display the openness and coadaptivity of complex systems Not only are these works as Serra stresses getting more complex they are actually about complexity Richard Serra Martin Schwander,1996 In June 1992 Richard Sierra created his sculpture Intersection for the exhibition transform in Basel Today the sculpture stands in Basel's Theaterplatz Found Sculpture and Photography from Surrealism to Contemporary Art Julia Kelly,2017-07-05 Taking its departure point from the 1933 surrealist photographs of involuntary sculptures by Brassa nd Dal Found Sculpture and Photography from Surrealism to Contemporary Art offers fresh perspectives on the sculptural object by relating it to both surrealist concerns with chance and the crucial role of photography in framing the everyday This collection of essays questions the nature of sculptural practice looking to forms of production and reproduction that blur the boundaries between things that are made and things that are found One of the book's central themes is the interplay of presence and absence in sculpture as it is highlighted disrupted or multiplied through photography's indexical nature The essays examine the surrealist three dimensional object its relation to and transformation through photographs as well as the enduring legacies of such concerns for the artwork's materiality and temporality in performance and conceptual practices from the 1960s through the present Found Sculpture and Photography sheds new light on the shifts in status of the art object challenging the specificity of visual practices pursuing a radical interrogation of agency in modern and contemporary practices and exploring the boundaries between art and everyday life

Contemporary Approaches to Commemorative Public Art Brenda Schmahmann,2025-06-12 In this collection a diverse range of international contributors examine commemorative monuments from the late twentieth and twenty first centuries The book reveals how those monuments enable new perspectives and understanding of histories as well as a heightened involvement of viewers through not simply their subject matter but also most crucially their actual form and design While some contributors explore new approaches to the art of commemoration that artists and designers have deployed in recent monuments others examine how artists have undertaken creative engagements with historical statuary and sites using these interventions to offer critique and commentary Additionally the contributions consider the impact of political change on ways in which an inherited commemorative landscape is interpreted and negotiated Questions considered by the contributions include How might new monuments be shaped and how might they function differently from those of the past Is there a place for portraiture in the contemporary commemorative landscape Should commemorative monuments be envisaged as permanent fixtures or are temporary approaches more viable How effectively have artists disrupted the meanings of historical monuments and sites through installation performance video and other media How has political change played out at historical sites affecting how commemorative monuments from prior dispensations are understood in the 2020s This collection will be of value to researchers in Art History Visual Studies and Heritage Studies as well as scholars in all disciplines and fields who are interested in public art public memory and the politics of commemoration Richard Serra: Interviews, Etc. 1970-1980 ,1980 Richard Serra Ma Ángeles Layuno,2016-06-30 Innovador y polímico la obra de

Richard Serra 1939 se basa en el uso de formas geométricas abstractas y se encuadra en el género posminimalismo desarrollado desde fines de los años sesenta. Básicamente escultor, su extensa producción abarca diversos géneros: escultura, obra gráfica y fílmica. En sus piezas escultóricas destaca el interés por los materiales y procesos industriales explotando las posibilidades técnicas del acero para construir piezas sin pedestal que se acercan a la arquitectura en términos de escala y tamaño. Piezas muchas veces concebidas específicamente para lugares concretos que aspiran con su presencia a la redefinición física y perceptiva del emplazamiento sea arquitectónico urbano o paisaje natural. Serra desarrolla a lo largo de su trayectoria un interés progresivo por los procesos de recepción del espectador. Su obra se basa en unos principios constructivos muy simples que entrañan una gran complejidad perceptiva estimulando la dialéctica entre el sujeto, el objeto y el contexto espacial creando una concepción espacio-temporal de la percepción que sitúa en el espectador el centro de sus investigaciones y que se lleva a sus extremos en obras en el paisaje urbano y natural. Así, las piezas de Serra proyectan espacios de comportamiento que envuelven al espectador en una vorágine sensorial y psicológica no exenta de evocaciones ilusionistas y metafóricas en algunas de sus últimas obras. Richard Serra. The drowned and the saved, 1992
