career is his close involvement with so many of the major international literary groupings of his time. In the South East of England at the fin de siècle he collaborated for a decade with Joseph Conrad and befriended Henry James and H G Wells. In Edwardian London he founded the English Review publishing these writers alongside his new discoveries Ezra Pound, D H Lawrence and Wyndham Lewis. After the war he moved to France founding the transatlantic review in Paris taking on Hemingway as a sub editor, discovering another generation of Modernists such as Jean Rhys and Basil Bunting and publishing them alongside Joyce and Gertrude Stein. He spent more time in America from the later 1920s spending time with Southern Agrarians and poets such as William Carlos Williams, Charles Olson and Robert Lowell. He was always a tireless promoter of younger writers, reading manuscripts and recommending them to publishers. This book takes Ford's literary contacts to include such creative friendships, editorial involvements and influential biographical encounters and they form the most substantial central section on Contemporaries and Contemporaries covering figures like Proust, Carlos Williams, Rebecca West, Herbert Read and Hemingway. But it also explores contacts with literary texts. The first section on Predecessors considers the impact of Ford's reading of Trollope, George Eliot and Turgenev. The final section discusses Successors, writers such as Graham Greene, Burgess and A S Byatt whose literary contacts with Ford have been as his admiring readers and eloquent critics. Ford has been described as a writer's writer. This volume reveals how true that has been and in how many ways as it sheds new light on his relationships with other writers, both familiar and surprising. It includes two pieces published here for the first time: one by Ford himself on Turgenev, the other a memoir about Ford by his contemporary Marie Belloc Lowndes, the sister of Hilaire Belloc.
