and ethics in contemporary English studies questions the current political orientation of the discipline and proposes a rethinking of the history of English studies based on a vocative dimension of writing the idea that writers form a virtual community by calling to and listening to other writers

Women's Ways of Making Maureen Daly Goggin, Shirley K Rose, 2021-04-21 Women s Ways of Making draws attention to material practices those that the hands perform as three epistemologies an episteme a techne and a phronesis that together give pointed consideration to making as a rhetorical embodied endeavor Combined these epistemologies show that making is a form of knowing that episteme knowing how techne and wisdom making phronesis Since the Enlightenment embodied knowledge creation has been overlooked ignored or disparaged as inferior to other forms of expression or thinking that seem to leave the material world behind Privileging the hand over the eye as the work in this collection does thus problematizes the way in which the eye has been co opted by thinkers as the mind s tool of investigation Contributors to this volume argue that other senses touch taste smell hearing are keys to knowing one s materials Only when all these ways of knowing are engaged can making be understood as a rhetorical practice In Women s Ways of Making contributors explore ideas of making

Many Sides: A Protagorean Approach to the Theory, Practice and Pedagogy of Argument M. Mendelson, 2013-06-29 Many Sides is the first full length study of Protagorean antilogic an argumentative practice with deep roots in rhetorical history and renewed relevance for contemporary culture Founded on the philosophical relativism of Protagoras antilogic is a dynamic rather than a formal approach to argument focused principally on the dialogical interaction of opposing positions anti logoi in controversy In ancient Athens antilogic was the cardinal feature of Sophistic rhetoric In Rome Cicero redefined Sophistic argument in a concrete set of dialogical procedures In turn Quintilian inherited this dialogical tradition and made it the centrepiece of his own rhetorical practice and pedagogy Many Sides explores the history theory and pedagogy of this neglected rhetorical tradition and by appeal to recent rhetorical and philosophical theory reconceives the enduring features of antilogical practice in a dialogical approach to argumentation especially suited to the pluralism of our own age and the diversity of modern classrooms

Intentions Arabella Lyon, 1998-09-15 The relationship between an author's and an audience's intentions is complex but need not preclude mutual engagement This philosophical investigation challenges existing literary and rhetorical perspectives on intention and offers a new framework for understanding the negotiation of meaning It describes how an audience's intentions affect their interpretations shows how audiences negotiate meaning when faced with a writer's undecipherable intentions and defines the scope of understanding within rhetorical situations Introducing a concept of intention into literary analysis that supersedes existing rhetorical theory Arabella Lyon shows how the rhetorics of I A Richards Wayne Booth and Stanley Fish as well as the hermeneutics of Hans Georg Gadamer fail to account for the complex interactions of author and audience Using Kenneth Burke's concepts of form motive and purpose she builds a more complex notion of intention than those usually found in literary studies then employs her theory to describe how philosophers read Wittgenstein's narratives metaphors and reversals in argument Lyon argues that our differences in intention prevent consistency in interpretations but do not stop our discussions deliberations and actions She seeks to acknowledge difference and the communicative problems it creates while demonstrating that difference is normal and does not end our engagement with each other Intentions combines recent work in philosophy literary criticism hermeneutics and rhetoric in a highly imaginative way to construct a theory of intention for a postmodern rhetoric It recovers and renovates central concepts in rhetorical theory not only intention but also deliberation politics and judgment

Hierarchy, Unity, and Imitation Joseph A. Marchal, 2006 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field Key Features Brings together scholars from across the disciplines of Speech Communication English and Writing Studies While rhetoric is by definition interdisciplinary self identified scholars in the field are most often institutionally separated from one another This Handbook bridges this divide by providing a refreshing range of transdisciplinary views on the nature status definition and scope of rhetoric today Offers a thorough going overview of rhetorical studies today Organized in four sections Historical Studies in Rhetoric Rhetoric Across the Disciplines Rhetoric and Pedagogy and Rhetoric and Public Discourse the volume provides a single resource for engaging rhetorical studies Underscores the importance of rhetoric to education across a wide range of disciplines as well as to effective participation in public arenas Thus the volume connects rhetoric s long teaching tradition to an activist agenda for informed civic engagement Addresses methodological and theoretical difficulties and offers means of negotiating them Provides one of the first introductions to rhetorical studies across cultures and to the related debates concerning comparative and contrastive rhetorics
