reading and are likely to remain so for at least another century Sutherland presents these authors in chronological order in each case deftly combining a lively and informative biographical sketch with an opinionated assessment of the writer's work Taken together these novelists provide both a history of the novel and a guide to its rich variety Always entertaining and sometimes shocking Sutherland considers writers as diverse as Daniel Defoe Henry James James Joyce Edgar Allan Poe Virginia Woolf Michael Crichton Jeffrey Archer and Jacqueline Susann Written for all lovers of fiction Lives of the Novelists succeeds both as introduction and re introduction as Sutherland presents favorite and familiar novelists in new ways and transforms the less favored and less familiar through his relentlessly fascinating readings

Field and Hedgerow Richard Jefferies, 2019-11-29 In Field and Hedgerow Richard Jefferies masterfully weaves a tapestry of rural life in Victorian England through a lyrical exploration of nature This collection of essays captivates readers with its vivid descriptions and profound insights into the English countryside Jefferies employs a reflective and observational literary style merging Romantic ideals with burgeoning environmental awareness The text resonates with the pastoral tradition artfully blending personal reflection and natural history inviting readers to perceive the beauty and intricacies of the flora and fauna that populate his world Richard Jefferies 1848-1887 was a prominent English writer and naturalist whose deep connection to the countryside profoundly shaped his literary work Growing up in a rural setting Jefferies's experiences as a farmer's son informed his passion for nature and preservation compelling him to explore themes of rural existence against the backdrop of industrialization and urban change His early work reflects a genuine admiration for the countryside and Field and Hedgerow serves as a culmination of his thoughts on the significance of nature For readers yearning for a richly textured account of the rural landscape Field and Hedgerow offers a poignant meditation on nature's rhythms and its place within human life This book is essential for anyone seeking to deepen their understanding of the complexities of the English countryside and the disconnect between humanity and nature an issue still relevant today

The Rural Tradition William J. Keith, 1974-12-15 There is probably no single quality or characteristic besides love of the countryside that must inevitably distinguish a rural writer notes W J Keith However what distinguishes rural writing that belongs to literature from that belonging to natural history agricultural history etc is as Richard E Haymaker has observed the writer's means of revealing Nature as well as describing her In the final analysis the rural essayist paints neither landscapes nor self portraits instead he communicates the subtle relationship between himself and his environment offering for our inspection his own attitudes and his own vision We may be asked to look or to agree but more than anything else we are invited to share Ultimately then the best rural writing may be said to provide us in a phrase adapted from Robert Langbaum with a prose of experience Keith argues that non fiction rural prose should be recognized as a distinct literary tradition that merits serious critical attention In this book he tests the cogency of thinking in terms of a rural tradition examines the critical problems inherent in such writing and traces significant continuities between rural writers Eleven of the more important and influential writers from the seventeenth century to modern times come under individual scrutiny Izaak Walton Gilbert White William Cobbett Mary Russell Mitford George Borrow Richard Jefferies George Sturt George Bourne W H Hudson Edward Thomas Williamson and H J Massingham In examining these writers within the context of the rural tradition Keith rescues their works from the literary attic where they have too often been relegated as awkward misfits When studied together each throws fascinating light on the others and is seen to fit into a loose but nonetheless discernible line Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies , The Encyclopedia Britannica James Louis Garvin, Franklin Henry Hooper, Warren E. Cox, 1929 The Encyclopædia Britannica James Louis Garvin, Franklin Henry Hooper, Warren Earle Cox, 1929 Margins of Desire Lynne Hapgood, 2005-05-06 Who said that the suburbs are boring The suburban trick is to look ordinary and be extraordinary as Lynne Hapgood s absorbing discussion of the suburbs in fiction from 1880 1925 reveals Country-side , 1909 Science gossip and Country queries and notes are incorporated with this Washington University Studies Washington University (Saint Louis, Mo.), 1913 The Bookman , 1910
